ing questions to Mr. Taft, to which that amiable gentleman would find it difficult to make a direct answer. "Poor Taft," says Hiram Johnson of the entire Republican position.

Mr. Taft had incautiously referred and said of it that it "had no Article, didn't it have an Article III? It did, I my brother's keeper?" and the language of that Article III. was more sweeping and binding than to now horrible Article X. of the A. Covenant. Yet the extreme position Peace was heartily indorsed not only ator Johnson might as well exclaim likely he will as soon as what he calls his present "truce" with the Republican leaders is ended.

Cain's answer: "Am I my brother's keeper?" has rang and their fellows for their brothers.

Nineteen hundred years ago Christ came to earth with the message of the brotherhood of man. His teachings were naught but the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. He made it clear that we are our brother's keepers. That we have a duty to perform in the way of seeing that our brothers were used on the square, and he gave us the Sermon on the Mount, in which he says 'Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to
