the attendance as being one of the largest and most interesting in his experience.

Mrs. F. A. Derr, in her "Message From the Field," gave a most interesting address. Among other things she said that while most everyone believes in foreign missions, yet we must not forget our own deoprard. Out of a population of 7,566 children of a school age, the average ettendance at Bible Schools in this county was only 4,437, and she gave many good suggestions for the betterment of these conditions. This was followed by reports from departmental superintendents which were filled with optimistic statements of conditions throut the county.

It was learned that since the settlement of the Beeb estate the association has an income from an invertment of $8,000 which will amount to the set of $100 mission of $100 mission

What proved to be the largest as semblage of Bible School workers ever gathered in Allegany, was that of the 47th annual convention of the Allegany Bible School Association, which opened here last Friday.

The headquarters of the convention washin the Methodist Church. Long before the morning session opened automobile parties began coming, and at the opening hour, 9:30, there was a large number of delegates present.

Friday Morning

The morning session was devoted enirely to routine business and meeting of the executive committees for the appointment of committees. This was followed by a school of methods for districtworkers and Bible to the theory of the control of the study lines.

Telephone gang, working in this section, received painful injuries Wednesday morning, when a telephone pole on which he was working came down with him.

The pole set on the edge of a ravine, and the spring rains had washed the dirt pretty well away from the bottom of the pole. The men were in a hurry and didn't take time to put but one rope on the pole before going up to loosen the wires.

Mr. Clark went up the pole, cut the wires loose and started down, when the pole turned enough to get away frem the one rope they had it anchored with, and tipped out of the ground.

HOWARD SLADE DEAD

Howard Stade, of Albany, former resident of Whitesville, died at his home in that city this week and the remains were brought to Whitesville, Friday for funeral and interment.

The circumstances of Mr. Stade's death are particularily sad. Returning from his business to his home, on the street car, during the strike, he was struck on the head by a stone hurled at the car by strike rioters. He proceeded home but soon became so ill that he went to a nearby physician's office and white there his entire side became paralysed. Little hope was entertained of recovery from the first.

Deceased was 44 years of age and is surrived by his wife and son. Mrs. Stade was formerly Miss Carrie Clarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Clarke, of Independence.

Those Wellsville Tigers proved to Those Wellsville Tigers proved to be as tame as you sister's pet kitten. Where is that advertising man with his smiling Thomas Cata? The boys have a license to give him the horse laugh after last Sunday's performance.

Wellsville started off in the first inning, after two men were out, to have a little batting bee; they succeeded in getting 3 runs across and felt quite jubilant over their chances to win, but Andover came back in their half of the inning with 6 scores, which subdued the ferocious tigers to such an extent that they never showed their teeth again.

The seventh and eighth innings would make one think the local team was out for batting and base-running practice. Twenty Andover batsmen faced the visiting pitcher in these two innings and tweive of them completed the circuit.
