ANDOVER ADDS ANOTHER VICTORY

Beat the Fast Victor Alum Team of Wellville, By a Score of 11 to 7, Last Sunday

Andover added another victory to its list Sunday by defeating the Victor Alum Team of Wellville, in the best ball game so far this season. The aluminum boys have a good, snappy ball club, but their inability to connect with Bloss's curves, when they needed a hit to score, resulted in their defeat.

Hungerford and Gardner featured for the Wellville Club, the former hitting a homer and a three bagger, and the latter hitting a double and tripling, besides stabbing two drives from "Pan" Williams that would ordinarily have gone for hits.

The Andover boys played good consistent ball all thru the game, with the exception of one bad inning. After two men were out in the 6th 2 errors and 3 hits, one being a three bagger, netted the visitors four of their seven runs.

Andover has the best ball club it has put on the diamond in several years, and expects to give the local fans some good exhibitions of base ball before the season is over.

The amateur ball tossers of Hornell have organized another team, under the name of the "All Stars," who are confident that they can mop the ground with the Andover team. From the drubbing the last two teams that city has sent down here received from the hands of the Andover outfit, they ought to be pretty well posted as to the class of ball players they will have to bring to accomplish that feat.

We'll see Sunday.

FLOYD PEASE HURT BY BULL

Floyd Pease, of Greenwood Hill, was badly bruised up by a bull Monday morning.

Mr. Pease had his herd on a tuberculosis test and the inspectors came to his place Monday morning. While trying to get the cattle from the barnyard for the test, the bull turned on him, knocking him down and stamping on him. Fortunately Mr. Pease fell on soft ground, near a spring, and the bull trampled him into the mudhole until he was completely covered.

He sustained three broken ribs, a badly bruised and cut face and leg, besides minor bruises and a good shaking up generally.

POTATO MEN SELECT HEADQUARTERS

Syracuse Chosen for Central Office of New Empire State Co-operative Association of Growers

Ithaca, N. Y., June 22.—Headquarters of the newly-formed Empire State Potato Growers Co-operative Association will be at Syracuse, according to announcement made here today at the office of the state federation of farm bureaus.

The purposes of the organization are to encourage the growth of only a few standard potato varieties; to secure better grading and sell on grade; to establish and own all brands and allow them to be used by locals on direction of the parent organization; to collect and make available to members accurate crop information; to obtain top market prices and eliminate competition and underbidding among growers; to develop better appreciation for New York State potatoes, and to co-operate with similar organizations in other states.

The movement for the information of this association was started by the farm bureau federation last fall and received at once the hearty support of leading potato producers of the state. The state potato marketing committee, selected by delegates sent by county farm bureau associations to a state-wide conference called by the state federation, has been actively engaged in the development of the association. This committee has worked in close co-operation with the marketing and transportation committee of the federation, which has been largely responsible for the financing of the movement to date. Experts and specialists of the State College of Agriculture and the division of farm and markets also worked on the plan.

The following men have been named directors of the association: E. B. Adams, Hamilton County; F. A. Hopkins, Steuben County; K. C. Livings, Monroe County; E. P. Smith, Chenango County; E. R. Lucas, Wyoming County; Gilbert Proff, Genesee County; Datus Clark, Clinton County; Fred Humphrey, Orleans County; and A. S. Hardy, Franklin County.

It is expected that definite plans and policies will soon be established by the Board of Directors and that competent managers will be employed. At a meeting of the Andover Branch of the association, held June 3rd, the following were chosen as directors: W. W. Pingrey, Harry Smith, Emmett Robinson, A. L. Rogers and C. T. Rogers. A. L. Rogers was elected as delegate to a meeting of the association held in Syracuse June 4th, which he attended.

OIL MEN MEET AT BOLIVAR

Allegany County Oil Producers Meet to Discuss Possibilities to Help Present Slump in Business

The oil producers of the Allegany field, numbering nearly three hundred, met at Bolivar, Saturday to discuss the present stagnant condition of the oil business. John Herrick, of Oilcan, president, and F. E. Richard, of Wellville, acted as secretary.

The main issue of the meeting was the tax problem. In the past few years, under the high oil prices and active market, the assessed valuation on oil production has been materially raised. At the present conditions of no market and $2.00 oil this valuation will cripple even the larger producers. A motion was adopted to have a committee meet at once with the Equalization Committee of the Board of Supervisors, in an endeavor to secure a more equitable rate.

In regard to the market problem there did not seem to be any brighter days in the near future. Reports from the Tidewater Pipe Co. and the Union Pipe Line gave no encouragement to the producers for a better market. There did, however, develop the possibility of securing additional storage for the oil in this field, but this would not help the prevailing prices in any way.

The Allegany County producers believe that their friends in this locality could help the local conditions to a great extent if they would insist upon using gasoline, kerosene and lubricating oils, made from the Allegany field, thus giving our local refineries a larger market for their products and enabling them to handle more of the raw production. E. J. Atwood and LeRoy Jordan, of Andover, were in attendance at the meeting.

MRS. SARAH A. BRAINARD

In the death of Mrs. Sarah A. Brainard, which occurred June 19, 1921, at her home on Church Street, our community loses one of its most highly respected citizens, and the Andover Methodist Church one of its most devoted and useful members.

Born in Greenwood, N. Y., December 29th, 1851, she came to this village with her parents, Peter and Susan VanSickle, in 1859, and has resided here ever since. Her father died forty-three years ago; her mother, two years ago last November. Her sisters, Miss Etta VanSickle and Mrs. Ella VanSickle Burrows, passed away many years ago. Thus she was the last survivor of her father's family.

On December 4th, 1872, she was united in marriage to Norman Purple Brainard, M. D., who for many years was a practicing physician in this village, widely known and respected. Dr. Brainard preceded his wife to the Better Land on April 15th, 1917. Two children survive them: Harold S. Brainard, of Hornell, N. Y., and Miss Edith M. Brainard, of this village; also three grandchildren, Thelma and Kenneth A. Alvord and Lowell Gilbert.

Mrs. Brainard was a life-long member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. She was for many years, tho not at the time of her death, connected with the W. C. T. U., her Christianity meant life, a real experience of the love and power of God in the soul. From youth to old age she walked humbly in the footsteps of her Divine Master, her daily conduct being an exemplification of his teachings. While health remained she was active in Christian service. Her blindness came for fifteen years she walked in darkness, manifesting always a meek, patient and submissive spirit. She bore all her sorrows without murmuring. She kept herself posted on current events, and was deeply interested in the progress of the church, especially in Christian Missions. During the last week of her life she paid to the treasurer of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society her annual dues.

Among her last instructions to her daughter were the words: "Don't forget our Centenary pledge." She was stricken with paralysis, but her friends who saw her during these closing years of her life never heard from her lips a word of complaint. Thus she manifested both the active and passive virtues of the Christian character.

NOBLES — CHURCH

The marriage of Mr. Eugene C. Nobles to Miss Alice Church, both of this village, took place at the Methodist parsonage, June 16th, 1921, the Rev. W. H. Smith officiating. The witnesses were Harry H. Thayer and Miss Lena E. Upply.
