The fault-finder never finds flaws in himself.

A wise man never underrates the ability of his opponent.

An easy way to make money is to forget that it is a hard job.

The man who knows but a few things usually knows them well.

Don't judge a woman by the hat she wears. It may not be her own.

Beauty that is only skin deep often vanishes over a hot cooking range.

When a wise man drifts into folly his wisdom forgets to pull him out.

Speak kindly to your neighbor. He may do the same behind your back.

The speed maniac is no longer a maniac. He is just a plain d---.

Booze is officially dead, but it is doing a lot of kicking around in its coffin.

Silence may be golden, but it takes a lot of noise to send off a bill collector.

When an old man makes love to a young girl the in-betweens consider them both crazy.

Speaking of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight—We find that everybody has spoken.

The mental superiority of some people only serve to emphasize their physical inferiority.

Some people are foolish enough to believe all they hear, including what they say themselves.

Men who smoke strong pipes often wonder why they are no longer kissed. But the women don't wonder.

Our idea of a successful politician is one who is able to fool us into voting for him the second time.

If we were given our choice between the golden egg and the goose that laid it we'd grab both and scot.

The appetite of some hungry men are never satisfied. They always wonder what they will get at the next meal.

It is hardly surprising that some wives go thru their husbands trousers pockets at night. They have none of their own.

With gasoline down in price a few cents the wary motorist gazes around to see which of the other necessities are going up.

The United States produces more paper than any other country in the world, but it needs it in recording the things that congress doesn't do.

If two women were saying goodbye and the house caught fire, both would be in danger of burning to death before either would concede the other the last word.

A gas or dust cloud has been discovered in the heavens by a Dutch scientist, which he estimates to be twenty billions times greater than the sun. We hope it don't drop.

Judging by the rapidity with which the courts do not move, one is inclined to the belief that those crooked base ball players are so crooked the judicial nose fears to face the odoriferous ordeal.

A good deal of time in the aggregate will be spent to-day in answering the question: "What are you doing?"

ANOTHER GOUGE?

WARNING has been sounded in the United States senate that the coal barons are pulling the wires preparatory to another holdup in the price of coal next winter.

Officialdom has boasted loudly and long of dire punishments to be inflicted upon gougers. In fact, there has been so much of blowing and bunk there has been no room left for action.

Coal barons know this. They have profited from it in the past, and they expect to do so in the future.

The public has been milked so often and so successfully the barons can not conceive of the possibility of a kick that would upset a bucket.

A United States senator has given public and timely warning of the scheme.

It is up to some one to thwart it. We have an attorney general of the United States.

We have district attorneys all over the United States.

We have a law that deals with highway and wholesale robbery, whether it be at the point of a gun or by the pulling of secret wires by unlawful combinations of plutocrats.

We have jails that will hold even a plutocratic gouger—if some one doesn't turn the key.

Why should we be robbed again next winter?

CALL IT A DRAW

MAN is beginning to perk up and draw another long breath.

But there's a reason.

Woman, too, is cautiously peering around in an effort to determine, whether or not the storm has blown over.

And, again there is a reason.

A few months ago it was loudly proclaimed that the womanhood of America would launch a mighty campaign for the purpose of writing "finis" to the record of tobacco.

Promptly the men came to the fore with a determination to balance the scales by the elimination of corsets, cosmetics and chewing gum.

It was too much for either masculine or feminine nature. Neither could face the prospect with equanimity or even with courage.

Now the men still enjoy their tobacco, and the women still have their corsets and their beautifiers and their gum.

Its a draw and both should be satisfied.

GOOD MEDICINE

PEOPLE living in town and wrking in stores and offices are apt to experience a sluggish feeling these warm days.

The excessive heat reduces their vitality and a lack of proper exercise keeps it down.

Mopping off streams of flowing perspiration from their noble brows keeps their right arm in excellent condition, but the remainder of their bodies lag behind.

But there is a remedy a most excellent one.

There is no doctor or druggist involved, no money to hand over, no bitter medicine to pucker the beauty from your classic features.

A garden.

A hoe.

A willingness to use it.

That's all.

Game?

"SOME MAN"

WOULD you like to have your boy turn out to be a real 100 percent man physically as well as mentally?

Then don't shut him up in a hot house of roses and keep him there until he breaks away of his own accord.

Roses are a delight to the eye and the sense of smell, but they do not develop the muscle or add to the breadth of mind.

Get him a ball and bat, a pair of boxing gloves and a punching bag.

Give him a couple of Indian Clubs and teach him how to swing them.

Encourage him to run and jump and wrestle and leap fences.

Let his hours of recreation be healthful and vigorous, and not of the pink tea variety.

Teach him to fear God, to be loving, respectful and obedient to his parents and mindful of the rights of other people, and you will develop an adult who will be "Some Man."

HIGH COST OF TALKING

CONGRESSWOMAN Alice Robertson has appealed to Congress to "Stop talking and save money"

Right—a dead center shot.

There must be a great surplus of wind in Congress when a woman deems it expedient to appeal to the men to talk less at the expense of their countrymen.

The congresswoman estimates that one week of congressional talking costs the country nearly ten thousand dollars in printing bills and that only covers part of the expense.

And yet there are two sides to even this question.

If our distinguished congressmen were not talking us poor in Washington, they might be talking us to death at home.

We hate to part with our money but we are determined to cling to life.

Let 'em talk in Washington.

WHEN GOSSIP TALKS

"TALK is cheap if you get it from a gossip," says an exchange.

But it isn't.

Talk that comes from a gossip is expensive.

It kills time, it kills truthfulness, it kills decency and it kills morality.

A reputation that has been built up by a lifetime of correct living may be blasted in a day by the talk of a gossip.

The gossip sees but little that is good and much that is bad in human nature.

The milk of human kindness is curdled when it comes in contact with the tongue of the gossip.

And gossips will talk and people will listen and believe and consider.

It is not only expensive, but it is demoralizing and degrading.
