MANNA IN THE HOLY LAND

Still Continues to Fall, as It Did When It Nourished the Children of Israel.

The biblical story of the feeding of the children of Israel upon manna from heaven during their wandering in the wilderness on the way to the land of Canaan does not record a miracle, according to the American consul at Jerusalem. In an official report to the government the consul states that manna is found now in the regions of Upper Mesopotamia and Kurdistan, and along the Persian frontier. It falls, he says, in the form of dew during September, October, and November, and lodges upon the leaves of oak trees. It immediately hardens and assumes the form of a grain. Early in the morning, before the heat of the day, it is gathered by spreading sheets beneath the trees which are shaken, and the manna is then collected and stored for winter. To be used as a food, or shipped to Bagdad for sale in the bazaar.

The manna falls on other vegetables, including grass, but all of it is lost except that which is gathered from the oak leaves. The manna is sweet, and is eaten by the natives as a substitute for sugar or honey. The consul says it is highly prized for its aromatic flavor.

Snake-Charmer's Secret.

How does the snake-charmer charm? asks a writer in the Popular Science Monthly. That's one of the questions we've always asked ourselves. And now an English doctor tells us one of the secrets.

Take the case of the cobra, for instance. It is a very venomous snake, yet the snake-charmer is not harmed when bitten by one.

The secret lies in the fact that the charmer "talks" the cobra before he allows himself to be bitten. He makes the cobra bite into a piece of meat, thereby expelling two thirds of the poison in its poison gland. When the charmer allows the snake to bite him immediately thereafter, there is not enough poison left in the gland to do any harm.

What is the next step? The charmer makes the snake bite a fowl which he squeezes the remaining drops of poison out of the snake's gland; the fowl dies, and the charmer wins the confidence of his audience.

"Fossil-Raindrops."

In slabs of Triassic rock little depressions are often seen that have been called "fossil raindrops" the idea being that they were formed by showers on muddy sea beaches, and preserved by being covered with a layer of mud at the next high tide.

But lately it has been suggested, in view of observations on a flood plain in the Durn valley, that the supposed impressions of rain drops may really be due to pittings formed by bubbles in a film of mud at the bottom of shallow water. There have been watched the formation of many pittings, and it has been found that after the mud has dried they exactly resemble "fossil raindrops."

Reason for Sunday.

How did Sunday become the first day of the week instead of the seventh? The Sabbath of the Jews was the seventh day of the week, the day of cessation from work, after all the labors, following six days of labor and closing the week. Sunday was the first day of the week celebrated in memory of the resurrection of Christ. It is therefore also known as the Lord's day. In the Bible (in Acts XX, 7) we are told that the disciples in Troas met weekly on the first day of the week for "breaking of bread" and the breaking of bread. Justin Martyr said that Sunday was the day on which God made the world, and that it was the day on which the resurrection of Jesus took place.

Ads That Will Add

to your sales is what you want and what you will get if you advertise properly.

Advertisements that reach your prospective customers is what you want as a most direct method of putting your products in the most effective manner before them:

Your local paper is the medium that puts your very words beneath the eyes of those who are looking for just the articles you may be marketing.

Do not hesitate. A minute lost in advertising is days lost in the rising to prominence of your merchandise.

We must show all people what we have to sell before they will buy.

The most practical way of showing them is to get them to the very spot.

And the way to get them there is to
