Descendants of the Osage Indians

John R. Spurrier of Oklahoma says that the Indian will be extinct in a generation or two. Mr. Spurrier, who is a descendant of the Osage Indians and whose wife is also of Indian blood, says that constant intermarriage is so weakening the tribes that the nation which numbered over a million at the time this country was discovered will soon be only a name.

"The extinction of the Indian is only a matter of a short time," said Mr. Spurrier. "Intermarriage is proving fatal to the tribes, and they cannot survive it. With intermarriage comes the Americanization and the Indians who have adopted modern methods live in extremely comfortable style.

"The richest small group of people in the world are the Osage Indians, whose reservation is in Osage county. There are 2,200 Indians in this tribe, 900 of them being of full blood who still wear their blankets, but the remainder have forsaken the ways of their ancestors and have become extremely American. The reason for the great wealth of this tribe is that their lands happen to be situated in the midst of the largest oil fields of Oklahoma, and the yearly annual income per capita averages approximately $2,500.

"The Osage Indians are the best educated tribe in the country, and also the best physical specimens. It was from this tribe that Buffalo Bill chose a number of his famous chiefs. The reservation of the Pawnee Indians adjoins that of the Osages and this tribe numbers 3,000, many of them prosperous and well educated."

It was the office of the famous detective, Mr. Spiering, who...

The visitor, a man of rather small height but liberal width, sat down. "Married?" "Single, please." "How do you know the married?" "By the samples of silk to be matched to your vest-pocket, and your hunted, haunted expression," replied Spiering.

The man gasped. "It is marvelous how you know things!" exclaimed the man. "But it is about my wife I came to see you. She acts so queerly lately. She talks to herself all the time, stands before her mirror and talks to herself. It's awful. And she does the most terrible things. She'll put a cake of soap in the soup and scrub the pans with the soap suds, talking to herself all the time."

And the poor man wiped his brow nervously.

"How long has this state of affairs been going on?" asked the great detective.

"Oh, for about a week now. And, Mr. Bones, I can't stand it any longer. It's driving me crazy. I'm afraid she'll sell the baby for a bundle of rags, or something."

"H'm! Er, isn't it just possible that your wife is merely practicing and rehearsing her speech for the next meeting of the National Women's Nuts of Home League? I see its meeting takes place tomorrow night."

"By Jove! You're right. She is third assistant chairman of that league. I forgot it!"

With a relieved cry, the little man rushed home, and even forgot, in his glad relief, to pay the great detective's fee.—London Answers.

Some Sea Monsters More to Be Feared Than Others, but All Ferocious

There are many families and varieties of the shark. Some of these families are smaller, more cowardly and less successful as killers than other families, says the Kansas City Star. They are not especially fierce toward things that are bigger and stronger than they. The dusky sharks and the sand sharks are not believed to be man killers, but they are man eaters when the opportunity arises.

The largest and fiercest shark is the great white shark. His disposition is to kill and eat, and he is so large and strong and self-confident that he will attack anything that swims, and a man is little more than a sardine or a herring to him. The great white shark inhabits the tropic and subtropic seas. The normal length of the teeth is one inch and they are flat, triangular and saw edge. Many of these sharks have been killed that were 30 feet long.

THE U. S. WEEKLY MARKETGRAM

Latest Price Quotations Received From the U. S. Bureau of Markets Covering Produce and Feeds

(Washington, D. C., for the week ending July 18th, 1921)

Hay
Light stocks and receipts cause $2 advance in eastern hay markets. Receipts of new timothy increased in central western markets but prices were practically unchanged. Southern markets very quiet with very little hay moving there. Some new alfalfa and timothy was bought for deferred shipments. Stocks of old hay were cleaned up. Quoted July 18 No. 1 timothy New York $21.50, Philadelphia $22, Atlanta $23, Pittsburgh $22.50, Cincinnati $21.50, Chicago $25, New York $21, St. Louis $26, New York $20, No. 1 alfalfa Memphis $22, Cincinnati $18, St. Louis $25, Los Angeles $18, No. 1 prairie St. Louis $18, Chicago $21, Minneapolis $16.

Feed
Demand dull in most sections. Reports of destroyed or temporarily injured pastures responsible for recent price advances rather than improved inquiry. Visible supply of feeds light and apparently in strong hands. Country dealers buying lightly and sales generally below normal with stocks in excess of requirements. Increased offerings of oil meals, wheat by products, alfalfa meal and other feeds expected in near future. Quoted July 18 Bran $14.50, middlings $14.50 Minneapolis; 36 per cent. cottonseed meal $33 Atlanta; gluten feed $28 Chicago; linseed meal $35 Minneapolis; white hominy feed $22 St. Louis, $24 Chicago; No. 1 alfalfa meal $19.50 Kansas City; registered oatfeed $6.50 Chicago, $12.50 Philadelphia.

Dairy Products
Butter markets more firm during most of week but were only steady at the close. Price advances which have occurred daily recently have been checked and Chicago was the only market showing higher prices on July 18. Hot weather and a falling off in the visible supply of butter have given confidence to the market. 92 score prices to-day: New York 41 1/2, Chicago 40 1/2, Philadelphia 40 1/2, Boston 42. Cheese markets were very firm under an active export demand which has kept markets fairly well cleared of current stocks. Domestic demand good also with some speculative trading present. A great many dealers are buying in anticipation of higher prices. Wisconsin primary market prices average on July 18: Twins 17c, Daisies 14 1/2c, Double Daisies 16 1/2c, Longhorns and Young Americas 18 1/2c.

Grain
Black rust reports unfavorable crop reports, droughts in Europe and increased outside buying were factors which resulted in price gains during the week, the markets dropped on the 16th due to evening up sales and a lull in outside speculation. The rule of the Chicago Board of Trade making gain in cars deliverable under future contracts caused independent weakness in July wheat at Chicago on the 15th. An overbought condition on the 16th resulted in falling prices. Manitoba reports that wheat would probably mature ahead of rust damage. Country offerings small. Visible supply of wheat now 19,849,000; bushels corn, 20,373,000 bushels. In Chicago cash market No. 2 red winter wheat closed at $1.26; No. 2 hard $1.27; No. 3 yellow corn 62c; No. 3 mixed corn 62c; No. 3 white oats 58c. For the week Chicago July wheat up 7 1/2c closing at $1.26 1/2; July corn 3 1/2c at $1.31 1/2. Chicago September wheat up 9c at $1.27 1/2; September corn 2 1/2c at $1.13 1/2. Minneapolis September wheat up 8 1/2c at $1.27 1/2.

Fruits and Vegetables
Fruit and vegetable markets of Irish coller potatoes steady in New York at $3.25 to $3.50 per bbl. Kansas sacked early Oplos $1.25 to $1.50 per 100 lb. in Kansas City.

California salmon tint cantaloupes declined 25 to 50c per standard crate in consuming markets, closing mostly $2.75 to $3.50.

Alberta peaches advanced 50 to 75c per crate in New York, reaching $3.25 to $3.50. Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore were firm, closing $3 to $3.25. Pittsburgh higher at $2.50 to $3. The Chicago market closed about $1 per crate higher at $3 to $3.50. Georgia and South Carolina Tom Watson watermelons, medium sizes, lower in New York, closing $2.50 to $3.50 per car July 16. Prices closed at $200 to $400 per car in Philadelphia and $275 to $375 in Pittsburgh.

Livestock and Meats
Chicago livestock prices for hogs and cattle advanced during the week but those of sheep and lambs declined as much as $1. The advance of 55c to 70c on legs would indicate that the upward seasonal trend has started. Steers are 10c to 50c higher. The price range on butcher cows and heifers widened, a 25c advance being scored on the best grades. Lower grades feeder steers declined 75c while lower grades of veal calves advanced an equal amount. Fat lambs declined $1 while other classes of sheep were about steady. July 18 Chicago prices: Hogs, top $10.85; bulk of sales $9.25 to $10.75; medium and good bred steers $7.25 to $9; butcher cows and heifers $3.75 to $8.75; feeder steers $3 to $7.50; light and medium weight veal calves $9 to $11; fat lambs $8 to $14.70; feeding lambs $6 to $7; yearlings $6 to $8.25; fat ewes $3 to $5.35. Stocker and feeder shipments from 10 important markets during the week ending July 8 were: Cattle and calves 16,687; hogs 4,318; sheep 9,763. Dressed beef at eastern wholesale markets declined 50 to 75c on the lower grades, compared with a week ago. Veal showed no change. Lamb declined $1 while mutton advanced from $1 to $4. Light pork loins advanced $2 while heavy loins were irregular, advancing $1 on the better grades. July 18 prices: good grade meats: Beef $14.25 to $16.50; veal $16 to $19, lambs $25 to $29; mutton $18 to $19; light pork loins $21 to $27; heavy loins $16 to $21.

TOOK OATH 'BY THE PEACOCK'
When Philip of Burgundy and His Knights Vowed to Engage to War for Holy Land.

In 1453 Philip the Good, duke of Burgundy, vowed "by the peacock" to go to the deliverance of Constantinople, which had recently fallen into the hands of the Turks. At the conclusion of the tournament and banquet held by the duke at Lille, Holy Mother Church, in the guise of a lady in mourning seated on an elephant and escorted by a giant, approached the duke and delivered a long, earnest complaint claiming the aid and succor of the knights of the Golden Fleece.

The herald advanced, bearing on his fist a live peacock or pheasant, which, according to the rites of chivalry, he presented to the duke. At this extraordinary summons Philip, a wise and aged prince, engaged his person and powers in the holy war against the Turks. His example was imitated by the bastions and knights of the assembly, they swore to God, the Virgin, the Indies, and the peacock.

In this connection will be recalled President's brilliant speech, "The Peacock and the Ladies."

As the Lawmakers Stung It, "A woman on the industrial board" was killed," announced Mrs. Stella S. King, acting secretary, at a recent meeting of the Legislative Council of Indiana Women. As she read the last word, she realized what she had said and started to laugh. It was in the text of the minutes of the preceding meeting, at which Mrs. King had not acted as secretary, and came in the account of legislative council bills which had been "passed, advanced, or killed."

As it happened, it was a mistake after all, for it was another bill pertaining to the industrial board which had been killed, not that creating a woman member of the board. But for a moment the legislative council forgot its dignity and giggled.—Indianapolis News.
