

Control of Income and Outgo

The hundreds of checking accounts in constant use in Andover and on the farms nearby is evidence that the plan is exactly what it is claimed — a safe method to get and keep control of income and outgo, that is practical for the farmer, the business man, for those who work on a salary, for the manager of the home.

Each has those conveniences that count for so much in money matters. You also have the privilege to enjoy all the advantages of our checking account plan. Our service will be helpful to you now. Later on there will be many opportunities to make our service useful.

Miss Carolyn Hincer has gone to Elmira where she has engaged to teach the coming year. Later her mother, Mrs. Augusta Hincer, will go to that city where they will make their home. Andover people deeply regret the removal of the ladies from our village where they have been prominently identified with all the better activities of the community.

PERRY-WARREN REUNION

The Perry-Warren reunion was entertained by Mrs. C. E. Perry, at the West Greenwood Grange Hall, near Andover, N. Y., August 27, 1921.

The day was an ideal one for a gathering and a large number assembled to help make the day one of pleasure.

When the hour for dinner was announced it was found there were about sixty relatives and two visitors to partake of the bounteous dinner that had been provided. The tables were set on the large shady lawn with ample room for every one present to be seated at a time.

After dinner the company posed for several pictures. The business meeting was called by the vice president, the president being unable to attend. All the old officers were retained except the assistant secretary who resigned. Mrs. Claude Warren, of DeRuyter, N. Y., was elected to this office.

J. N. Perry was elected to look up the history of the Perry family and H. G. Warren the history of the Warren family.

The following were in attendance: Mrs. C. E. Perry, daughters Phoebe, Ruth and Fanny, and son Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Perry and five children, Marguerite, Basil, Dale, Carroll and Darrell, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Perry and two children, Charles and Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Perry and son Donald, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Perry, Mrs. Rachel Williams and two sons, Howard and Ellwood, all of Andover, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Butler and daughter Bernice, of Conesque, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Robinson and two daughters, Helen and Norma, of Buffalo; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Perry and three daughters, Helen, Kate and Louise, of Westfield, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. DeForest Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Warren and daughter Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. David Warren and daughter Esther, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Warren and daughter Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Almond Warren and two sons Harry and Wendell, all of DeRuyter, N. Y., and two visitors, Miss Ruth Williams, Buffalo, N. Y., and Howard Hess, of Westfield, Pa.

A base ball game by the male members was the main sport indulged in. The literary and musical program was not as good as we hope to have in 1922.

All returned to their respective homes trusting to be spared to meet at the next reunion to be held at the home of Edgar Perry, at Westfield, Pa., the last Saturday in August, 1922.
