The Inasmuch Society of the M. E. Church will meet with Mrs. R. A. Pease, Monday evening, Oct. 4th.
Mrs. Mary Reynolds, of Belmont, fell while entering St. Mary's Church in that village, last week, breaking her hip.

The funeral of Fred L. Coats was held at his late home in Alfred, Wednesday afternoon. Burial was made at Bolivar.
County Commissioner Craig sent another large truck to Andover Monday to speed up the work on the county road being built east of the village.
The Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church will meet with Mrs. Frisbey on Wednesday, Oct. 5, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Frisbey and Mrs. Barney, hostesses.

The potato market dropped to 80c Thursday. The reason given for the drop was that city markets were flooded and drop was instigated to retard the output from the producers.
Skunks are again becoming numerous about the village, with the approach of fall.
W. L. Carter, of Wellsville, has sold his undertaking business and equipment to H. E. Piper, of Little Valley, N. Y., who will move his family to Wellsville.

The fresh paint improvement wave is not confined to our village residents alone, as we notice the pleasant farm house of C. B. Robinson being all dolled up in a new coat of shiny white.
Two demure looking young women collected a neat little pile of dollars from Hornell men last week on the old story of how they were trying to win a scholarship to a business college by getting subscriptions for various magazines.
According to new law passed last April, now effective, all licenses to carry firearms, issued before April 1st, 1921, are now void.

Arrived by train from Andover, and an Overland...
Sherman D. Wells, one of the most-respected residents of Little Genesee, N. Y., died at the General Hospital in Buffalo, Tuesday night, Sept. 20th, after a lingering illness, aged 77 years.

Three men, masked, held up an Olean-Bradford street car at Irving Mills, last week. The robbers secured about $100 from the crew and men passengers, whom they made stand in the center of the car with hands up.

George L. Martin, one of Hornell's prominent young men, died last week of bichloride of mercury poisoning. About ten days before his death he walked into his father's office and announced that he had taken the poison tablets.

Miss Agnes Taylor left Hornell Wednesday, in company with Mrs. W. T. Day, of Tampa, Florida, for a few weeks' visit at the latter's home. Mrs. Carl Schwarzenbach will fill Miss Taylor's position in the office of the Hornell Drug Company during her absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard McArdrew and daughter, Eva, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. John Keough, of Wellsville, on an auto trip to Buffalo and Rochester Saturday, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cooney and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Cooney.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kemp were very happily surprised Wednesday evening when about twenty of their friends helped them celebrate their ninth wedding anniversary with a wicker roast, after which music and games furnished a very enjoyable evening.

If the opportunity advertised seems not only genuine, but a good one for you, look into it.

SHORT WOMAN KILLED

A lamentable accident Sept. 21st, resulted in the death of Mrs. A. A. Foster, wife of the former Free Methodist minister of Belmont, who has been transferred from that pastorate to Brockport, and was moving his house and goods to that place. Rev. Foster, with his two little sons, was making the trip on his motorcycle. His wife and daughter were riding in the large truck, heavily loaded with household goods, and driven by Wm. Evans of Belmont.

DAILY WEATHER REPORT

The temperature averaged slightly lower than last week and was near normal. No frost damage has been reported thus far this season and most crops are now beyond danger.

Silos are now generally full. The corn crop was one of the largest on record for the state. Potato digging continues with varying reports as to yield, running mostly from poor to fair; a few sections report good. Most of the buckwheat has been cut with a good yield reported.

TO MY PATRONS

One year ago I re-opened my shoe shop in Andover after having it closed during the war, and I take this method of expressing my thanks to Andover people for their generous patronage which I highly appreciate. There never was a time when it pays better to have the old shoes well cared for than now, as the new stock is so inferior that it is almost impossible to repair them.
