AND LOOK AT THE LIVE ONES!

"It cuts us loose, and I hope forever from that body of death known as the League of Nations," said Senator Moses in the debate on the separate treaty of peace with Germany. Think, also, of the inspiring company in which we are left.

"That body of death," as Senator Moses so felicitously describes it, is now made up of fifty nations, all defunct, of course, like the League. The four great live nations now left are Russia, Turkey, Germany and the United States. Germany is hardly entitled to a place in the list of the animated because she has sealed her own death-warrant by seeking membership in the League and will join as soon as French opposition ceases; but Russia, Turkey and the United States remain to guide the faltering footsteps of mankind toward international peace and prosperity. They are our associates outside the "body of death."

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONVENTION

The annual convention of the Christian Endeavor societies in Allegany County will be held in Alfred, Saturday, Oct. 16th, beginning at 11 o'clock a. m. Mr. Gordon M. Sharrow, local secretary of New York State Union, and Mr. Edward L. Stiles, president of Monroe County, will be present and conduct the services and deliver the address of the convention. Everybody is welcome and all endeavors are especially urged to attend the convention.

WOULD BE POSTMASTERS

Eight Candidates for Andover Office Take Examination

When the roll was called at Wellsville, Monday, for those who would like to be postmaster at Andover, there was found eight present, ready for the work of the examination. Those taking the examination were:

- Dr. John Common
F. S. Potter
Miss Frances Beebe
Porter W. Richardson
W. S. Calhoun
Robert Brundage
William E. Chase
George Kenyon

It is too early to learn how the several candidates passed the examination, but it is not too early to have decided opinions as to who will ultimately win in the race for the coveted position. The News has arranged the list in the order we believe the several applicants stand in their chance for the job. That order, however, holds no relation whatever to our estimate of their ability in passing the examination.

GRANGE FAIR

One of the Most Successful Ever Given by Local Organization

The Grange Fair, held Wednesday evening was, as usual, a success in every particular. The exhibits were good and depicted the fact that Andover farmers are there with the goods when it comes to raising farm products.

The dinner was up to the standard set by the Granges and was prepared as their feasts always are, very generously by the public. The program in the evening was particularly good. A fine program supplementing the success of the fair was given by the members of the New York State Grange, who were the speakers.

Mr. Striving the speaker was this before an Andover audience and always met with success. His own record was very good. His talk was about the Grange organization and said to be the best ever given in this section.

THE INDUSTRIAL EDITION OF NEWS

Chamber of Commerce Take a Hand.—Will Make It The Best Advertisement For Andover, Ever Had

At a recent meeting of the Andover Chamber of Commerce, the effort of Mr. and Mrs. Townsend to get up an industrial edition of the Andover News was discussed. There are a number of people, probably a dozen, who have subscribed to this edition of the News. But the Chamber of Commerce that that an industrial Edition should have more than the dozen who have already subscribed in order to make it effective and fairly representative of the business and industries of Andover.

After a thorough canvass of the situation they unanimously voted to get back of the project themselves, and appointed W. S. Calhoun and A. D. Fuller a committee to go on with the work started by the Townsends and get up a real Industrial Edition of the Andover News.

Messrs. Calhoun and Fuller will call on you all in the interests of this project within a few days. Be ready to give them a hearty welcome, as they are working for the good of Andover only, and what helps Andover will help any one of you.

From present indications the forth-coming Industrial Edition will be the biggest piece of constructive work ever attempted by the local Chamber of Commerce, and the best advertisement Andover has ever had. To make this edition the most effective possible, it is necessary to get it into circulation, and the only way this can be done thoroughly is thru the efforts of Andover people themselves.

Every citizen should leave an order for extra copies of this edition of the News and send them to every friend they can think of. If a thousand people would subscribe for ten copies each, it would make an edition of 10,000, and would reach every state and nearly every city, village and hamlet. That would be doing something for Andover worth while.

The News will guarantee that the Industrial Edition will be a paper of which no one will be ashamed, and which every one will desire extra copies, but we cannot print only enough to cover actual orders on hand when we go to press.

Order your copies now. The price will be the same as the regular price of the regular edition of the News, 5c each.

SHERWOOD HOTEL ANNEX COLLAPSED

Fred Paine and Three Other Workmen Injured

Hornell, Oct. 11. — Four men were hurt, three of them so seriously that they were rushed to St. James Mercy Hospital, when the temporary roof of the new four-story annex to the Hotel Sherwood collapsed just before 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The men in the hospital are Ernest Barret, No. 110 Maple; Fred Paine, a bricklayer; John Strikley, a bricklayer.

The other injured man is Fred Martin, a driver for D. L. Saxton, who had just driven a wagon into the lower floor of the unfinished structure with some material. A quantity of brick, tile and lumber came crashing down. The horse was knocked down and badly hurt. Martin was caught in the avalanche of down-pouring debris and severely cut. He refused to go to the hospital and was taken home.

The accident is believed to have been caused by too much weight on the roof joists, which broke and sent the workmen hurrying thru space. All three caught at the roof of the second floor and broke their fall at the third floor and were severely hurt by falling material.

Several other men at work on the building called. One man caught in the fingers and escaped being hurt by the ground. City officials came quickly on the scene and are making an investigation.

FARM BUREAU SPEAKER

C. McKenzie, of Walton, N. Y. was engaged as speaker at the meeting of the Allegany County Farm Bureau, at Belmont, Saturday, Oct. 9th. He was the first speaker at the meeting and his talk was about the farm bureau and its work.

ANDOVER AND ITS SERVICE STATIONS

We Have Many And Good Ones, All Worthy of Support. Home Town Paper Week

If you go thru the streets of Andover and watch carefully, you will notice a number of signs bearing the words, "Service Station." They are usually appended to garages or battery shops, but, Friends, these are not the only Service Stations in Andover. Every agency which ministers to the needs of the people or which is existent for the purpose of serving their best interests, is a Service Station in the truest sense of the word.

Andover has many Service Stations, of which it may be justly proud. Our public school, one of our educational Service Stations, serves the educational needs of this community as well as it may, and with its ever increasing facilities, will be more and more able to attain its possibilities. Indeed, it has already sent out many young men and women well prepared for useful citizenship. Our churches, a foundational institution of every community and every nation, are measuring up well to their grave responsibility. Our banks, our merchandising systems, our Chamber of Commerce, our Library, our hotels and restaurants, our shops and manufacturing plants are all Service Stations whose indispensable value we readily concede.

Are these the only Service Stations of which Andover can boast? No. There is one more which perhaps we have not considered a "Service Station" at all, but which, indeed, is as indispensable to a live, thriving community as any of them. This Service Station is the interested observer and narrator of public events, the medium of exchange for the ideas of Andover's citizens, the ardent supporter of good government and clean politics, the expositor of wrong in public places, the institution existing for the purpose of unifying this community in the bonds of co-interested fellowship, of giving it a vision of itself and its possibilities, of making it believe in itself and its purpose, of helping it to strive for higher attainments and gaining from its neighbors the recognition which it merits. This Service Station is your own community newspaper, the Andover News.

We, of Andover look with pride to our Service Stations and realize how keenly the loss or impairment of any of them would be felt by this community as a whole and by every one of us as individuals. That they may not be lost or impaired, and that they may advance to more efficient service, we must accord them our heartiest support. Take an interest in your schools, your churches, your library, your Chamber of Commerce, and YOUR NEWSPAPER. Support them by every possible means, for in direct proportion to the interest you show in them, will they increase their services to you.

FALL FARM WORK IS PROGRESSING WELL

The weather the past week was favorable for fall work, and potato digging, hauling and threshing of buckwheat, and plowing went forward satisfactorily, according to the summary of weather, and crop conditions for the week ending October 11th, sent out from the Ithaca office of the weather bureau.

Altho snow was reported on the 9th by several observers in the western counties, killing frosts were confined to the northern portion of the state. Danger of frost damage is now negligible, since crops are generally taken care of.

Reports indicate the yield of potatoes to be somewhat better than anticipated. Weather conditions have favored the growth of winter grains and new seeding, while showers have benefited pastures. Springs and wells are still low, particularly in the northern counties.

That is the way it is, and so it will be. The weather is a mystery to us, but we must make the best of it.

JEREMIAH HARRINGTON

The mortal remains of Jeremiah Harrington, who died at Rochester, N. Y., on Sunday, October 2nd, were brought to the home of his sister, Mrs. P. C. Lynch, of Center Street, on Monday, October 3rd.

Mr. Harrington was born at Wellsville, N. Y. in 1853, the son of John and Mary Magner Harrington, both of whom died while he was still a child. In his youth he learned the trade of carriage and wagon-maker, a branch of workmanship in which he soon excelled. For some years he worked at Elm Valley and Wellsville, N. Y., when the Magner Carriage Works was located there. About forty years ago he went to Rochester, N. Y., where for the last twenty-six years, he was in the employment of Cunningham Brothers. Last year he retired from all active work.

The end came quite peacefully, a fitting climax to a tranquil and well-spent life. His charitable and genial disposition acquired for him a host of friends, all of whom he retained to the last.

On Wednesday morning, October 5th, the funeral was held from the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. After Requiem High Mass, sung by the pastor, Rev. P. C. Tracy, interment took place in St. John's Cemetery.

WANT A NEW TOWN HALL

Local Chamber of Commerce Elect New Officers And Go On Record Favoring New Building

At a meeting of the newly elected Board of Directors of the Andover Chamber of Commerce, held Tuesday evening, the following officers were elected:

- President, B. S. Brundage
Vice-President, W. S. Calhoun
Secretary, W. F. O'Connell
Treasurer, Henry Stephens

The proposition of the construction of a new town hall was discussed and it was unanimously voted to favor such a proposition, and the Town and Village Boards were asked to look into the proposition, find the estimated cost of such a building as will meet all the requirements of both the town and village, and work out in a joint meeting an equitable arrangement between the two official boards for meeting the expense.

When it came to the matter of location of the new building several very desirable sites were offered for the purpose, any one of which would be very acceptable to Andover people.

Andover needs a public building, one that is a credit to its people. The present Village Hall is inadequate and always was it would make a good tool house or could be made into a good fireman's Hall, if the department were given the entire building.

Andover people should think this proposition over very carefully for themselves, as there is but little doubt but what they will be called upon in the not far distant future to decide at the ballot box whether or not we shall have this very much needed Town Hall.

Like a thunder-clap from a clear sky was the effect upon members of the local Baptist Church when their pastor, Rev. D. M. Sutton, offered his resignation, Sunday morning, to take effect Nov. 1st.

Mr. Sutton has been pastor of the Baptist Church the past year and has won many warm friends during his stay here. But a larger field has been opened to him from the Baptist Church at Seneca Falls, and he felt it his duty to accept the call.

While Andover people regret to lose Mr. Sutton and his estimable family, they cannot help but congratulate him upon his good fortune in being called to a larger place, larger church and larger opportunities for usefulness. Seneca Falls is a village of 7,000 inhabitants, and is located in a most prosperous part of the Empire State, where Mr. Sutton feels he can work with better possibilities.

The News regrets Pastor Sutton's decision to leave Andover, but has only the very best wishes and kindest regards for his success in his new field of labor.

JESSE S. PHILLIPS RESIGNS POSITION

State superintendent of insurance Jesse S. Phillips, of Hornell, resigned his position Tuesday. His salary was $10,000. He will accept the presidency of the American Compensation Bureau at a salary of $25,000. His office will be in New York and he will move there from Albany, but he will retain his voting residence in Hornell.
