

CHECKS

CHECKS provide both the easiest and safest way of caring for one's regular expenses. Quite often there is some slip-up when bills are paid with money and you are compelled to pay a second time.

With a checking account you are safe. Each cancelled check is a recognized receipt and the presentation of the check is sufficient evidence to end the dispute. A checking account at our bank means you will

McLOUGHLIN MILLINERY PARLORS

Miss Ella McLoughlin, Proprietor
Here is found a pretty millinery store with all of those beautiful creations in millinery that makes "my lady" not only feel, but appear up-to-date when wearing.
Miss McLoughlin spares no pains to keep informed in the latest style of women's hats, makes personal visits to the city twice a year, to learn the latest.
At the McLoughlin Millinery all ladies are always welcome, and receive only the most courteous treatment. If what you want is not in stock their trimmers will be glad to make your hat to order.

C. H. WATSON
Jewelry

"He who will not toot his own horn, the same shall not be tooted." Thus said ye editor to me. This is entirely out of my line, never having belonged to a brass band nor to a fire company, so I gladly leave all the bombastic speechifying for others. Mine is the little unpretentious jewelry store across the street. The store where goods are wrapped with courtesy and delivered with a smile. For three years I have been your sympathetic servant, and I appreciate the confidence you have shown in me. Your prosperity is my wish and I will pull with you for a better Andover. I invite you to drop in to "A Good Jewelry Store" and talk it over.

THE TRAINOR GROCERY

Miss Agnes Trainor, Proprietor
Ever since we have known anything about Andover, Trainor's Grocery has been one of the places where we felt that the goods we purchased there were of the best quality or they would not keep them. This has seemed to be the policy of this store all these years, and it has not deteriorated one bit since it has been conducted by the present owner, Miss Agnes Trainor. Some houses make low prices on some things, but Miss Trainor keeps them down on EVERYTHING. That is the difference.
A host of satisfied customers is the best evidence of dependable merchandising. Trainor's store has them by the hundred.

O. W. ROBISON
Market

A neat, well kept market stocked with the choicest of meats and shell goods is something which attracts the eye of even the chronic dyspeptic. Such a market is to be found if you call at the Robison Market. Since Mr. Robison bought the business a few months ago, improvements have been continuous until he has a market which is a pleasure to visit and one which would do credit to the larger cities.
He is not a stranger to Andover as he formerly lived here a few years ago and Andover people are glad to welcome him back again.

Robison's Market is the place where good things are found for the table. Quality of goods, coupled with courtesy and promptness is their ambition.

THE ANDOVER BARGAIN STORE
M. A. Fowler, Proprietor

Right in the center of the village, we find the Andover Bargain Store, and it is correctly named. Mrs. M. A. Fowler is the proprietor. From a small beginning, but a few years ago from a five and ten cent novelty store, it has developed until today the shelves are stocked with a splendid line of dry goods, notions, women's dresses, crockery and men's, women's and children's underwear, and everything usually carried in such an establishment.
The methods of this store, adopted at the start and always scrupulously

HOTEL AMERICAN
Mrs. Rosanna Joyce, Proprietor

Hotel American is one of the old, substantial institutions of Andover. Mrs. Rosanna Joyce, the owner, is a daughter of James and Catharine Bines, and was born in New York City. She came to Andover with her parents when a mere child, and has lived here all her life, and become one of the landmarks of this community.
Hotel American was first run by Mrs. Joyce's parents, but for over a quarter of a century she has been the guiding hand in its management, and has built up a fine clientele by her genial manner and hospitality.
The traveling public, discriminating judges of hotel service, speak in no unmeaning words of the hospitality of Hotel American, as they make that their headquarters when in Andover.
The hotel, one of the few three-story buildings in Andover, stands directly in the center of the village on Main Street. No one ever visits Andover without noticing Hotel American.

FRANK L. BLOSS
Groceries

It is generally admitted that the prosperity of a people is usually dependent upon their health and happiness. No one can have these much to be desired attributes without good wholesome food. It has been the constant aim of Frank L. Bloss, one of Andover's leading grocers, to do his very best in supplying just such pure groceries to the public.
The last eight years, the anniversary of which was celebrated Nov. 1, 1921, Mr. Bloss has been untiring in his efforts to supply Andover people with just the food which they need to make them healthy and happy. How well he has succeeded the generous patronage he enjoys and the good health and happiness of his patrons testifies in no uncertain words. Mr. Bloss is one of the landmarks in Andover. He has been actively identified with her business interests, either for himself or with some other firm for over twenty-eight years. He has also reared to manhood a family of three sturdy boys who are making good in their chosen line of industry.

W. J. GRENOLDS, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon

One of the busiest men in Andover, if not the busiest, is Dr. W. J. Grenolds. He is on the go day and night, riding over the hills and thru the valleys, over all kinds of roads and in all kinds of weather, ministering to the suffering and ill ones of this community, in an effort to restore them to health and happiness.

Dr. Grenolds is a young man in years, but old in medical experience. Ten years' practice of medicine in Andover, at the rate of speed the doctor has been kept going, forces experiences any one. He was born in Troupsburg, N. Y., in 1883. Received his preliminary education in the High School of that village, supplemented with a post-graduate course in Canisteo High School. He took up the study of medicine and completed the regular four-year course in the University of Buffalo. He then took a nine-months surgical course at the Sisters of Mercy Hospital in Buffalo, and then a year of general work at the Erie County Hospital as an intern.

After completing his medical education Dr. Grenolds located in Andover in 1911; and has been doing most energetic work ever since with his pills, pellets and surgical instrument.

Last year Dr. Grenolds made a visit to the Canal Zone to investigate the methods used in the big hospitals at Christobal and Ancon, in the use of serums and vaccines, and their benefit in prophylactic treatments.

Dr. Grenolds is a member of the various medical societies, is one of the cornerstones of Allegany County and county physician for the Town of Andover.
Notwithstanding his busy life, the genial doctor finds the time to boost for Andover whenever the opportunity comes. He is one of the directors of the Andover Chamber of Commerce.

CARVIN BROTHERS & MULLEN
Produce and Livestock

Andover is a big produce market. The daily shipments are almost unbelievable to the stranger who sees the town for the first time.
There are none who have done more to make Andover a good market than Carvin, Bro's. & Mullen. Andover's produce and live stock merchants.

Competition is the life of trade, and if the other fellow don't want to give all your produce is worth just take it over to Carvin Bro's & Mullen, where you know you will be given a square deal. They have been here so long that every one knows them. They set the pace, others follow.

Garvin Bro's & Mullen are real live wires when it comes to putting anything across for Andover. They are always to be depended upon to boost the old home town along.
A town without a market would be a mighty sorry place for an agriculturist to locate. For the past twenty years Garvin Bro's & Mullen have done their bit in giving the farmers of Andover a good, live market for all that they produce.

THE SWINK
Peter Huyck, Proprietor

While Peter Huyck, mine host at The Swink, one of Andover's hotels, is a recent comer to Andover, he is fast absorbing the true Andover spirit, and is getting into the swing of things in fine shape. He has been remodeling and rearranging the hotel property, opened a Ladies' Rest Room, where women are welcome to come whether they desire hotel accommodations or no. In the basement a first-class restaurant and lunch room has been opened where meals and lunches are served at all hours of the day and late in the evening. Regular meals are also served in the dining room but of hours. A fine well-kept pool room is conducted in the rear of the restaurant. At the rate Mr. Huyck has been going since he struck Andover the old town will awaken some fine morning to find Andover equipped with as fine a hotel as can be found in Western New York. Already the traveling automobilists have an eye-out for The Swink when they wheel into town.

THE SUGAR BOWL
J. Karsanas, Prop.

Another of Andover's flourishing industries is the Sugar Bowl, corner of Main and Greenwood Streets. This store was opened at the time of the completion of the Enterprise Block, the corner store of which it occupies. Six years ago John and James Karsanas purchased the property and have been busy ever since.

The Sugar Bowl people make all their own ice cream and candy, thereby insuring that everything they serve the public is fresh and pure and clean.

Located, as it is, it has become a very popular after-theatre resort. Everything about the place is scrupulously clean and neat. There are no dark corners to be covered up. Everything is always tidy and ready for your inspection. It can not be otherwise while the energetic John has the place in his care.

You can get all the tasty confections for yourself, your family or your sweetheart at the Sugar Bowl, and with it the satisfaction of knowing that things are as they should be and that you are patronizing a home industry.

EMPIRE GAS & FUEL CO., LTD.
Natural Gas and Oil

Probably no other industry has been as important a factor in the up-building of Andover and its industries as the gas and oil business. Cheap gas has meant bringing to Andover industries which we would not otherwise have had and the Empire Gas & Fuel Co. Ltd. and its predecessors were not only the pioneers in this business, but are the largest producers of gas and oil in this section.

The first well in this vicinity was drilled over thirty years ago by Mr. W. J. Penny, later connected with the Mutual Gas Company, which a few years ago was consolidated with the Empire Gas & Fuel Co., Ltd.

Since that time drilling has been continuous until their wells are now numbered in the hundreds, supplying gas for household and commercial purposes not only to Andover but to all adjoining towns.
The company's fair dealing with the public, always furnishing its products at a reasonable price consistent with ever measuring cost of production, has won it an enviable position among our industries.

T. J. GILBERT
Our Foreman

Among the "older boys" in Andover we mention T. J. Gilbert, who has been with The News for the past fifteen years, during which time he has had the responsibility of doing the job work and setting the ads. for this paper. He is now in his 74th year and still able to be on the job, supervising the mechanical work upon this issue of The News. Joe is always on the job, more regular than the boss, and always on time.
