

THE MAN WITH A BANK ACCOUNT

The man with a bank account is the man who wins out. He is looked up to, honored and respected by the members of his community. He has learned that the best way to insure prosperity and success is to get started right with a good bank and then keep up the habit of depositing.

Andover News so much that I would not take one hundred cold cash for it unless I could get another. It made me too happy. When I saw the pictures and saw the name of that grand good man and splendid physician, my foster-father, Thaddeus Baker, as first supervisor and boss of the burg in 1824, and then noticed the name of the father of my beautiful foster-mother, Rev. Jabez Spicer (Mrs. Baker was Mary Spicer before marriage) I just sat down and feasted on the contents of that issue - and I am going to put it in one of my safe deposit boxes and I am going to set aside $200 in my will to subscribe for the Andover News for the next hundred years.

So great has been the demand for hunting licenses, in the state, this year that the supply of buttons has been exhausted and licenses are now being issued with out buttons. The old saying that whiskey and gasoline don't mix is true and Andover people had an object lesson this week that also demonstrated the fact that whiskey and bicycles didn't work well together. At the recent election in Bolivar there was a lively contest for supervisor. Edward M. Strayer, Republican, defeated his brother-in-law, Amos P. Root, for that office by one vote out of a total of 416. Harry Wilkinson of Horse Run, Town of Bolivar, says, the truck number 477, which was for him the new Ford roadster given away by the Kenyon Anasrus Post, American Legion of Bolivar, recently. Mr. Wilkinson was not present at the meeting of numbers and held only one share which he purchased at auction for $125. ...

William G. Moody, of 16 Allen Street, a telephone line employee for several years past by the Hornell exchange of the New York Telephone Company, was seriously injured this morning when a 40-foot pole at the corner of Cass and Hill streets, snapped near the bottom and crashed to earth while Moody was working near the top of the big stick. Hornell has a new quartette which is making a big hit. The Tribune-Times has a whole lot of fine words to say of the boys, and the Elmira Telegram of Sunday contained a cut of the quartette. We note that one of the leading voices is that of Howard Richardson, a former Andover man. The quartette consists of Edward Marks, first tenor; Hubert Williams, second tenor; Howard Richardson, first bass, and Raymond Starr, second bass. Allison Baker met with an accident last Saturday morning, which might easily have been fatal. While working in a silo for C. L. Earley, on the H.P. Bundy farm and while in a stooping position a 2 x 4, ten feet long, fell from above striking him across the back. It was feared at first that a fracture of the spine had resulted. Dr. W. J. Grenolds was summoned and upon examination found no bones broken. Mr. Baker, however, has suffered severely from the bruises sustained. A letter received from Mrs. V. L. Eggleston this week, requesting us to send the News to Ontario, California, tells us they expected to leave for California, Panama, Nov. 17th or Dec. 8th, depending on steamer for California. They are to go up the west coast, about two weeks trip. She writes that Mr. Eggleston is very anxious to try the change of climate and that, while it looks like a big undertaking, she is willing to try it. We print the above item, knowing it will be of interest to the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Eggleston, who will join the News in the hopes that the change of climate may be the means of restoring him to former health.

LIKES INDUSTRIAL EDITION The Andover News of week before last issued a fine industrial edition, that reflected great credit on the town and on the firm of Backus & Son - Alfred Sun. Editor Backus' "Industrial Edition," last week's issue, is to be commended. Few short of the actual workmen know the effort necessary to produce the like and for this reason it should be appreciated and valued all the more. Belmont Dispatch. Whittier California, Nov. 17, 1921. "The News came to me to-day with its gentle reminder that I will soon be a "delinquent" if I don't watch out. I do not remember that I have ever happened once in all the years I have taken the paper. I wonder if many can say the same. Well, you people surely did yourselves proud on this last issue; it is quite like a city daily. Congratulations most sincere. I am especially interested because of the many familiar faces I see. They all look good to me, only some of them used to be better looking. I suppose the reason J. M. Brundage looks so young is because he spends his winters in California. Ha ha. Mrs. Jennie B. Rhinevaunt St. Louis, Nov. 13, 1921. Dear Mr. Backus: I dislike the review issue of the

A PROSPECTIVE PASTOR Rev. Royal E. MacGowan, of Buffalo, occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church Sunday, speaking at both morning and evening services, the latter being a union meeting with the other Protestant Churches. At the close of the evening service a number of the members of the Presbyterian congregation gathered in an unofficial capacity and expressed a desire that a call might be extended to the reverend gentleman to the pastorate of the church. It is not even known whether Mr. MacGowan would even consider a call, should one be extended. Ads That Will Add to your sales is what you want - and what you will get if you advertise properly. Advertisements that reach your prospective customers is what you want as a most direct method of putting your products in the most effective manner before them. Your local paper is the medium that puts your very words beneath the eyes of those who are looking for just the articles you may be marketing. Do not hesitate. A minute lost in advertising is days lost in the rising to prominence of your merchandise. We must show all people what we have to sell before they will buy. The most practical way of showing them is to get them to the very spot. And the way to get them there is to ADVERTISE in the ANDOVER NEWS
