Don't always get in on the line pointers of the game. There's a lot for you in that you don't see.

It's the same in the business of clothing making and clothes selling.

Many of you thought, in order to get refined and exclusive styles, real quality tailoring, satisfactory fit and a thorough clothes satisfaction that you must "go against" that "rival."

850 DISASTER DEATH TOLL FOR ONE YEAR

Red Cross Gives $1,871,000 Relief When 65,000 Families Are Made Homeless.

Forty-three disasters, resulting in the death in the United States of 850 persons and the injury of 9,500 called for emergency relief measures and the expenditure of $1,871,000 by the American Red Cross during the first year ending June 30, 1921, says an announcement based upon the forthcoming annual report of the Red Cross. These disasters caused property damage estimated at $90,000,000, affected sixty-seven communities and rendered 65,000 families homeless.

The year's disasters were of varying types, including several which previously had never been thought of as falling within that classification. The Red Cross furnished relief in seventeen fires of magnitude; five floods, seven tornadoes or cyclones, one devastating storm, three explosions, including the one in Wall Street; one building accident, two typhoid epidemics, the most serious being that at Salem, Ohio, which affected 9 per cent of the population; one swinepox epidemic, in the republic of Haiti; one trachoma, the race riot at Tulsa, Okla.; the famine in China, accompanied by a famine among the Indians of Alaska, the grasshopper plague in North Dakota and an earthquake in Italy.

Public Most Satisfied

By far the most serious of the disasters that the United States during the period covered by the Red Cross report was the Pueblo flood early in June, 1921. The inundation of Pueblo, containing the Red Cross in its efforts to save the most difficult of the country, the American Red Cross National Headquarters responded with a grant of $100,000 for relief work. Governor Shoup of Colorado, appreciating the long and successful experience of the Red Cross in organizing disaster relief work, placed the entire responsibility for the administration of relief in its hands.

In response to appeals from President Harding, Governor Shoup and other governors of western states and through local chapters of the Red Cross and other community organizations, public-spirited citizens brought the total contributed for Pueblo's rehabilitation to more than $250,000.

The terrible havoc wrought by the flood waters is a matter of record. More than 2,400 homes were affected and 7,851 persons were left homeless. Estimates of $500,000 as an absolute minimum for rehabilitation were made by Red Cross officials in charge of the relief work.

Fast Work in Wall Street

The Wall street explosion was notable in that relief workers of the Red Cross were on the scene twenty minutes after the disaster occurred. The race riot at Tulsa also was unique in disaster relief annals in that outside of a small emergency relief fund contributed by the Red Cross, the only relief measures outside the city consisted of the service of social workers, nurses and a trained executive whose object was to assist local forces in direct relief of the sufferers.

In decided contrast with the previous year, only one tornado assumed the proportions of a major disaster. This occurred on April 15, in the border sections of Texas and Arkansas with the city of Texarkana, as the center. The significant feature of this disaster relief work was the fact that it covered so much rural territory as to make necessary a large number of relief workers.

The Famine in China, necessitating relief expenditures totaling more than $1,000,000 by the American Red Cross was by far the most serious of the foreign disasters in which the Red Cross gave aid.

Builds Up Its Machinery

In connection with the administration of disaster relief measures, an increasing effectiveness on the part of the Red Cross to deal with emergencies was manifested during the past year. In 328 chapters of the American Red Cross there have been formed special committees to survey the resources of their respective communities and to be prepared in case of disaster. In others of the 5,402 active chapters, a network of communication has been formed through which instantaneous relief may be dispatched to any part of the United States.

That its work in this field may be continued with ever greater effectiveness, the American Red Cross is appealing for widespread renewal of membership. During its Annual Roll Call to be conducted this year from November 11 to 24.

NAUGHTY GUN KICKED BEBE

"I'll be perfectly content if they'll leave shot gun scenes out of my next picture," said Bebe Daniels as she lifted a very lame arm. "I've shot revolvers and I've finished—but a shot gun and I were strangers until this picture—and some accident. I kept cotton wool around the butt, but that didn't keep it from hitting me good and hard just when I didn't expect it." This sparkling face is interpreted by an excellent supporting cast. Don't miss the fun of seeing Bebe Daniels in "Dick & Drake" at the Auditorium, Wednesday, Nov. 20th.

BARN BURNED

Marion Saunders, Just West of Seio, Loda, Ill., Big Barn Burned.

Seio, Nov. 21.—The large barn of Marion H. Saunders on the state road two miles west of here, burned this morning about 5 o'clock. Saunders went to the barn to feed the stock and smelled smoke. Investigation showed the hay in the mow was aflame. Quick work safely removed the cows and horses from the basement and a truck on the ground floor was also pushed out and saved.

Telephone calls for the Seio fire department brought prompt response, but it was impossible to save the building. Water from a nearby spring kept the fire from burning.

It is understood that the barn and contents was partly insured.
