USE YOUR HEAD

Just ask yourself this question "When I buy clothes, am I getting the most for my money?"

If you can use the words "Stein-Bloch Smart, Clothcraft Guaranteed and Griffon" in your answer, it is equivalent to saying that you are getting "value received" for every dollar.

The enviable standing through the country of these clothes is due in main to one thing: Clothes of "above-par" character at a "below-par" price.

Suits begin $25.00 and up.
Overcoats begin $20.00 and up.

FATIMA WAS PERFECT WOMAN

But, according to this, she should have lived to see her name on the Billboards.

Fatima lived in the seventh century, but by all rhyme and reason should have lived in the present day, when she could see her name on the billboards and all the night-time windows.

Remarks a writer in the Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune, Fatima was the perfect woman of her time. Married to a nobleman, one of the great routes of Egypt, she bore three sons whose first names all started with A. Fatima was beautiful to look upon and tried during her time to grab all the best looking hoofers in and about Mecca—which, like Fatima, is celebrated in cigarette lore.

Fatima was a daughter of Mohammed, who wrote a number of oriental epics—and staged several others at the Arabian Hippodrome, but who was shocked to death after seeing an American version.

Fatima shook her first husband and started in to win Bluebeard, not that the noted butcher appealed to her, but she was curious to know what happened to so many women in Bluebeard's hallways.

Fatima was the symbol of feminine curiosity—in that, every time she heard of any local scandal, she said: "I'll look into that."

Fatima lived for 28 years, which was a long, long time when one considers the period in which she thrived—if she did thrive—and the very fact that she lasted over the honeymoon period with Bluebeard is greatly in her favor.

She was one of the first electricians of her day, being associated intimately with "Aladdin's lamp"—and lived to see her husband "lit up" several times during the darkest spells.

PEANUTS

JUST A WORD ABOUT THEM

You can take our home-grown, tasteless nut and call it "Sun-Kissed," "Maiden-Kissed," or "Angel-Kissed" and it is still the same peanut.

The Spanish Sweet Peanut is grown only in the Spanish possessions in North Africa, and no other peanut approaches them in such a delicious flavor. Being imported, the cost has been double domestic brands, yet we have furnished our patrons at home, and in some other states (except a short time during the war while submarines were plenty) a good supply for the last 20 years. Try a cup and compare them with any others.

For Sale only at the "Cut Rate Drug Store."

FIRST TO ILLUSTRATE BOOK

Roman writer is credited with innovation. Many Years Before the Coming of Christ.

Book illustrations are so common nowadays, and the various processes of reproducing pictures in print so highly developed, that it seems almost strange to contemplate the fact that there was a time when the first illustrated book created a veritable sensation.

The event occurred in the year 70 B. C. Varro, a famous writer of ancient Rome, had been struggling for recognition for a good many years when he suddenly conceived the idea of preparing a volume containing the biographies of 700 of his most famous fellow-citizens.

History is silent on the rather interesting question whether Varro charged them for his services or not, but it is loud in his praise as the first writer who conceived the idea of illustrating his work with portraits.

They were crudely drawn, and as to whether they were good likenesses or not, will always remain an open question. But they were illustrations all the same, and after that the custom of embellishing historical works with drawings became a fad among the writers of those days.

Jenny Lind in 1851.

Anne Hollingsworth Wharton writes in her book, "In Old Pennsylvania Towns," that while visiting in Hollidaysburg friends told her of other and more romantic associations, still recalled by old inhabitants who remembered Jenny Lind's visit to Blair county in 1851. Mr. Snyder related an incident connected with the Swedish singer's stay at the Mountain house, which was situated at a railroad junction near Hollidaysburg.

While at this hotel the singer engaged a carriage to take her up the mountain side and on reaching a place from which there was an extended view of the distant mountains, the valley and the Juniata flowing through it, she was so impressed by beauty of the scene that she greeted it with an outburst of song so exquisite, said the narrator, that the birds, her only hearers except the coachman, must have felt that a rival of their own kind had joined them. The view of the hill and valley may have reminded the Swedish nightingale of some scene in her own land; and the scene with which she woke in on the stillness of the mountain side was "Home, Sweet Home."

Erie Canal Souvenir.

Nearly 100 years ago, when the Erie canal was opened, De Witt Clinton poured a bucket of water from Lake Erie into New York bay as part of the opening exercises. The keg which was made use of on this occasion was preserved and now reposes in the museum of the New York Historical society. Clinton was really the father of the Erie canal and worked up a sentiment, in its favor in the face of the greatest opposition. After he had served without any compensation for 15 years on the canal commission he was summarily removed by his political enemies, and this act resulted in a boomerang, for a great sympathy was expressed for Clinton, which ultimately resulted in his election as governor. It was then that he boasted about the completion of the canal.

Natural Question.

Conductor (to nervous gentleman)—Well, you'd better not sit in the observation car. That's the one that gets the worst of it in an accident.

Nervous Gentleman—Why, the devil do you think I'd take that?

THERE IS VIGOR IN RICH BLOOD

Pepto-Manganin Liquid or Tablets — A Blood Builder

Vigor and strength have as their base rich red blood. Blood is rich when there are plenty of red corpuscles. They are the tiny cells which swim in blood and give it its color. Without red corpuscles blood would be white. When overwork, or straining, or illness weakens the blood, it diminishes the number of red cells. Without a sufficient number of red cells the blood becomes watery, the body weak. Vigor and strength fall off, so that physical life diminishes like a fading plant. The physical pleasures of eating and sleeping and exercise lose all attraction. There is no zest in living.

After Gude's Pepto-Manganin has been taken for a while the blood becomes rich with red cells. They help to nourish the entire system. With good blood at work there is a great difference in living. Eating, sleeping and exercise are enjoyed. All druggists sell Gude's Pepto-Manganin. Advantages are given on the wrapper.
