A VENERABLE SALESMAN

S. W. Pitts, of Syracuse, N. Y., travelling representative of the J. and F. B. Garrett Co., jobbers in printers supplies, is in the city for a brief business visit. Mr. Pitts has been in the line for more than a half century with territory covering a considerable portion of Western Pennsylvania and large area in Western New York. He is known by all of the old time printers in these territories and cherishes a lively recollection of many of the leading publishers of the old days who have long since passed away. His memory of men and events is equally bright and a talk with him is an education in the early history, especially as it pertains to the journalism of the early oil development.

The News heartily endorses the above, published in the Oil City Derrick, Jan. 11th, 1923. For many years the editor has been not only a business, but a warm personal friend of Mr. Pitts, and his visits to the News is a pleasure to the entire force. One of the most enjoyable events in our lives was a week-end visit at the beautiful home of Mr. Pitts at Clifton Springs, N. Y.

C. F. DAVIS ILL

Comrade C. F. Davis suffered a severe stroke of apoplexy last Sunday at his home on Elm Street, and at this writing is lying in a critical condition, although hopes are entertained for his recovery.

If you intend to buy different things to-day, you can probably save money on two of them by reading the store ads.

It wouldn't pay a merchant to advertise goods unless it would pay the ad-reader to buy them.

Tidbits From Our School

Regents week starts Monday and for three days Regents examinations will be held. On Thursday and Friday the regular ten weeks tests will be held. Thus, beginning with Monday next week, no regular school will be held from eighth grade up. This sounds as if the students were in for an easy week; but it hardly means that, for eventually, next week will be the most dreaded of all by students.

A general clean-up day was held last Friday in the school house. School was stopped at 3:15 p. m. and a good cleaning up of the whole school building was begun by the pupils. All grades and years in high school were given certain territories for them to clean thoroughly. All the halls, rooms, stairs, basements and cloakrooms were nicely gone over by the teams of school students. All old marks and dirt were removed and the interior of the school house is greatly improved. Mr. Tubbs planned the occasion and his efforts were rewarded by seeing the great improvement done.

The Andover Girls Basketball Team was defeated last Friday night, but by a very low score, thus showing that our girls played one of their best games of the season. The Red Triangle Boys played the Wellsville Red Triangle and went down at the even score of 13 to 16. The boys, despite their inferior size and practice, put up a game and hard fought battle. The score was a tie thru a greater part of the game neither seeming able to forge ahead.

Do not forget to keep in mind that the Seniors are planning a motion picture show to be given at the High School building. This is certainly going to be a fine treat and you will regret it if you miss the picnic.

The Wellsville Girls Basketball Team will come to our local court Friday night, Jan. 19th, to engage our team in a league contest. A preliminary game will be staged and no one should miss this game. Remember Friday, Jan. 19, 1923.

The Cabinet for the month of Jan. is as follows:
Eighth Grade, Albert Rogers.
First Year, Alice Rogers.
Second Year, Nathalie Shepard.
Fourth Year, Sheridan Witter.
Third Year, Earl Hyland.

What you think of yourself does not count until you prove it.

In Akron, Ohio, a pup of three months saved nine lives. No telling how many a full grown dog would have saved.

Regents being at hand, many minds have been overworked this last week, owing to the owners trying to crowd into five days as much work as ought to take five weeks or more.

If you have trouble with your wife you should report to the Sultan for advice. He ought to be able to advise you how to remedy them.

Do not forget that next week is Regents week.

Senior Christian Endeavor meeting at 8:45 in the evening. Topic: "Evangelistic Missions at Home and Abroad." Luke 24:45-53.

Mid-week Service every Thursday evening at 7:30.

"The primary business of the Christian Church is to carry on the constructive work which Jesus began many years ago. That work is set forth in the Beatitudes, the Sermon on the Mount, and the great Parables. It is the work of persuading men to live as sons of God and brothers of each other. In an age when large emphasis is placed on material things, in a time when too often we see the activities of life in the grasp of sordid motives, the church flings its emphasis on the elements of character and praises the sanity of the unselfish life. It safeguards the reverences of the soul. It cares for the moral visions of the soul. It holds aloft the emblems of a purified humanity. It stands alone among all the institutions of our social world as the school of religion and as the treasury of moral inspiration."

We welcome YOU to all the services of OUR church.

The Missionary Society will hold its annual election of officers at the church parlors, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. After the meeting a tureen lunch will be served for the members and their families.

Buddhist Ideas of Marriage.

According to the Buddhist faith, the marriage tie contracted in this world will carry over to the next. When circumstances prevent a marriage in this world, many Japanese men and women commit suicide in the hope of a happy married life in the world to come.

Mystery Calling to Mystery?

Out of the Darkness

By Charles J. Dutton

John Bartley, the great detective, is again called upon to exercise his powers in solving strange crimes which began with a burglary and led to two murders. All other means failing, he is driven to working upon the superstitions of suspected parties. He employs an ouija board, stages a thrilling séance and brings to his aid the seemingly mystic powers of a so-called medium, with slate writings and materializations. All very terrifying to the criminals and entertaining to readers, who quickly realize that the occult manifestations are merely clever tricks. But they have their effect and wring a confession from a most unexpected source. You will be both charmed and puzzled by this out-of-the-ordinary detective story.
