

Take Your Choice

In nearly every community there is some shiftless, poverty-stricken man. In the same town you will doubtless find a man who is prosperous, happy, well-to-do. This town of ours is no exception.

You have met both kinds. Stop and think. Which man do you admire? Which one would you take for a model? Each man can tell you the story of why he is in his present condition. Ask them. In most cases you will find that the prosperous man has worked and saved, while the shiftless one has done mostly the opposite. Of course we know your choice. Start an interest account with us.

Hornell, Feb. 26. — "Good-bye, Ed," shouted Mark Leiter to his brother yesterday morning. Then he pulled the trigger of his shot-gun and blew his own head off.

Mark Leiter, who was 34 years old and unmarried, lived on a farm on Oak Hill. He has been sick with influenza. Yesterday he went out to the barn and his brother, Edward, was in the house. Edward heard two shots fired in the barn and ran out. He found his brother sitting on a stool with the shot-gun between his knees, the muzzle resting under his chin. As he entered the barn Mark pushed the trigger with a stove poker and the blast blew his face and head off.

Coroner Otto K. Stewart and Chief Bailey hurried to the scene and after an investigation the coroner decided it was a clear case of suicide. It is believed the man fired the first two shots to attract his brother to the barn.

Tidbits From Our School

Many visitors attended school Friday, February 23rd, despite the bad weather conditions which existed. All classes and rooms were visited by both parents and friends. Regular school work was carried on and thus all saw the actual daily work of their school. The visitors were received by committees of students, and conducted by them to any part or class which they desired to go. At 4 o'clock, a meeting was held in the study hall and the 6-3-3 plan, and Parents' Teachers' Association was enthusiastically discussed.

Friday night, March 2, 1923, the Wellsville High School Boys Team under the name of the "Wellsville Independents," will journey to Andover to engage our local quintet of High School boys in a game of basketball. Andover proved their ability when they defeated the fast undefeated Alfred Team last week. This game will test their mettle even more so. A crowd on the sidelines does great work toward cheering and encouraging the home team. Wellsville undoubtedly will bring a large number of rooters. Come and help win by out-rooting them decisively. This will be a great battle so do not miss it. (Friday, March 2, 1923.)

The following persons were elected to serve as a nominating committee of the Parent-Teachers' Association. They will report at the meeting to be held Friday afternoon, March 2, (to-day.) All persons interested in the school are invited to attend this meeting including both parents and friends alike.

Comments

The butcher leaves so much bone in the steak that day by day in every weigh he's getting worse and worse.

Robbed hair is disappearing. Fashion is the greatest hair-restorer in the world.

"And how do you like codfish balls?"
"I said to Sister Jennie."
She said, "I really couldn't say—I've never been to any."

"Well, it's all over now," sighed Eva, as she finished powdering her nose.

John Breiding visited our school one day this week.

Mrs. Baker is substituting for Miss Mary Snyder in Grade 2.

An Easy Examination
1. When was the War of 1812?
2. In what season of the year do we have winter?
3. How much does a ten-quart pail hold?

4. What is the name of the subject called Geometry?
Earl says that "Hunky-Dory" is certainly a "cat's meow."

THERE was a merchant in our town
And he was wondrous wise.

"To get the People's trade," he said,
"You have to advertise."

And when he saw what his ads had done,
With all his might and main,

He signed a great big contract
To advertise again.
