Reasons Tersely Stated
Why You Should Come Here to Buy Ready-to-Wear

Our buyer is in New York once or more a month—

We buy in small quantities of the newest styles, thus assuring a frequent turn-over of stock and a constant arrival of new goods.

This buying of limited quantities frequently not only means securing the newest styles, but also in following the rapidly changing styles, secures leadership and exclusiveness.

Phenominally Increasing Business Proves the Wisdom of Our Policy

How well this merchandising policy is succeeding is proven by our increased ready-to-wear business already this year with gains of 12% in January, 43% in February and 50% so far this month.

This is stated, not with egotism, but to emphasize the fact that an increasing clientele are finding advantages in this merchandising policy.

Now Here is the Chief Point to Remember

Because of this constant influx of the newest styles we invite you —we urge you—to visit our Ready-to-Wear Department every time you are shopping.

We count it a pleasure and a privilege to show you the latest style creations whether you buy or not.

Our Easter apparel displays will impress you as extraordinary in values as well as exclusive in styles. Those with whom price is the determining factor will find our under-price section helpful.
