LOVELY VISIONS IN GLEAMING WHITE

The June Bride and the Girl Graduate Exposition of White Silks of Surpassing Interest to Them

Yearly in May or June it has been our custom to feature by display and sale the latest creations in white produced by America's foremost silk artists.

This spring has every promise of being the greatest white season of years. Our preparation for this event has been in keeping with that promise. The result has been that we now have the greatest collection of plain and novelty white silks we have ever shown at one time.

Silk today succeeds cotton and wool as the queen of all textiles. More articles are made of silk today than of any other known material. Fabrics of such lovely texture, and designs so wondrously conceived

As is always expected certain major events are in the habit of occurring at this particular time of the year—milestones in the lives of all of us—preparation for which consumes much careful attention and considerable thought.

GRADUATIONS—WEDDINGS
And Lesser Events Fill the Horizon With All Abounding Interest
White silks are here in splendid array for selection for these events. Beautiful sheer productions in crepes and laces, luxurious satins, crepe satins, charming and other marvelous silks—so numerous as to make selection easy and satisfying.
Spanish nets, Tulle and a wonderful line of silk laces are specially mentioned because of their recent arrival.

White Silks for all Summer Wear

— Here the range is double that of any preceding season, showing novel features in construction and design. Silks adapted for blouses, silks both plain and fanciful woven for skirts, silks for sports wear, silks for lingerie, silks for suits, silks for one-piece gowns—many high class novelties are shown in entirely new conceptions and originality of design that make them irresistible.

This week you will see displayed greater varieties of white silks than at any other time of the year; therefore, we can assure you it will be to your interest and profit to let your attention center on this one feature.

Everyone will want one or more garments for general summer wear of white and we therefore invite every woman to come in and look over our displays of white silks for we feel that the time will be interesting and profitably spent.
