WILL NOT DO HARM TO THE DRY CAUSE

Government Officials Will Act, Conference Being Held to Determine Policy.

(By Associated Press.)
Texarkana, Texas, June 3.—The action of Governor Smith "will in no way arrest or weaken the cause of prohibition," Senator Morris Shepard, of Texas, author of the eighteenth amendment, declared last night in discussing the signing of the bill repealing the New York state prohibition enforcement act. "In fact Governor Smith's action will clear the atmosphere and enable us to put on guard there prohibition officials who believe thoroughly in carrying out the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act."

"The majesty of the Constitution and the law will be vigorously upheld both in New York and throughout the Union. The bootleggers and those in so-called high society, who furnish the chief source of revenue for the bootleggers will obtain little comfort from the action of Governor Smith and the New York Legislature."

The prohibition enforcement emergency thrust upon the Federal government by the repeal of the state enforcement act in New York is to be the subject of an important conference to be held this week of government officials with the President. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair, Attorney General Daugherty and Prohibition Commissioner Haynes will be called upon to work out plans for continuing enforcement of the law in New York without the co-operation of state officials.

Immediate efforts are being made to enlarge the Federal staff of agents in New York State, but no general plan of campaign on the part of the government to meet the emergency has yet been worked out.

OFFICIAL POLITICAL CALENDAR FOR 1923

Secretary of State Hamilton
Issues Leaflet Giving All Necessary Information

Albany, May 23.—Starting to simmer on July 3, the first day for signing petitions, this year's political pot will begin to boil on September 18, the date of the fall primary, and will bubble over on November 6, General Election day. This year's political calendar, just issued by Secretary of State James A. Hamilton, gives not only all dates, but likewise the number of signatures required on various nominating petitions, the recognized political parties, their order on the ballot, and much other interesting political information.

Chief interest this year will naturally center around an effort on the part of the Democratic party to secure control of the Assembly. In addition to assemblymen, two congressmen will be elected in place of W. Bourke Cockran and Daniel J. Roridan, deceased. One associate judge of the Court of Appeals and several Supreme Court justices will also be elected.

Voters will also express themselves this year on five proposed amendments to the State Constitution. These are the soldiers' bonus, the debt limitation of cities and counties, water power development in the forest preserve, extending the right of the absentee voters' law to inmates of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, and what is commonly known as the "home rule" amendment.

Registration days this year in New York City will fall on October 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, and 13, while in cities and villages of 5,000 or more persons outside of New York, registration days will occur on October 12, 13, 19, and 20. In all other places where non-personal registration prevails, the dates will be October 13 and 20.

ROSA BARTLE

Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian Church, Tuesday afternoon, Rev. R. E. MacGowan officiating, and interment made in Valley Brook Cemetery.

COUNTY BIBLE SCHOOL ASSO- CIATION HOLDS CONVENTION AT FRIENDSHIP

The Allegany County Bible School Association holds its forty-ninth annual convention at Friendship, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 19-20, 1923.

Dr. Joseph Clarke of Albany, General Superintendent and Fred Cartwright, Superintendent of the Young People's Division of the State Association will be in attendance besides a host of the county's best Bible School workers.

Children's, Young People's and Adult work will be considered in their many phases. The Daily Vacation Bible School, and the Week-Day Church School are among the many subjects to be discussed by those who know.

Inspiration and information are the key notes of the convention. A great mass meeting will be held Tuesday evening preceded by a school parade. Bring your school banners for this feature. Reports from various parts of the county give promise of a record attendance.

"DO NOT COME IN HERE: PAPA'S DEAD."

Was Note Left by G. N.
Manley to His Daughter
—Found Hanging.

Canaseraga, June 4.—It was with sorrow that our citizens learned late Saturday afternoon that our esteemed citizen and ex-bank cashier, G. N. Manley had taken his life by hanging himself with a rope clothes line in the woodshed of his home. About a month ago he was discharged from the Gowanda hospital as cured. He was apparently delighted to get back home. Mrs. Manley went to Rochester to spend a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Piper. Dorothy the younger daughter and the father's idol remained with him. While Dorothy was calling on a friend Saturday he took the opportunity. Mr. Manley over-worked during the war. He was always so conscientious in his work and like many others took his work home with him not forgetting it when the bank doors closed. When Dorothy came home she found a note pinned on the inner door of the woodshed leading from the kitchen saying "Don't come in here, papa is dead."

She ran to the home of W. E. Yocum for help but when the men arrived life was extinct. The family have the deepest sympathy of every Canaseraga citizen. Surviving is the wife, two daughters, Mrs. Piper of Rochester and Dorothy at home and one brother, Will Manley, cashier of the Belfast bank.

Rude Rural Rhymes

THE SOIL
This bard like lots of other gents, who sit around upon the fence while their own gardens grow to weeds, can tell the farmer what he needs. I pray you Farmer Jones draw near; I'll spill some wisdom in your ear. That scheme of agriculture's rotten which leans alone on wheat or cotton. For Nature's plan is ages old, to fill her soil with leafy mold. But we must even Nature better, obey in spirit not in letter. She has no thought for what she's sowing but scatters daisies in our mowing, and though her chance-sown flowers be sweet, a hungry world still calls for wheat. She sows a lot of weeds and junk in, while we are strong for corn and punkin. Instead of quack that spreads all over, we should plow under rye and clover. The cow is one of our best pets, she pays the land her honest debts. That man will find it hard to live who tries to take but never give. E'en if he wins he is a grafter, he'll have to face his sins hereafter. The game of life no more he'll beat but shovel coal to earn his heat. So let us see in Mother Earth who gave us nature since our birth, a partner to be justly used, no easy mark to be abused. O not for us alone was made the soil we turn with plow or spade. When we are done with all our tilling, our milking and our silo filling, our sons will sow where we have sown and mow around where we have mown. If we the soil shall rob and pluck and all the riches from it suck, our children will be out of luck. So let us follow Nature's plan and work in humus while we can, else when good Gabriel's trump shall blow, Saint Peter will stand us in a row and likely tell us where to go.

BOB ADAMS.

Who's Your Choice for President 1924-28

The Andover News Opens Poll in Nation-wide Presidential Election Test.

Another presidential election is at hand. The 1924 campaign is already under way. National committees of both big parties are feeling the public pulse trying to discern its temper toward this and that candidate.

In line with this political activity the Andover News proposes and will conduct a nation-wide vote on the people's choice for our next president.

Through its membership in The Publishers Autocaster Service of New York, this newspaper is in position to conduct this Presidential Election Test. Voting will start at once, with the issue of this edition and will continue until July 1st.

You can vote for any man you thing would serve the country best for the next four years, so long as the person of your choice is a citizen of the United States.

Of course, you will want to vote. It offers you the opportunity of testing your judgment. When the final vote has been cast July 1, you can then learn how your ability to pick a man big enough for such high office compares with the opinions of other voters all over the country.

No Restriction on Choice of Your Vote

It is an open field with no favors to any man. Political party or convention jockeying will have no bearing on this test vote. In voting for your choice in this election you are not restricted by party lines or limited to convention choices.

When voting ceases July 1 and returns have been received, the Andover News will publish complete returns of the voting from every state in the Union; and the names of the runners-up.

You can vote for a Republican; a Democrat; a Socialist; a Progressive; a business or industrial leader, or any one you think would make the best President for the next four years, 1924-1928.

Wouldn't you like to know the name of the man in this nation of 110,000,000 people who is the majority choice for President? And under such conditions of voting as this, with all the party lines down and out from under the sway of political bosses and compromising convention rules?

All you have to do is to cast your own free vote—choosing and naming your candidate. Fill out the blank ballot below, then mail or bring it to the editorial offices of the Andover News. We will do the rest.

Quick, Now! Who Do You Want for President

Do you know of a man you think would make a better President than some of those named below? If you do—write the name on your ballot and send it to this office.

The men named below are at the present enjoying booms as possible choices of the various party conventions. We publish their names here only in the effort to help you in your selection, or to at least give you a comparative list to start from. If your favorite's name is not in this list, simply write his name on your ballot and disregard this list.

CLOSING EXERCISES OF INTER- DENOMINATIONAL COMMUN- ITY WEEK-DAY CHURCH SCHOOL

The closing exercises of the Inter-denominational Community Week-Day Church School were held last Sunday evening, June 3rd, in the Presbyterian Church. The large audience that was present received a demonstration of the work of the boys and girls in the Church School throughout the year. Representatives from each of the five groups that comprise the school told of the value of the school to them during the year.

The speaker of the evening was the Rev. David H. Craver, D. D., superintendent of the Synod of New York. Dr. Craver emphasized the value of the Week-Day Church School as supplementing the work of the Sunday School, and congratulated the school for the efficient manner in which it has been maintained and administered for the past year. Starting as an innovation in Andover about a year ago, the school has progressed and reaches nearly one hundred per cent. of the boys and girls of the three churches that compose the results of the school cannot be measured adequately at once, but will be revealed in future years as the school builds the foundation of Christian lives and character.

The success of the Inter-denominational Community Week-Day Church School has been due to the co-operation and consecration of the pastors and teachers who are engaged in the work, the encouragement received from the parents and the rest of the community, and the co-operation of the Board of Education and the principal of the local High School.

With the continued co-operation

A REMEDY IS HERE FOR THE NEVOUS FARMERS

Weather Service Furnished
By Agricultural Department Daily.

The special harvest forecasts which the News is furnishing the farmers of Andover and vicinity again this season for the second year are fine for nervous farmers. This is the way one man expresses it who has had thousands of dollars worth of hay saved as a result of knowing the best time to cut and get in his crop.

Begun two years ago as an experiment, the state college of agriculture, through which the News has arranged for this service with the United States weather bureau, now feels that the service has come to stay, providing the funds for its continuance can be obtained.

The forecasts are made by M. R. Sanford of the Syracuse weather bureau and telegraphed by him to the farm bureaus from which they are relayed by telephone to the farmers.

The details of the service have been worked out by Dr. W. M. Wilson, in charge of the weather bureau at Cornell. Through him it has been possible to arrange even more definite forecasts for this season than in past years. When the forecast reads, for example, "fair weather strongly indicated" it means the chances are 90 to 100, where it reads merely "indicated" the chances are 70 to 90, and where the report is "unsettled" or "probably" the likelihood of fair weather is only from 50 to 70.

HAWKS — MEAD

Miss Bernice Hawks, of Wellsville, and Clarence Mead, of Andover, were united in marriage at the Christian Temple parsonage, Saturday, May 26th, by Rev. Carl W. Flewelling.

They were attended by Roy Courtney and Miss Marion Funes, of Wellsville.

They will reside in Andover, where the groom is employed in the Silk Mill.

TO REBUILD STATE HIGHWAY HERE SOON

Many Improvements Contemplated in Andover-
Wellsville State Roads

The County Highway Committee of the Board of Supervisors were in Andover Tuesday, and with Supervisor E. R. Crandall, were securing rights of ways along the state highway between Andover and Wellsville. This piece of road is to be much improved, as soon as the necessary arrangements can be completed, and rights of ways for the proposed changes in the road secured. It is expected that the building will be begun this summer.

This piece of road, about seven miles in length, is to be built with federal aid, and that means wider and much better than other roads. It will be eighteen feet wide in the clear, making it two feet wider than it is at present.

The base will be constructed of concrete slag, and the top will be a six-inch asphalt top.

The bridges will have to be widened and changed. Two in the Town of Andover. The Stearns bridge will have to be 85 feet span, 20 feet wide and the Burger bridge 16 feet span, 20 feet wide.

Many changes in the location of the road are being made, the greatest one being at the Stearns crossing, where the road will cross Dyke Creek at an angle instead of square, making the span of the bridge much wider. Many of the curves in the road are to be straightened out, cutting into the bank several feet in places.

County Highway Superintendent Harry Craig states that the state road work in the county for the present summer consists of the re-surfacing of the Scio-Wellsville and Wellsville-Andover road, the completion of the Canadea-Rushford and Hume-Pike roads and the construction of the Hallsport-Whitesville and Bolivar Allentown roads.

Town and county roads will be built this year in the following townships: Allen, Granger, Hume, Centerville, Genesee, Wirt, Scio, Cuba, Andover, Wellsville, Alma, Angelica, Birdsall, Clarksville, Grove and Welling.

The county has approximately 50 miles of completed town and county roads within its bounds at the present time and the proposed construction for 1923 will bring the total up to 75 miles.
