To Celebrate 1923 The Birth of a Great Nation This Institution Will be Closed on WEDNESDAY, JULY FOURTH

TERESTA CASA CAMPAGA A CAMPA

The true greatness of the United States is due to the ideals which gave our country birth as a nation. and which have guided it safely to its present muchcoveted position in world affairs.

Ideals were the dominant factors in the founding of this Institution. Service that is broad and comprehensive, efficient and yet personal, backed by ample resources and cumulative experience may always be found here.

The greatest asset of Allegany County is boyhood. Boyhood teeming with latent possibilities and standon the threshold of life's responsibilities, this is incomparably the Greatest Asset of any community.

WELLINGTON - WILLIAMS

that wise American philospher, Emerson.

The kind of men that Allegany County will turn out tomorrow, and each succeeding tomorrow depends on what the people of Allegany County do to develop this greatest of all their assets—Boyhood.

Ideals which lay hold of youth in its plastic impressionable age will be the ideals of the citizen of tomorrow. Sympathetic understanding, wholesome comradeship, and tactful guidance at this age save heart-breaks, wasted lives and expence to the public in later years; prevent loss and misery and develop our most potential resourse, Allegany County Boyhood.

DODGE -- LYKE

Boyhood not only fixes the ideals which dominate a life of purposeful good—it may also rivet those habits which lead to a career of crime. The "teen" age which is not marked by the inculation of right ideals is pretty sure to be marked by the just mistaken steps. Reformatories and dention homes are filled to overflowing with boys; men whose average age is only twenty-six represent five-sixths of the inmates of prisons and asylums.

Without a protecting and stabilitating influence the most potential element in the life of the state becomes—not an asset, but a growing liability. They were accompanied by Otto Nye and Miss Mildred Dodge.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY

F. J. McMaugh and his assistants, of the U. S. Geological Survey, were in Andover Tuesday, and set a manuent which when the work is completed, will give the latitude, fongitude and elevation. The monument was placed on Andover Free Library building.

CLASS WEDDING

The Senior Philathea of the Almond Union Church spent an enjoyable evening with their president, Ethel Cook, June 19th. The house was decorated with ferms, pink and white crepe paper, pink roses and pink peonies. After the many items, of business were taken care of, a mirth-provoking marriage ceremony took place under a large white bell. This ceremony had been preceded by a solo "Oh Promise Me" sung by Pearl Thomas and was followed by recitations by Mildred and Louise Cook. Mrs. Walker gave an interesting talk on marriage customs of England and Scotland.

The color scheme was carried out in the afreshments council by Bearl
