EASY TO REDUCE BOOTLEGGING

Hornell, July 24.—As promised by the police here that when a man was suspected of bootlegging he would not get off as easy as under the present regime as when county officers had the say, such is brought out in the cases of Leclair Wheaton of Canaseraga. Arrested for intoxication he was fined $25. Then the police notified the federal courts that Wheaton was selling gin from an auto in the city.

This morning Federal men came to the city and took Wheaton and the car to Elmira, where he will be arraigned before Commissioner McDowell there. Police say that Wheaton's handsome big Buick car will be confiscated.

NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER

HAS CLOSEST OF CALLS

CORNING, July 23.—Edwin S. Underhill, former congressman and wellknown newspaper publisher of this city and Bath, had a close call from serious injury Saturday when his automobile went through the railing that guards the New York Central viaduct and dropped about six feet to the street below.

Congressman Underhill was en route to Bath. At the top of south approach of the viaduct Mr. Underhill's engine stalled and in backing down the incline the car got beyond his control and crashed through the railing a short distance from the bottom of the hill. The rear end of the car was damaged but Mr. Underhill was not injured.

President Harding is in favor of abolishing war, but he will be making war on the democratic candidate in the next campaign.

No Germs in Grass Rugs

Did you know that the natural texture of the grass rugs prevents germs from thriving in it? They are considerably more sanitary than carpets or rugs. And for summer, this is an added appeal. Cool to the feet, sanitary and easy to clean. Harmonizing with one's furnishings, and easy on one's purse. All sizes from the tiny mat to full room size. Choose grass rugs for summer.
