

IT'S A CURIOUS FACT

Have you ever noticed that people who are capable and efficient in one field are usually so in others as well?

Take some of our most regular depositors, for instance. When it is convenient they make their deposits in person.

But when they are away, even for a short time, they send in their deposits by mail.

We should like to see more of our depositors do that.

Shovels of Coal

Every winter you waste a lot of money—shovel it up the flue, so to speak. And you will keep on wasting money until you regulate your heating plant.

In a ton of coal there are about 250 fair-sized shovelfuls. Well, every day that your heating plant is without a regulator, you waste three shovels of coal.

Figure what this means in dollars and cents. A ton of coal costs, say, $16. At this rate each of the 250 shovelfuls costs a little more than six cents. Three shovels of coal a day wasted is nineteen cents a day wasted—lost, thrown away.

Can you afford to waste nineteen cents worth of coal every winter's day? Of course you can't. What's the good of waste? Nothing!

Stop the waste with a Heat Regulator. The Regulator will pay for itself with the waste. But that isn't all. A Heat Regulator will give you just the heat you want at the time you want it—not too much and not too little.
