TRAINING INSTITUTES

Series of Bible Conventions to be Held Thru County Coming Week.

The Allegany County Bible School Association with the co-operation of the New York State Sunday School Association will hold a series of Training Institutes and District Conventions during the week of October, 21-27.

October 21, Sunday; Wellsville Christian Temple.
October 22, Monday; Fillmore, W. M. Church.
October 23, Tuesday; Cuba, Presbyterian Church.
October 24, Wednesday; Richburg Baptist Church.
October 25, Thursday afternoon; Nile Seventh Day Baptist Church.
October 25, Thursday evening; Belmont Baptist Church.
October 26, Friday; Angelica M. E. Church.
October 27, Saturday; Almond Union Church.

The subjects for addresses and for discussions in conference will include the following: "The Best Thing From Our School," "The Master Teacher," "The Materials of Religious Education," "What a Teacher Ought to Know," "The Administration of Teacher Training," "The County and State Program," and "Religious Education, the Hope of America."

One feature of the evening program will be a motion picture presentation of Bible scenes taken in Bible lands on the spot where the scenes were originally enacted. These are unusually fine films produced at great expense and with fine dramatic effect, true to the Bible story.

Dr. T. Basil Young of Albany, Education Superintendent of New York State Sunday School Association and Rev. Walter L. Greene, General Superintendent of the County Association will speak at both the afternoon and evening sessions. Other representative county and district workers will appear on the program according to local announcement.

EDUCATION IS WAY TO SOLVE FARM PROBLEMS

System Should Reach Back Into the Most Remote Country Township, W. A. Mather Says.

"The long time solution of the farmer's trouble is the establishment of an educational system which will reach back into the most remote country township and in which the boy and girl on the last farm in that township will have an equal chance with the boy and girl who lives in a wealthy school district or city."

This is what W. A. Mather, prominent Jefferson County farmer, told the audience which assembled at the state agricultural college at Ithaca recently to witness the dedication of the new dairy building.

"Closely connected with such a system," said Mr. Mather, "there must be an institution whose sympathies are with the work and in line with the needs of the people to be educated."

"The farmers of the state are coming to look upon the state college of agriculture more and more as their own institution and ready to back it with their money. But on the other hand, they are going to demand value received in an institution that will teach those boys and girls, who desire it, to be better farmers and home makers—an institution that will always be ready with information and advice to help them with their farm problems in both producing and marketing their crops and in making the country community a better, healthier, happier place to live in."

MAKE HILL SEED SELECTION OF POTATOES NOW

Now is the time to make hill selection of potatoes for next year's seed plot. The Farm Bureau has started thru tuber unit and seed selection, a large number of plots in the county this year and the growers are seeing the real difference in quality and yield due to variation in the individual quality of the tubers. Seed being saved for next year's seed plot from the most productive potatoes of this year.

If a machine digger is used for the general crop, a grower can easily go thru a field with a fork digging a few hundred of the best looking vines, from these selecting as seed only the hills having a large number of even sized and well shaped tubers. Ten pound paper sacks are especially convenient for keeping the potatoes from each hill separated, or an ordinary feed bag may be used, and by tying with a string each bag can be made to hold three or four selected hills. Next spring the selected hills can be planted according to the hill method. This means planting all the potatoes from a single hill in a row by themselves, staking the ends, so that the actual production of each hill in 1924 can be compared in the crop resulting in 1924. At digging time in 1924 the unit could again be selected and at this time, a sufficient quantity of excellent seed saved for the entire seed plot the following season, thus giving in three years' time, a field of potatoes produced at the start from just one year. Many of the yielding strains in Allegany County at this time have been produced by the individual grower in just this way.

THE ALLEGANY-STEUBEN HOLSTEIN SALE

E. M. Hastings, Pulaski, N. Y., Sale Director in charge of the annual consignment sale of the Allegany-Steuben Holstein breeders which is to be held on the Fair Ground at Hornell on November 14 and 15 states that an unusual degree of care is being exercised by the inspection committee in selecting the animals for this great fall event. It is intended that every entry shall be a creditable representative of the breed and that the sale shall bring together a finer lot of individuals

(Washington, D. C. For week ending Oct. 15, 1923.)

Fruits and Vegetables

Potato markets generally steady, demand moderate. Long Island Green Mountain 5-10c lower in New York and Philadelphia, closing at $2.15-2.50 per 100 lbs. Northern round whites down 15c in Chicago, closing at $1.12-1.25. Shipping point prices 15c lower to 85-95c f.o.b. Demand for eastern onions slow, markets dull and slightly weaker. Yellow varieties 15c lower in New York to $2-2.25 sacked per 100 lbs. Massachusetts stock steady at shipping points at $2.50-2.75 f.o.b. Eastern cabbage markets unsettled, demand slow. Domestic round type $2-2.50 per ton lower in New York, closing at $20-24 and $13-15 f.o.b. Danish type about steady at $25-30. Eastern apples demand slow to moderate, market about steady. Eastern Baldwins $4 per barrel in New York, Imperials steady at $3-3.50. Jonathans in Phila. 50c lower at $4.50-4.75. Midwestern Jonathans have ever yet been offered for sale at Hornell.

Breeders of the Allegany-Steuben district are much pleased at the results of recent tests, showing a nearly perfect health score for the cattle of this territory which has long been famous as the home of healthy Holsteins. The offerings for the coming sale will be drawn from an area in which many herds that have never had a reacting animal.

It is understood that the entries will consist largely of fall and early winter milkers, but all ages will be represented and a few bulls will be included. The earlier sales of the series have brot buyers from several different states.

The practice of tossing political hats into the presidential ring may have to be limited to tossing in only the hatbands. Otherwise the ring will be too small to hold them.

SELECTION OF INSURANCE COMPANIES IMPORTANT

The importance of selecting good, safe insurance companies is shown by the fact that only about sixteen per cent (16%) of the companies organized upon the stock plan which began in 1792 are still in operation and that only about seventy-five per cent (75%) of the companies organized upon the mutual plan which began in 1752 are still in operation. The above figures are taken from the report of Chas. S. Nesbit, formerly Federal Insurance Commissioner of the District of Columbia. We represent the very best mutual companies, those that are well managed and have stood the test of years. For the following:—Fire, Life, Automobile (all kinds), Cyclone, Tornado, Compensation and Live Stock Insurance, all in well managed mutual companies, consult with
