

KEEPING FAITH

With customers. When your suit or overcoat is machine-shirkerd the price is shorter. When you suit or overcoat is hand-worked the wear is longer. We won't sell a garment that won't give satisfaction in your mind or on your back. The confidence of our customers, won by keeping faith, is too precious a possession to trifle with.

Stein-Bloch Clothes from $40.00 up
Griffon Clothes from $30.00 to $40.00
Clothcraft Clothes from $22.00 to $35.00

And every one must give satisfaction or we make good.

MANHATTAN SHIRTS

We haven't said much about Manhattan Shirts lately and all on account of the tardy delivery from the manufacturers. Our entire Manhattan Fall Shirt order has finally been delivered and a more handsome and peppy line of shirts cannot be found. They are the kind that make you feel dressed up. The price is in keeping with quality.

New Fall Shirts at $2.50, $3.00, $4.00 and up to $10.00.

EGG DEALER FRAUD EXPOSED

A warning against egg dealers to invite shipments by tempting offers and then "vanishing" leaving the farmer shippers helpless, is issued by Herschel H. Jones, who conducts the Market Page of the American Agriculturist. Mr. Jones warns all shippers to refer all such circular letters to the State Department of Farms & Markets, 53 Park Place, New York City.

"The American Agriculturist has been receiving a large number of complaints from small egg shippers who have been victimized by 'fly-by-night' egg dealers, who send out appealing letters promising all sorts of things if the shipper will only consign his eggs to them. One of these firms, D. Lawson & Company, 55 Rutgers Place, is an example. This concern sent letters promising empty egg cases free, remittance on the day of arrival, assumption of responsibility for all damages and better prices than the shipper is now receiving. The firm even mentions that they would pay 2c more than the average market.

"Why any farmer or egg shipper would accept such statements from a strange concern without any investigation and send their eggs to them is hard to understand. But, nevertheless, apparently hundreds of people have done this. Several other firms who have sent out similar letters of appeal are being investigated by us.

"It is almost impossible to do anything for a shipper after such a concern has received and disposed of his eggs and gone out of business. The important thing is to prevent other people doing the same thing.

"In the first place, no small shipper should send eggs to an unknown concern that is not licensed and bonded by the State Department of Farms and Markets. No responsible concern that engages in receiving express shipments of eggs will avoid the State Law relative to licensed and bonded commission merchants and once you have shipped to such a firm, especially if it is a clearly understood that it is a commission transaction, you have all the protection which the State Laws and the Department of Farms and Markets provides, for shippers of farm products.

"In addition to finding out whether such a firm is licensed and bonded it would be well to write to the State Department of Farms and Markets, 53 Park Place, New York, and find out whether a firm is reliable before shipping, inclosing with your request for information the circular letter sent you. As an extra safeguard, it is also well to secure from the receiver, bank reference and reliability of the concern.

"All of these are things that should be done before you ship. Most of the frauds on the part of egg receivers in the New York market are perpetrated against small shippers. The favorite appeal to such shippers is the idea of eliminating the middleman and selling direct to a firm that has a retail outlet. The only conditions under which it is safe for a poultryman to ship direct to a retailer or small dealer is when he knows that dealer personally or is near enough to New York City to investigate personally when anything goes wrong."

"THE WELL-DRESSED WOMAN" ATTRACTS LARGE CROWD FROM ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTY.

On last Friday afternoon, October 19th, almost 300 women (two hundred and eighty four) to be exact gathered in the auditorium of the Town Hall in Belmont to hear Miss Mildred Gardner, Clothing Specialist from the State College of Agriculture at Cornell University give her lecture demonstration on "The Well-Dressed Woman." Miss Gardner has a pleasing personality, and handled her subject in a way that showed complete mastery of the subject in hand. Miss Gardner has been associated with the State University of Pennsylvania for several years in clothing work and Allegany county was very fortunate to have had her for the day.

Miss Gardner dealt with her subject from the standpoints of health, appearance, beauty and fashion. She said that clothing to be healthful must be comfortable and allow for freedom of movement; to be beautiful it must conform to the line of the natural body, be a becoming color, of a becoming texture and of good proportion. All these points were graphically shown by demonstrations with living models.

The models were Mrs. Earl Brands of Scio, who showed how a large woman should not be dressed; Mrs. Chas. Whitwood of Friendship who showed how a large woman should be dressed; Mrs. George Schoen of Wellsville, Mrs. Ward DeNeve of Angelica and Mrs. L. D. Simpson of Friendship displayed various combinations for women of medium size; and Mrs. Frank Stevens of Alfred, wore a dress of the 60's showing vividly that fashion and beauty are not one and the same thing. Applause broke out when an old fashioned costume with the grotesque bustle of long ago appeared upon the stage and people are still guessing as to the identity of the wearer. Mrs. Anis Allen and Mrs. Fanny Davis of Belfast showed tailored suits and blouses suitable for the larger and medium sized woman.

The response and interest shown at this lecture is indicative of the interest in the Clothing Program of the Extension Service of our State College of Agriculture this year. This service is possible thru the maintenance of a Home Bureau in the county. Miss Gardner will in all probability return for the succeeding three lecture-demonstrations on allied subjects. The next one on "How to Select Ready-Made Clothing" will be held in near future, the exact date to be announced later.

Empty jars in the fall mean larger grocer's bills in the winter.

A good memory and pencil and paper, are two ways of making sure the needed household supplies are purchased when needed.

Aunt Ada's Axioms: Of course it is possible to overdo the giving of deserved praise, but somehow it doesn't often get done.

SELECTION OF INSURANCE COMPANIES IMPORTANT

The importance of selecting good, safe insurance companies is shown by the fact that only about sixteen per cent (16%) of the companies organized upon the stock plan which began in 1792 are still in operation and that only about seventy-five per cent (75%) of the companies organized upon the mutual plan which began in 1752 are still in operation.

The above figures are taken from the report of Chas. S. Nesbit, formerly Federal Insurance Commissioner of the District of Columbia.

We represent the very best mutual companies, those that are well managed and have stood the test of years.

For the following:—Fire, Life, Automobile (all kinds), Cyclone, Tornado, Compensation and Live Stock Insurance, and in well managed mutual companies, consult with

Farm and Stock Markets

(Washington, D. C. For week ending Oct. 22, 1923.)

Fruits and Vegetables

Potato markets seamy, demand moderate. New York round white: decline, 10-25c per 100 lbs. eastern markets, closing at $1.75-1.90 sacked and bulk, $1.45-1.55 f.o.b. Northern round whites down 10c in Chicago at 90c-$1.15 mostly 85-90c f.o.b. Demand for cabbage slow to moderate, markets dull. New York Danish type steady at $25-30 bulk per ton eastern cities, $17-18 f.o.b. Onion markets about steady demand slow to moderate. New York and Mass. yellow varieties 15-25c lower at $2.75-3.25 sacked per 100 lbs., mostly $2.50 f.o.b. Midwestern stock generally $2.50-3. Apple markets dull, demand slow. Eastern York Imperials $3.50-3.75 per barrel city markets. Shipments Saturday 1861 cars.

Grain

All grain markets declined materially during week Oct. 15 to 22. Further reports of increased production in Canada and Argentine and a continued light export demand were the weakening factors. Movement continued of fair volume and the visible supply was increased about 1,000,000 bushels during the week. Larger arrivals weakened the corn market. Several cars of new corn were received at the various markets but contained excessive moisture and sold around 80-90c per bushel. Buyers held off and apparently were awaiting a larger movement. Quoted Oct. 22: No. 2 hard winter wheat, Chicago $1.07-1.11; Kansas City $1.09-1.22; No. 2 red winter St. Louis $1.16-1.18; No. 2 yellow corn Chicago $1.07-1.08½; St. Louis $1.06.

Hay

The hay market remained generally firm. The demand for the better grades continues good in practically all markets while lower grades move slowly. Concession in price necessary to move lower grades. Quoted Oct. 20: No. 1 timothy, Boston $28.50; New York $29.50; Pittsburgh $26.50; Cincinnati $26; Kansas City $17.50; Chicago $26; Minneapolis $19.50; St. Louis $27; No. 1 alfalfa Kansas City $24.50; Minneapolis $19.50; St. Louis $27. No. 1 alfalfa Kansas City $24.50; Minneapolis $19.50; St. Louis $27. No. 1 alfalfa Kansas City $24.50; Minneapolis $19.50; St. Louis $27. No. 1 alfalfa Kansas City $24.50; Minneapolis $19.50; St. Louis $27.

Feed

Freer offerings of mills at lower prices resulted in reductions of $1.50 per ton in price of bran. Middlings and heavier wheatfeeds followed decline. Weakness more evident in nearby shipments than in deferred deliveries. Linseed meal easier caused by insistence of mills for directions on October shipment feed.

Live Stock and Meats

Chicago hog prices range from 75-85c lower than a week ago closing at $7.50 for the top and $6.40-7.30 for the bulk; medium and good beef steers 25-50c lower at $7.75-11.25; butcher cows and heifers 25-50c lower at $3-10.75; light and medium weight veal calves 50c net lower at $7.75-11.75. Fat lambs 75c lower at $10.50-12.85; feeding lambs 25c lower at $11.25-12.50; yearlings 25-50c off at $8-10.75 and fat ewes steady to 25c lower at $3.75-6.50. Stocker and feeder shipments from 12 important markets during the week ending Oct. 12 were: Cattle and calves 131,892; hogs 22,207; sheep 265,836. In eastern wholesale fresh meat markets beef and veal steady to $1 lower; lamb $1-3 and mutton and pork lions $1-2 lower. Oct. 22 prices good grade meats: Beef $16-18.50; veal $16-21; lamb 20-24; mutton $14-17; light pork lions $22-25; heavy lions $16-21.

Dairy Products

Butter markets firm early part of week ending Oct. 20, but no more than steady at the close. Demand only moderate, but ample to absorb current receipts and a fair amount of storage butter. Movement of butter out of storages running heavier than at the same period last year. Closing prices 92 score: New York 48c; Chicago 49c; Boston 48c. Cheese markets weak despite declines which occurred early in the week. Production has held up well for the season and this together with the heavy surplus of cheese in storage has become of some concern to operators. Closing prices Wisconsin primary markets Oct. 20: Flats 24½c; Single Daisies 25c; Longhorns 24½c; Square Prints 25½c.
