Mystery in Footprint

Tradition has it that the first Spaniards to land in Hawaii were wrecked on the southeast coast in 1575; but the clear imprint of a Spanish shoe has been discovered in the surface of an ancient lava flow on the west coast near Honolulu, the "City of Refuge." Since the lava flow must antedate the building of the city in 1500, how the footprint got there is a mystery that will probably never be solved.

How well have you advertised your property for sale.

Seven cloudy days. J. HARVEY BACKUS, Local Observer.

Cork Trees.
The cork oak grows plentifully in Spain, and the peasants make use of the bark to light their houses at night. The bark is placed in a kettle, from which it produces a great light, and when it is not enough it gives off a gas which burns with considerable brilliancy.

Variations in Weight.
The normal variations in weight of a man are greatly affected in different ways. Some men lose six pounds or seven pounds during a Turkish bath while others gain nearly as much in an equally short time by deep drinking.

Old Custom in Denmark.
It is the custom for engaged girls in Denmark to wear a plain gold ring on the third finger of the left hand. When they get married the ring is moved to the third finger of the right hand.

Refreshing Ignorance.
Mrs. Kowler—"I can't do without my nuttinal coffee." Mrs. Newrich—"Is that a good brand? We've tried so many that are poor."—Boston Transcript.
