Rude Rural Rhymes

WALKING BY FAITH
As hair grows thin upon my head,
I have to wear it longer; and as the strength of youth is wiser, kinder, kinder eyes on all things here below, I see men's footsteps moving toward goals they do not know. For all of us, or high or low, see something in the distance toward which we throw our awkward feet with more or less persistence. We spend our strength thru all our years, still hoping to attain it, but likely see the night of death fall dark before we gain it. No high-brow buried deep in books can furnish explanation; it takes some good old-fashioned faith to give us resignation. This earthly life is incomplete, and no real goal is in it; we are not here to win a race, but only to begin it. Eternity is long and wide; this life is but a section. We reach no stars, they only guide and show the right direction. Let's do our darndest day by day, for that is what we came for, be less concerned with what we hit and more with what we aim for.

HELFUL HINTS

Home-made Cement.—It is no necessary to buy cement. A very good one may be made by following this simple recipe: Mix some plaster of Paris with the white of an egg to the consistency of cream. This is as good as any prepared cement and a good deal cheaper.

After Cleaning Clothes.—Very of ten after cleaning clothes with gasoline a ring will be left. This may be removed by steaming over a tea kettle.

Silver.—If silver is put into a pan of sour milk and allowed to stand overnight, it will be bright and shiny in the morning.

Pipes.—The pipes in a sink need never become stopped up if just a little precaution is exercised. If a cup of kerosene is poured down the drain once a month, followed by two gallons of boiling water the next morning, there should never be any trouble. The kerosene cut the grease and the boiling water washes it away.

Making a Vase.—A pretty vase or flower container may be made from an old bottle. That sounds strange, doesn't it—but it's so. First saturate a cord in either kerosene or turpentine and tie around the neck of the bottle at the place you wish to cut it off. Then light the two ends of the cord and turn the bottle slowly so that the heat may be evenly distributed. Third and lastly, plunge into cold water and the neck will break off evenly.

The Grater.—After grating either lemons or cheese, a very stiff-bristled brush will thoroughly cleanse the grater.

Candle Grease on Linen.—Candle grease may be removed from any linen article by putting a blotter under the piece and using a warm iron. Let the iron stand on the material long enough to melt all the grease, which will be absorbed by the blotter.

Clothes-pins.—Clothes-pins which have been boiled in salt water will keep the clothes from sticking to the lines in cold weather. Add a teaspoon of salt to a quart of water in boiling.

The Greater Movie Season

Who is Responsible for It?

NO human being or company, but two great forces—Public Opinion and Competition! Public Opinion means You and Competition means Us—everybody in the motion picture industry striving to beat others in the effort to please you most.

Don't think we are claiming the movies have "got religion" at last, or anything like that.

No, they have simply "got sense" at last and learned that the "shockers" are not the permanent payers.

Like every other business, motion pictures are forced to follow the Law of Self-Interest, and today it has been definitely demonstrated that this leads in the direction of clean films.

And the reason you can bank on the Greater Movie Season is because the motion picture people have learned that Greater Movies Pay!

There will be something happening all the time this season—something to see, something to feel, something to thrill you with the joy of life—the sharpest shocks of drama, the honeyed sweets of love, the ringing laughter of the spirit of Comedy!

Check it up for yourself and have a great time doing it!

The Greater Movie Season is here: prove it by going!

LEAGUE TO APPEAL

HOLMES CASE

The Law Department of the Dairymen's League Co-operative Association, Inc., announces that an appeal will be taken to the Court of Appeals from the recent decision of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, Fourth Department, at Rochester, N. Y., reversing the judgment of $228.16 obtained by the Co-operative Association against Holmes Bros. of Afton, N. Y., and giving them judgment for a portion of their counter claim.

The Appellate Division in its opinion, the League lawyers say, held that the Association's pooling of milk sales is legal and binding. The court declared that the defendants, Holmes Bros., were not actually members of the association, and, therefore, the association's deductions for the certificates of indebtedness were not within the powers of the Association as given by the statute in their contract. The court also held that the liquidated damage clause in the contract was excessive in amount.

Holmes Bros. violated their contract in April 1922 by refusing to continue delivering milk to the association under their contract. The association withheld their check for April milk and certificate of indebtedness, and brot suit against them to recover the amount of liquidated damages. Upon the trial of the case last January in Supreme Court in Utica, judgment was granted to the association for the amount of the liquidated damages less amount of certificate of indebtedness withheld and check for milk during a portion of the month of April.

That part of the decision relating to certificates of indebtedness, the League lawyers say, applies only in case of non-members of the association.

"We are gratified that the court has approved the legality of the pooling plan and of the mutuality of our contract," said Bradley Fuller, District Attorney of Oneida County, of counsel for the Dairymen's League Co-operative Association, Inc., "and we are quite confident that upon the appeal to the Court of Appeals, which will be made at once, the other provisions of the contract will be sustained."

"It is worthy of notice that similar contracts have been upheld by the highest courts of several other states and we are in hope that a similar result will be reached in this State."

JASPER MAN DIES

Hornell, Jan. 16.—Russell E. Walz, formerly a prominent business man of Jasper, died Thursday at his home, 20 East Washington street. He was 69 years old and had lived in this city only about four years. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. William E. Bronson of this city and two sons, Ross and LeRoy Walz of Jasper. He also has a sister, Mrs. N. E. Johnson of Woodhull and a brother, Oscar Walz of Jasper. 10% More MILK

Doubles Dairy Profits

A penny a day per cow invested in KOW-KARE works wonders

A poor milker costs just as much to house, feed and care for as a good producer. For this reason just a slight increase in the milk yield makes a big difference in the net profit. Dairy experts say an increase of 10% in the milk yield will double the profit.

How important it is, then to get from your cows every pint of milk of which they are capable.

The chief cause—almost the only cause—of poor milkers is the condition of their health. Particularly the health of the milk-making organs.

Kow-Kare, the famous cow medicine and conditioner, acts directly on the milk-producing organs. It tones up the genital and digestive functions, makes them sturdy and active. More milk and better health must result. Feed Kow-Kare one week out of each month (a tablespoonful twice a day) and the result will surprise you.

For the treatment of Barrenness, Abortion, Retained Afterbirth, Scours, Bunches, Milk Fever, Lost Appetite, etc., Kow-Kare has a well-learned reputation. No dairy farm should be without it. For twenty-five years it has been the chief reliance of thousands of dairymen, when cows are sick.

Feed dealers, general stores and druggists sell Kow-Kare; $1.25 and two sizes. Write for our free book, "The Home Cow Doctor." It is full of information valuable to cow owners.

Unprofitable Cows are often sick with-out appearing so!

Watch the milk pail closely. The rise and fall of the yield indicates the health condition of the cow. A cow may look well, yet be suffering from sluggish digestive or genital organs. Kow-Kare acts directly on these organs. Its use restores normal milk yield and enables the cow to throw off disease.

The Man at the Desk

The only sound in this silent room is the muffled roar of Niagara Falls, coming from half a mile away. A man sits at a desk with nothing but a telephone before him. In a semicircle around him stand great panels of dark slate that are jeweled with lights of red and gold and green, shining amid strange knobs and dials.

The telephone jangles. The man listens, answers briefly and hangs up. He walks over to one of the panels, moves a couple of knobs and returns to the desk.

You would never guess that power enough to light an entire city, to move its street cars, to turn the wheels of its factories had been sent by a finger's touch coursing over the wires to its destination hundreds of miles away.

In this silent room 400,000 horsepower obeys one man, sitting at a desk.
