

Strong For Chicken

A negro's idea was that the most useful animal was a chicken, because, he said: "You can eat 'em before they is born and after they is daid."

Possibly he was right, but the most useful THING in this world is the dollar on deposit in a good bank like ours. It is always safe there, but is subject to your check when needed, while the dollar thoughtlessly spent has departed from you for good. Take good care of the dollars. They will stand between you and lots of trouble.

HAND BADLY CUT BY SHARP SAW

Sam. Reinard Sustains Serious Injury While Operating Buzz Saw.

While cutting wood for John Ordiway on South Hill, Friday morning, Sam Reinard, who was operating a rapidly revolving buzz saw, slipped on the ice and fell forward, his left hand coming in contact with the saw. The saw cut thru the hand and several inches into the wrist. Bert Walters, a working companion, corded the man's hand above the wound with a piece of twine and assisted him in walking to the nearest house on the farm of Melvin Madison, one and a half miles from the scene of the accident, from which place he was brot to the Jones Memorial Hospital by Joe Greenan, a near neighbor. Dr. F. E. McCarthy was called and found it necessary to amputate a portion of the injured hand, and the man is resting as comfortably as can be expected. Mr. Reinard is father-in-law of John Wreley, living on Maple and Third Street.

P. A. DEAN

P. A. Dean departed this life at the family residence Friday, Jan. 25, of cerebral hemorrhage, after an illness of three weeks.

Patrick Dean, son of the late Anthony Dean and Margaret Walsh, was born in Ireland 78 years ago, when a babe. In the year 1850 or 1851, when about five years of age the family moved to this section, being among the first settlers who sought homes in the then unbroken forest. In that home he grew to manhood and in 1871 was united in marriage with Miss Katherine Eagan of Scio, they having celebrated their golden wedding anniversary two years ago.

Their first home was in Elm Valley where Mr. Dean was employed in a saw mill, but after two years he took up farming again on land adjoining the homestead. There he above, untiring for home and family, acquiring more land as his son grew up, making one of South Hill's most productive farms. The hardships of age had rendered him unable to labor for a few years past, he gave no thought to retirement from the farm, loving the home they had made with its many memories, choosing rather to die where he had lived for over half a century. He was taken sick three weeks ago and so all that was possible was done for his relief, his daughter, Mary, being with him, he failed slowly until the end came most peacefully last Friday.

Those who knew him well loved him for his cheerful sunny ways and admired him for his frank, outspoken character, subterfuge at any time being unknown to him.

His friends were legion, as was evidenced by the many who came for a last look at his kindly peaceful countenance. One of the good old sturdy stock, who has been missed in his church and in the community for some time and will now be sadly missed in the family circle, especially by her who has been his aid and comfort in his helplessness.

Eulogy is unnecessary as he will live in our memories as being, in his humble, God-fearing way, one of "nature's noblemen."

Besides his widow, there survives six children, James, John, Robert and Mrs. M. T. Garvin of Andover, Mrs. J. Sauter of Hornell and Miss Mary Dean of Lackawanna, six grand-children, three brothers, William and John of Andover, Mr. H. Dean and one sister, Mrs. J. D. Magner of Wellsville. To the family is extended the sympathy of all in the loss of a most exemplary husband and father.

Funeral which was largely attended took place from Blessed Sacrament Church, Andover, Father Tracy officiating, and burial was in St. John's Cemetery.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

Rev. C. H. Whelan, Pastor.

The Methodist church was not crowded Sunday, but we have a nice warm time in the Sunday school room. Until further notice, we shall hold our service downstairs. There's no excuse on that score for staying home.

The officers and teachers of the Sunday school were installed at the morning service. The sermon dealt with the place of childhood in the making of a Christian humanity. Among other things, Mr. Whelan said that adults must be more careful of their example. For instance, in the organization of our communities, the forces of evil appeared to have the ear of the officials with the result that laws were not enforced and evil conditions surrounded the young people.

In the evening, it was said that he only test of character was Jesus Christ and his influence in making lives God-like. Put your life to the test of Jesus Christ. Can you afford to look at the difference?

Next Sunday morning the topic will be, "One of the hardest things Jesus had to say about his people." It is a test of life which no community can ignore.

In the evening, we shall think about some more Warnings about Character.

Tidbits From Our School

The Betty Booth Concert Co.

The last number on the Lecture course, the Betty Booth Concert Company, was given at the Auditorium last Monday evening. It proved to be a huge success; everyone who attended declared it to be the best concert they had heard in years. The entertainment, who were all of foreign birth, possessed both talent and pleasing stage presence. The pianist was a marvel to all, in the way in which he played the delicate and intricate passages of students "Impromptu." The softer themes he played with as much feeling as he did the louder parts. The violinist too, was a great musician. His selections were all beautiful, and the tones he produced as sweet as a bird. Betty Booth was the favorite. She has a very remarkable voice as her high tones are as good as the lower ones. Some of the numbers were, "A Hindu Prayer," "Thanks Be To God," "Selections from Chinese, Japanese, and Spanish songs. These songs she wore several charming costumes.

A novel feature of the entertainment was the popular selection of standard operas. The violinist, Mr. Clark, requested the audience to name five or six operas, and the pianist played them from memory. Those chosen by the audience were, Aida, Madame Butterfly, Il Trovatore, Bohemias, Girl and Post and Peasblossom. The pianist, Mr. Bvmet, grouped them into a very beautiful medley which all enjoyed. In one medley which all enjoyed. In one medley which all enjoyed.

"Dreams of Long Ago," which was written by Caruso, the great tenor. It was a great surprise to many to learn that Caruso was a composer as well as a singer.

The Betty Booth Concert Company was a very fitting ending to this year's Lecture Course.

The following is a list of those pupils who passed the Regents examinations in one or more subjects, last week.

Why does cream rise to the top?

—because cream is fat or oil, and therefore lighter than the rest of the milk, which is largely composed of water. Likewise,

Puretest BABY COMFORTS
Glycerine Suppositories, Infant Zinc Stearate, Castor-Oil Sugar of Milk, Boric Acid

have rapidly risen to the top because they are the cream of their kind. Pure and safe and good for children, they are demanded by millions of mothers.

MRS. ELLEN K. REGAN

Mrs. Ellen K. Regan was born in Ireland, Nov. 10, 1828, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kineally. In early womanhood she was united in marriage with Patrick Regan, whose death occurred in 1889. Mrs. Regan had been a resident of Schenectady and of Hornell, N. Y. For the past sixty-seven years she has lived in Andover, where she passed to the beyond Thursday afternoon, January 24th, 1924 at the family home on Second Street, survived by one daughter, Mrs. T. F. Kelly of Salamanca, and four sons, P. C. Regan of Chicago, D. P. Regan of Wellsville, T. K. Regan and T. J. Regan of Andover.

Mrs. Regan had passed her ninety-fifth birthday. She was the oldest woman living in our community. The mother of a family of five children grown to manhood and womanhood under her loving care, whose lives have been so long interwoven with hers that the parting will be felt most deeply. Age did not diminish her unselfish solicitude for her family, and while for several years her active life work had been finished, she has continued to enjoy the society of friends and the home circle where she has been tenderly cared for by her son's, T. J. and T. K. Regan, and wife.

The sympathy of a large circle of friends and acquaintances are extended to the family in their sorrow. Funeral services were conducted at Blessed Sacrament Church, at 10 o'clock Monday morning, January 28, by the Rev. Father P. C. Tracy and Monsignor O'Brien and interment made beside her husband in St. John Cemetery.
