

WASHINGTON

the Nation's Pilot to Freedom and Supremacy!

Possessing a vision of a great and lasting nation and a flawless faith in the ability of the Colonies to triumph and develop, George Washington truly earned that unique place in American history accorded to him by "Light Horse Harry" Lee at the time of his death—

First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen.

Greatness in Washington developed as responsibilities multiplied. Difficult problems constantly came before him—the whole future of the Colonies rested upon him. Always he served with a distinction that set him high above other men of his day.

To Washington the patriot, the warrior, the first President of the United States, the statesman, the private citizen, America pays the highest tribute of honor and reverence. His most ambitious vision of a powerful nation has been far surpassed by the country whose founding and early years he guided so well.

This bank will be closed all day Friday, February 22nd, in observance of Washington's Birthday.

What God Says ABOUT NEWS--

"As cold water to a thirsty soul so is good news from a far country."

What God says is news. It's always news, more important news than the sayings of any man however great. And it's good news, however bad it may seem to sound. When God tells a man he's all wrong—that's good news, because if God says so it must be so, and if it is so then how good to realize it, and there's a remedy. And if it is the very next word, or else God would not have taken it. And it's good news from a far country, for Heaven doesn't lie all around it. So, if you're thirsty, take God's book as you would a cup.
