

ed to their having a representative on the Federal Reserve Board. This was not due to any conscious hostility to agriculture but to an unconscious bias in favor of great commercial interests whose claims for special privilege are antagonistic to the farmers' demand for justice.

The laborer finds the Republican partly unsympathetic, not because it dislikes the laboring man as such, but because the big employers are closer to Republican leaders, and create the public opinion which impedes these leaders. Humanity demands remedial legislation and this legislation, if it may be delayed, cannot be prevented by reactionary sentiment in Congress or in the court. Society must move forward even if it is necessary to amend the Constitution.

Anent Constitution

It is likely that both parties will find it necessary to declare in favor of an amendment to the Constitution requiring six or seven judges to concur in the nullifying of legislation, just as both parties are likely to declare in favor of an amendment permitting the taxation of government bonds.

Another issue that is likely to bring out very clearly the tendencies of the two great parties is the issue embodied in the authorization of temporary Federal operation of railroads and coal mines whenever a strike or lock-out menaces the public welfare.

The Democrats, giving preference to the needs of the general public, will probably favor vesting the president with such power in emergencies, while the Republican leaders, leaning to the side of "big business," will be likely to oppose legislation objectionable to large corporations. The progressive Republicans will doubtless side with the Democrats, because on vital issues they are really nearer to the Democrats than they are to the controlling influences of the Republican party.

It is impossible at this time, to say just to what extent international questions will demand public attention. At present domestic issues overshadow international issues, but the international issues cannot be ignored.

What We Need

I believe one of the greatest needs of the voters is a national Bulletin, that will insure the information necessary for intelligent consideration of issues. The radio will greatly aid in distributing information, but we need the Bulletin as well.

I have not discussed the prohibition question because it will be an issue only to the extent necessary to insure enforcement. Prohibition is the permanent policy of the nation. The two great parties united in bringing prohibition and should unite in enforcing it. I hope both parties will have dry platforms and dry candidates. The Democratic party has objected to government by any class whatever, and therefore can consistently oppose turning the government over to a farmers' party or to a laboring man's party.

How can the Republican party object consistently to a government by large groups, such as farmers and laborers, when it has been willing in the past to turn the government over to small groups representing special interests?

TO LAND OF PROMISE. FORCING YOUNG MINDS. RAMSEY AND HIS PAY. THEY KILLED GEE JON. THE PLACE FOR ALCOHOL.

Enroute to Florida

Everybody on this train is going to Palm Beach, via the Seaboard Air Line. A solid row of twelve

Back in your little room. You study the map, and realize that these pilgrims of fashion all testify to unseemly wisdom. They are taking their money to be spent in developing a magnificent State. They will return to make known a marvellous climate, the wonderful land of Florida, with its sensible, industrious people, the land that in years to come will be a great garden for the nation, a marvellous playground in winter for millions of real workers, the permanent abode of contented, prosperous tens of millions.

The train travels along the edge of the Atlantic, carrying its precious freight, of which 98 per cent. would be about as useful in heaven as it is on earth. Philadelphia, Washington, Richmond, fly past, and Jacksonville, that one day may be greater than all of them, as the seaport of a southern empire.

A young Czech-Slovakian, assisted by all the people in his town, is working at the problem of transmitting power without wires. Whoever solves that can command hundreds of millions for himself and endless billions for the world. Waterfalls could run machines hundreds of miles away, and airplanes fly with power taken thru air, thru earth plants.

Ethel Jaeger entered public school at six and in eighteen months did three years' work, advancing from one class to another rapidly. In addition, the child took piano lessons and studied classic dancing. The little girl will be praised, the father and mother will be proud. But that is false education.

A child with a superior mind should be held back. Children would be better off as a whole if allowed to devote their first ten years to outdoor exercise, and learning thru their eyes, not teaching them even to read until ten or twelve years of age.

Ramsey MacDonald, British Labor Prime Minister, gives up one of two $25,000 salaries to which he is entitled.

The English have brains enough to pay well men to whom they give important jobs. This makes it unnecessary for oil companies or others to pay them after they LEAVE office—for services rendered while IN office.

Good news is that General Motors, big automobile making company broke all records last year, selling $698,000,000 worth of cars. Many Americans are getting fresh air that didn't use to get it, plus the health that comes from fresh air.

Nevada killed Gee Jon, Chinese long murderer, with hydrocyanic gas. Mr. Jon, according to guards, "wept a little as he was placed in the chair." His tears seemed to ask, "Why pick on me?"

Doctors say death was painless, but they don't know. Gee Jon lived six minutes after he began breathing the deadly gas. Where is he now? Somewhere in space telling Confucius about it?

If Government insists on killing it should kill as savages usually do, choking with a rope, cutting off the head, or in some other savage fashion.

Science and scientists should not be disgraced in the operation. Ten thousand years hence this will be spoken of as an age that used to hang, shoot, asphyxiate, kill with electricity and then foolishly expect criminals, with the undeveloped minds of children, NOT to imitate a murderous example set by government itself.

In a race against American cars at Stockholm, last week, a Swedish car, driven by Swedish motor alcohol, beat all the American cars. The latter used gasoline imported from the United States.

That's good news. Unlike oil wells, the supply of alcohol never can give out. We could get enough alcohol out of corn stalks in the United States, and other vegetable matter to run all the machinery of the United States. There is power inexhaustible. And the inside of an explosive engine is the right place for alcohol, not the inside of a man.
