

Grandma Used a Music Box— Granddaughter Tunes in the Radio!

There's the same wide gulf between the well-worn black pocket-book or the soft-feathered bolster depository for surplus cash of Grandmother's day and the simple, convenient method of Banking by mail in 1924.

This institution today serves many people who live out of town—and some even who live in other states.

You, too, can enjoy this 20th century method of banking, no matter how far away you live, or work. Just a letter or a phone call, if you can't stop in, will bring full information.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

—Mrs. Joseph Herman entertained the Elite Club Saturday evening. Erwin and Wallace Briggs recently lost a valuable full-blooded Holstein cow.

—John Wahl is moving into the new home recently purchased by him on Main street.

—Mrs. W. H. Rogers of Alfred recently sustained a badly sprained wrist, by a fall on an icy sidewalk.

—The Bolivar Breeze, Allegany County's Oil Journal says that, "Congress having 'spudded in' should case off the gas and begin drilling."

—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mead moved Saturday from the rooms in the Clair house on Greenwood street to the Chase house on Rochambeau Avenue.

—C. G. Witter brot to the News office Tuesday, some hen egg. It measured 8½ inches the long way and 6½ around and weighed five ounces. It came from his flock of Black Manorhas.

—McKibbin & Rockwell, contractors of Hornell, are the successful bidders for the construction of part two of the Caledonia-Mount Morris road. Mr. McKibbin was one of the firm constructing the Village of Andover pavement.

—Carl N. Marshall, a former Elmira newspaper man and more recently of the advertising department of the Buffalo Times, has purchased the Allegany County Democrat of the estate of the late A. E. Cowles of Wellsville. The Democrat came to our desk this week in a greatly changed appearance, being a seven col. quarto instead of an eight col. folio. The News extends a welcome to Mr. Marshall in the Allegany County newspaper work.

—Bolivar High School will have a class of twelve graduates this year.

—The price of cheese on the Cuba market last week was twenty and one-fourth cents.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gilbert of Rushford are visiting their son for a month at Durham, N. C.

—Glenn Ruger has purchased the Richard Smith property on North Main street and is remodeling the same.

—The village of Bliss is to have a new factory for the manufacture of combs and other articles made from celluloid.

—The interest in the local Odd Fellow lodge is very gratifying to its members. Seven candidates received the initiatory degree Tuesday evening.

—The American Legion boys are proud of another collection of World War trophies received this week from Elmer Kemp. They are now on display in E. A. Richardson's & Son's Store window.

—About twenty friends and neighbors of Rev. I. L. Cottrell of Alfred Station made him a surprise birthday visit Thursday evening, March 7th. Among the other remembrances left was a check from a couple that he had married on his birthday, thirty-five years ago.

—Justin H. Bradley, who for a number of years has been superintendent of the Hornell Gas Co., has been transferred from that position to a similar position with the Empire Gas & Fuel Co., having charge of Wellsville and Bolivar. J. H. Wells of Canisteo is in charge of the Hornell business.

—F. G. Turner of Commonsville, Delaware Co., N. Y., was in Andover last week looking over some of our fine dairies. He purchased six fine registered two-year-old Ayrshire heifers of F. G. Mead. Mr. Turner made this selection with the idea of starting a purebred Ayrshire herd. He has been breeding grades.

—Another record breaking house greeted the Satterlee Brothers Minstrels, Monday evening. A Hook & Ladder benefit. That Andover people appreciate the work of their fire department can be no more forcibly illustrated than by their patronage of the firemen's benefits. The minstrel show Monday evening proved that fact beyond doubt.

—As the editor was to enter the News office Monday morning, on the step of the office was found perched a woodchuck. Evidently Mr. Groundhog wanted to announce the expiration of his six weeks sentence of retirement, which ended this year Monday morning. Just to show his approval the weatherman had arranged for the chick and St. Patrick a beautiful spring day.

—Arthur Hall will work the Longway term in Railroad Valley the coming year.

—Mrs. F. J. Baufenbach is seriously ill at her home on Church street with an attack of pleurisy.

—Archie Cline of Stanards was suddenly stricken with a stroke of paralysis while in Belmont last week Monday.

—Mrs. E. J. Atwood will entertain the Coterie Club at her home on Pleasant Avenue, Tuesday afternoon, March 26th at 2:30 P. M.

—Charles A. Ackerly, is the newly elected president of Cuba National Bank. He takes the place made vacant by the death of Hon. John C. Leggett.

—The Andover boys went to Hornell Friday night and defeated the Plek Motor Bowling team of that city on the Y. M. C. A. alleys by a margin of 96 pins. Bloss bowled high game for Andover at 200 pins.

—Principal R. C. Witter of the Bolivar School is to conduct a party of tourists to Europe this summer. They expect to visit England, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, and Switzerland. They will leave Montreal, Canada, June 28th. The cost will be about $1,000 for the trip.

—Miss Delia Lynch suffered a hard fall on the ice on Elm street Wednesday morning, severely injuring her hip. Local physicians found it advisable to take her to Hornell for an x-ray examination, which was held Thursday morning. The result of which has not been received at this time.

—One dollar for 100 miles in an automobile is the promise held out by an inventor of a new auto and fuel called "gazogene," produced by burning wood and charcoal in place of gasoline. In an exhibition he mounted one of his wood-burners on a heavy truck and drove exactly 100 miles at an average speed of fourteen miles per hour.

—John Adrian, a farmer living near Perry, was instantly killed last week Saturday afternoon while enjoying a shooting match with a company of neighbors. To warn a friend whom he expected, Adrian stepped in front of the shooters just in time to receive a 32-40 rifle bullet in his head. No blame is attached to the man who fired the shot.

—The Rotary Stock Company, which has been giving a play each Thursday evening in Andover this winter, presented "The Lion and the Mouse," at the Auditorium last Thursday evening. The writer has seen this play at New York, Albany and Hornell, and outside of the scenic effects, he never saw it produced better than it was played Thursday evening. The acting was really clever. The company will play again next Thursday evening. Tex Perry is doing his part toward the return of the good old spoken drama.

What God Says about NEW CARTS

"And they set the Ark of God upon a new cart."

New carts are quite the vogue.

The effort to get the blessing of God by new ways fills the religious columns of the newspapers with strange advertisements.

This new cart was David's idea, and King David was a man of resource. And yet it must be admitted that he seldom allowed himself to do things according to his own notion. Generally reverently consulted God about every move.

But this time the idea occurred to him that it would be a great thing to get the Ark of God home to his new city—"the city of David."

Now there were explicit directions as to just how the Ark was to be moved (read Numbers IV:1-15) but with this new idea in his head he went head-long for the Ark. Yes, that's it, "head-long." If he had gone heart-long he would have consulted the sacred records. But he put the Ark on a new cart and put a team of oxen to it and God had to kill a man to show how dangerous head-long ways are.

And poor David was flabbergasted.

Now, the ancient records are still the one infallible guide to worship and new carts are dangerous and many are killed spiritually trying them.
