Washington, D. C., April 10.—The Citizens' Research Bureau, a new organization for the purpose of investigating the activities of the various political parties and their leaders, has been organized here.

The idea back of it is to get the truth about the various political parties and their leaders, and to make it known to the people. The organization is a non-partisan one, and its members are men and women of all parties and all colors.

It hopes to produce a book which will arouse public opinion and crystallize action from office corruption and public officials. It hopes to get the voters to a keener appreciation of the importance of the officials and appointments same kind.

Mr. Vanderlip is owner behind the Bureau. He has felt the cost of doing business associated with him and as has resigned directorate of corporations through.
