Gov. Smith Makes Clear His Stand on Prohibition

strict state supervision. The Democratic State Platform thereafter took a still stronger position upon this subject and said that it should be brot about, so far as this state was concerned only after a referendum to the people that the present hypocritical attitude towards the whole question of prohibition would be greatly relieved by having Congress fix a maximum alcoholic content, based upon science and sound reasoning, thereafter leaving every state to enact any statute it pleases with regard to regulation of the traffic in light wines and beer within that alcoholic contents, so that the state that desires strict prohibition may have it, and the state that desires light wines and beer within the alcoholic content prescribed by Congress may also have what it desires. I would also advocate strengthening the federal statutes with regard to interstate commerce and importation into this country of strong liquor. I do not have to tell you that very little of the liquor consumed in this state is made here or for that matter, made in this country. It is imported here from foreign countries and if the federal government sincerely and honestly desired to limit that traffic, it is within its power to do it. I cannot help taking my position with those who believe that the attitude taken by the present government at Washington on the question of prohibition is one that is intended to fool the 'drys' and, whether consciously or unconsciously, to leave the 'wets' open to a certain form of political blackmail.

As to Selling Beer

You ask me the question, "How much beer is to be sold?" That should be left to the states; the manner and condition under which it would be sold, should also be a matter for the states. The states might well say that it could be sold only for consumption in the home or it might say it could be sold only in properly regulated hotels and restaurants. The New York State Act of 1920 was very strong in its language as to places where wine and beer could be sold and made impossible the opening of the saloon.

You refer in your letter to 'speakeasies and cafes' in New York City. If you know of any such places send me their addresses and I will request the Police Commissioner of the City of New York to make an immediate investigation.

You ask me the fair and square question of where I stand on the liquor menace. I have made it clear and I use your own words when I say that a reasonable and practical change in the Volstead law which would honestly serve cause against hard liquor which is undoubtedly put under the ban by the language of the Eighteenth Amendment. Of course, you understand that this is the expression of my individual opinion; any amendment to the statutes can be made only by the people themselves thru their elected representatives in the congress of the United States.

In the latter part of your letter, you speak about the attitude of my friends to an anti-Ku Klux Klan plank in the Democratic National Platform. I do not know what you mean by my friends. I have a very great many of them. None of them think for me. I think for myself. It seems almost a waste of time, after my long known public career for it to be necessary for me to say anything about any individual or group of individuals or any organization that questions the nationality of the race, the creed or the religion of any American. I have repeatedly said in public speech that nothing is or could be so contrary to the very principles upon which this country was founded. As a boy and as a man, I always read with a great deal of delight, the immortal words that Jefferson wrote into the Declaration of Independence—"that all men are created equal, that they are endowed, by their Creator, with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

I take that liberty to mean liberty within law and, certainly, it is within the law that any man worship God according to his own inclination. Certainly, that Declaration drew no color line and, certainly, it was intended to refer to all citizens whether born under the flag or whether brot under it by an oath of allegiance to it.

There is no committee or any other power that I know of that will at this time or at any other time prevent me from giving free expression to just what I think about any public question. I make as many mistakes as any other human being but I will never make the mistake of being afraid to talk out.

With kind regards and best wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

HIGHLIGHTS ON STATE CROPS

From New York State Dept. Farms & Markets June 10, 1924.

White Eggs Steady—Brown Higher

Fancy white eggs continue at the same prices noted a week ago, 29c a dozen for nearby hennerly whites, extra firsts, says the report of the State Department of Farms & Markets. Western and brown eggs, however, advanced at an average of about 1 1/2c of the first two days of this week; nearby hennerly browns, extra fancy, are now selling at 32-34c a dozen. The market is rated at very firm.

Butter Advances Under Light Receipts

With butter receipts falling short of the quantity expected, the price has made several slight advances totaling about 1 1/2c a pound over that of a week ago. Creamery salted higher score today sold at from 42c-42 1/2c a pound. Because of the recent low prices in this market and improvement in the demand abroad there has been practically no foreign butter unloaded here for six weeks.

Cheese in Better Demand

Cheese is steady at 18-18 1/2c a pound for average run whole milk flats, fresh and at 22-24c a pound for average run held. The demand has improved and with the price for fresh is up to 1 1/2c a pound from a week ago.

Live Poultry Unchanged

Fowls and broilers continue at about the same prices as were quoted a week ago. The price per lb. today for colored fowls was 25-27c for leghorns 25-26c. Live broilers colored, brot 42-45c. Broilers, leg-horn, 30-38c.

Veals Steady

Receipts of country-dressed calves the past week have been moderate with the demand continuing slow great many of them. None of them think for me. I think for myself. Stocker and feeder shipments from 12 important markets during the week ending May 30 amounted to 45,180 cattle and calves; hogs 7,953 and sheep 11,966. In eastern wholesale fresh meat markets veal is $1-2 lower; lamb $1-2 higher; mutton weak to $1 lower and pork loins $1-2 higher. June prices good grade meats: Beef $1.50-1.7; veal $1.4-1.8; lamb $2.9-3.1; mutton $1.3-1.7; light pork loins $1.9-2.2; heavy loins $1.5-1.9.

Fruits and Vegetables

South Carolina Irish Cobbler potatoes unsettled at $4-4.50 per cloth top slab barrel; $3.50-3.75 f.o.b. North Carolina and Norfolk Cobbler around $4 in a few markets. Alabama Triumphs firm at $2.50-2.60 sacked per 100 pounds in Chicago, $1.75 f.o.b. Virginia Wakefield cabbage steady in New York and Pittsburgh, slightly weaker elsewhere, selling mostly at $1.50-1.75 per barrel crate; $1-1.10 f.o.b. for branded stock. Georgia peaches and lower May flowers and Uneedas sold at $3-3.50 per six basket carrier in New York; $2-3 elsewhere. Uneedas $1.75-2 at shipping points. Various varieties of strawberries from Delaware and Maryland firm at 10-17 quart basis in eastern cities. New Jersey stock 10-18c quart basis in New York. California cantaloupes weaker. Salmon tints standard 45c closed at $3.50-4 in consuming centers, top of $4.50 in Boston; $1.65-1.85 f.o.b. Florida Tom Watson watermelons, 23-30 pound average, $400-800 bulk per car in New York; 24-30 pounds average $400-650 f.o.b.

Grain

Wheat markets barely steady but undertone firm as government report shows reduction of about 45 million bushels in prospective winter wheat crop since May 1 caused by unfavorable weather conditions. Corn market firm with receipts light and new crop conditions unsatisfactory. Oats market also steady. Quoted June 9: No. 1 dark northern spring Minneapolis $1.13-1.31. No. 2 hard winter Chicago $1.04-1.10. Kansas City 98 1/4c-1.11; St. Louis $1.04-1.06. No. 2 red winter St. Louis $1.09-1.10; Kansas City $1-1.01. No. 2 yellow corn Chicago 79 1/2-80 1/4c; Minneapolis 74 1/2-74 3/4c. No. 3 yellow corn St. Louis 78 1/2-79c Kansas City 82c; Minneapolis 73 1/2-74 1/4c. No. 3 white corn St. Louis 83-83 1/2c; Kansas City 79 1/2c. No. 3 white oats Chicago 50 1/2c; St. Louis 50c; Kansas City 49 1/2c; Minneapolis 46 1/2c.

Hay

Timothy hay markets continue firm for good quality hay but heavy mixtures and low grades very slow sale at almost all markets. Alfalfa and prairie markets inactive. New alfalfa generally of poor quality while demand is principally for dairy hay. Purchases for both alfalfa and prairie only for current needs. Quoted June 7. No. 1 timothy Boston $31.50; New York $32, Pittsburgh $26.50, Cincinnati $24.75, Chicago $27, St. Louis $24.50, Atlanta $30. No. 1 alfalfa Kansas City $24.50, Omaha $20. No. 1 prairie Kansas City $13, Omaha $13.50, St. Louis $17.50, Chicago $19.

Feed
Demand for feedstuffs continues quiet. Wheatfeed market slightly stronger due to restricted offerings. Stocks at lake ports reported large. Curtailed production of linseed meal has caused prices to hold steady. Hominy feed slightly stronger, offerings light. Quoted June 7: Minneapolis spring bran $17.25, Standard middlings $18; 34c linseed meal $38.50. Soft winter wheat bran Cincinnati $23.50, Chicago gluten feed $33.80, yellow hominy feed $29; 86c cottonseed meal Memphis $35.50.

Dairy Products

Butter markets somewhat unsettled and nervous during the week but steady to firm at the close. Stocks cleared fairly well despite fact that many of the trade felt that prices were still too high to make storing a safe investment. Quantities placed in storage represent active movement. Closing prices at Wisconsin primary markets June 7. Single Daisies 18 1/2c; Longhorns 19c; Square Prints 20c.

Cheese markets held steady during the week but trading did not lend active support at prices which prevailed. The result was declines on several styles at Wisconsin cheese boards which met at the close of the week. Closing prices at Wisconsin primary markets June 7. Single Daisies 18 1/2c; Longhorns 19c; Square Prints 20c.

Speaking of Taxes

Taxes of all kinds have come in for pretty thorough consideration this year. We are beginning to realize more clearly how much taxation has added to the cost of living and doing business. Yet it is surprising how few people know that Niagara power, too, is taxed at the source of production.

Out of every dollar that The Niagara Falls Power Company receives for the power it sells, 17 cents go to pay taxes. This operating expense is necessarily a part of the cost of production. In other words, it takes almost one-fifth of the money The Niagara Falls Power Company receives from its customers to pay its taxes.

Despite this fact The Niagara Falls Power Company sells its electricity at the lowest average price received by any generating system on the North American Continent.
