Where Will He Go

A Klansman was very ill. He told his friend he wanted a minister, he was afraid to die.

His friend said: "Why, are you afraid to die, you are a good Klansman?"

"Well," said the Klansman, "I am afraid to die because I don't know where I'm going. Our Lord was a Jew, St. Peter was a Catholic and the Devil is black, so what will they do with me."

HIGHLIGHTS ON STATE CROPS

From New York State Dept. Farms & Markets July 15, 1924.

Fruits and Berries Recover Somewhat

State fruits and berries continue to arrive in liberal supply, says the State Department of Farms & Markets, but not in such excess as was the case last week. As a result, prices are somewhat better. Red sour cherries on Tuesday sold at 35-45c a four quart basket, white sweets at 50-65c, and black sweets at 90c-1.15. The price per quart for red cherries was mostly 8-10c, goose berries 8-15c strawberries 12-16c. Only scattering lots of these last are now coming from the Hudson Valley, an indication that their season is nearing the end. The Tuesday price for red raspberries was 5-12c a pint, and for black caps 8-12c.

State Vegetables Improve

Vegetables from New York state show a similar improvement in tone. Closing prices for peas stood at from $1-1.75 for Madison county bushel baskets and at from $1-1.50 for Erie county. Tow-thirds crates of Orange county celery brot mostly from $3.50-4.50 and bunches from 25c-31. Big Boston lettuce brot from 50c-1.25 per crate and and Romaine from 50c-61.

Live Poultry Lower, Broilers Higher
Altho receipts have been fairly heavy, the demand for live broilers has been so active as to cause an advance of five cents a pound. Fowls with a lesser demand have declined. Closing figures per pound were: colored fowls 23c, leghorns fowls 19-20c, colored broilers 40-43 cents leghorn broilers 34-38c.

"Of course," answered Senator Sorghum.

When Niagara Power Was Transmitted By Ropes

When power was first produced at Niagara Falls, it could be used only directly and on the spot. It was considered a great improvement when ropes and pulleys extended the range a few hundred feet. But when this had been done, the power pioneers were literally, as well as figuratively, at the end of their rope.

Then came the marvelous development of electrical engineering that led to long-distance transmission at high voltages. But even a generation ago a few miles was the limit for economical transmission. When the Niagara, Lockport & Ontario Power Company in 1905 undertook to transmit Niagara power to Syracuse, the project was considered visionary and impracticable and failure was freely prophesied.

Today Syracuse uses twenty-five times as much electric power as it did in 1907. It all comes from Niagara Falls. It is all transmitted by the Niagara, Lockport & Ontario Power Company.
