The Silent Eloquence of Good Furniture

FURNITURE keeps no secrets. It is the voice of the home. It proclaims, with unerring truth, the taste of the owner.

Of course you want your furniture to speak well of you. And its eloquence must spring from quality—the intrinsic worth that expresses and impresses its superiority in unmistakable terms.

We sell furniture that is worthy of your home and you—that has a personal message and permanent meaning for those whose good opinion you esteem.

THE popular gate-leg table of our day was fashioned from the "hundred legged" table brought to America by William Penn.
