

SURE TO ARISE

The old colored preacher said: "Verily I say unto you that whosoever sitteth upon a red-hot stove—shall RISE AGAIN."

That's one sure way to arise, but it has its disadvantages. The sure way to arise, to move forward, to become a success, is to save your money; depositing it regularly in a good bank like ours, and then carefully investing it as it accumulates. The rise may not be so rapid, but it will be a lot more comfortable than by following the darkey's plan.

HOMESPUN YARN

"Flies are filth with wings," suggests one Ohio writer.

Aunt Ada's Axioms: Those who spend little effort in making other persons happy will soon have little to spend.

If the children track the road tar on the best rug, don't scold but remove it by applying turpentine with a clean cloth; or it may be softened with kerosene and taken out with gasoline.

The life of a broom is greatly lengthened if it is always hung up when not in use. A loop of heavy cord thru a hole burned in the handle with a red hot nail, is one way.

Ma Ferguson Has Great Opportunity

Californians have put their state definitely on the map by persistent and united advertising effort. In the newspapers and out of the newspapers by song and story, in public and in private conversation the Californian has thrust into the minds of the American people the glories and advantages of his home land. By the same token and in the same way Florida is rapidly coming into its own.

It has cost a great deal of money and a great deal of personal energy thus to drag these lights from under the bushel and have them so shine before men that the world may know the truth. Texas, known as the he-man state, however, takes the short cut to the center of the stage.

Overnight, Texas has attracted more attention than has been won by her sister states in many a year. While other units plead for attention, Texas jumps into the ring and draws at once to herself the eyes of the entire world, by nominating—and to all intents and purposes electing—a woman to be governor of the commonwealth.

"Ma" Ferguson has a responsibility resting on her shoulders that possibly even the wisest of her sex has yet to realize. Texas is now right in the limelight and will remain so for at least a year. What shall be disclosed in that time will mean much to every business man living under the Lone Star symbol.

The state's resources, its potentiality, its industries, its climate, the will of the people its facilities for life and trade henceforth must stand the acid test. Possible shortcomings can no longer be kept a secret. Texas is on the observation table. It will be well for "Ma" Ferguson to remember this fact. She has the opportunity to justify the entry for her sex into the statecraft and to render immeasurable service to the people if she is not led into the destructive sidepaths by the special Sunday story writer, the camera man and the rest of that ilk that always seeks and measurelessly succeeds in making clowns of men and women who are seriously in public life.

Williams Reunion

The seventh annual Williams reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Williams in Railroad Valley Labor Day, Sept. 1, 1924.

There were sixty present from Binghamton, Lonsbury and Wellsville. At one o'clock they enjoyed a bountiful dinner under the trees on the lawn and a splendid program was rendered. At the business meeting the following officers were elected:

President Elbert Nash
Vice President J. L. Williams
Secretary and Treasurer Helen Cook
Program Mrs. J. L. Williams

None Under 18 Years Can Drive a Car

There seems to be a general misapprehension in regard to the new automobile law concerning the operating of cars by minors under 18 years of age.

According to a letter from the Aetna Casualty and Surety Company the law went into effect July 1st, and absolutely prohibits the operation of an automobile by anyone under 18 years of age whether accompanied by the owner or chauffeur of the car or not.

Many people are under the impression that a minor between the ages of 16 and 18 can operate a car when accompanied by an older person, and many others believe that the new law what ever it is does not go into effect until October 1. Both ideas are erroneous and owners of cars operated by persons under that age are liable in case of accident and the drivers themselves can be arrested whether there is an accident or not.

The organization for the licensing of operators has not yet been completed and it will probably be some time before all the licenses can be granted but that has no bearing on the law which went into effect July 1st.
