OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

FEED PRICES ON DECLINE, SAY COLLEGE SPECIALISTS

All But Barley and Gluten Meal
Have Dropped During Past Month
Because of Good Crops.

Feeds reached a high point early in August, and have since begun to decline, says Prof. H. A. Hopper of the state college of agriculture at Ithaca. As exceptions to this, he cites barley and gluten meal, which have advanced $2.40 and 40 cents a ton, respectively.

An improvement in general crop prospects, with the refusal of eastern dairymen to purchase feeds while they were high and pastures were good, has had its effect on feed prices, Prof. Hopper says.

With the slight decrease in the general average of feed prices in mind, he advises selecting feeds for cheap digestible nutrients. Take them first, he says, from the low-protein feeds and then as cheaply as is consistent with good practice from the high-protein feeds.

Specialists in animal husbandry at college, considering both cost and the varying conditions under which cows have to be fed at this time of year, suggest the following ration: 300 pounds of middlings; 200 pounds each of bran, hominy, and cotton seed meal and 100 pounds of oil meal, with an estimated ton cost of $40.54 at wholesale cap lot price, Utica.

This mixture, with an 18 per cent. digestible protein content, is $2.06 cheaper than a similar mixture would have been last month. Since most herds, they say, will be going from pasture back to silage, the cotton seed meal has been increased, as it is a cheaper source of protein than oil meal. They think that 200 pounds of oil meal and 100 pounds of cotton seed are preferable until silage is fed, especially if farm raised oats or barley are used in place of bran and hominy. Bran and oats are too high to buy now.

Around Our House

Hit or miss methods of meal planning may do very well for summer when the family is getting plenty of fresh air, exercise, garden vegetables and fruits. But when cold weather closes down, the table may not always provide the food and family needs, altho they may find what they like and are accustomed to. This is the time it will be harder to stick to that Golden Rule of good family feeding—two vegetables a day, year in and year out.
Cabbage is plentiful all winter, and we now know that it is loaded with vitamins and iron to keep us well and strong. It is best raw, and finely shredded in slaws and salads, it is quite digestible and wholesome.
When cooking cabbage, leave it uncovered and boil for only twenty minutes, to keep its fresh, white and green color. If possible, save the water and add it to a plate of soup or stew, so that no health-giving mineral may escape the table.

500 Cattle Killed in Fight on Disease

Houston, Tex., Oct. 3.—Five hundred cattle, most of them Brahmas, were shot and killed in one operation near here today as a part of the program of foot and mouth disease eradication.

After the first consignment had been destroyed a second trench was filled with 900 range cattle. A third trench on an adjoining pasture was waiting for approximately 400 cattle the remainder of the infected herds.

Homespun Yarn

There may be more in the way a woman wears a hat than in the hat itself.

Using milk from tuberculin tested cows is not gambling with the children's health.

Aunt Ada's axioms: It is more important to have the family live harmoniously than to have the piano in tune.

When the baked potato is done, prick it with a fork or otherwise break the skin to let the steam escape. No one likes it soggy.

Many people expend in desultory reading time and effort that, wisely directed, would make them masters of epochs and literature.—Hamilton Wright Mabie.

Mixing with folks, old and young, keeps a person young. "Hitching up the flivver" and going visiting in the evening may take some effort, but the relation and sociability are a reward in themselves.

If roaches are troublesome, watch the book shelf as well as the pantry shelf. Roaches like the starch or glue in book binding and cloth covers. Free bulletin H 134 of the state college of agriculture at Ithaca tells how to clean them out; a postcard brings it.

We've finally got our parlor looking almost as nice as those kitchens we see in the magazine ads, remarking.

T. B. ERADICATION NEARLY COMPLETED

Sale Value of Cattle Has Been Increased $200,000.

Allegany County is one of the five counties of the state that have tested all the cattle for tuberculosis.

This means that thirty per cent. of human tuberculosis, caused by drinking T. B. milk will be eliminated.

There remain only two townships in the county to complete the initial testing. They are West Almond and Granger. Work has already been started in these two townships.

Altho this means better health to Allegany County people, it also means $10 to $15 increased value for each animal tested. Seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifteen cattle have received their first test up to the present date of which six out of every hundred are found to be tubercular, 13,360 have received the second test with slightly less than two out of every hundred found to be tubercular. In other words, the sale value of the cattle in this county has increased $200,000 because of this work. Counties in the central part of the state are finding that thirty out of every hundred cattle are tubercular. They are coming to Allegany County for replacements. This situation enables many farmers to raise heifers to maturity with a good profit for their efforts.

However, only large, high producing dairy cattle will be in demand.
The Allegany County Farm Bureau with its farmer members has made this possible. No cattle owner can fail to realize that he can afford to be an active member of this organization which has and will continue to increase his income.

THREE OF 10 HIGH HERDS
OWNED BY SCHUYLER MEN
Monroe County Has Honor of Highest Herd, with Average Production of 62 Pounds of Fat for Month.

According to the latest report of the supervisor of the New York state dairy improvement associations, three of the ten high herds for the month of May were owned in Schuyler county. W. L. Hooghkirk, H. D. Burrell and Kings Grand View Farm were the owners.

Monroe county again claimed the honor of having the highest herd of the ten, however, when George True's herd reported a record of 62 pounds average butterfat production for each cow for the month. A herd from Oneida county, belonging to H. Thomson and son made second place with an average of 46.3 pounds.

A. C. Brown from Saratoga county owned the herd taking third—at an average score of 46 pounds fat, beating out the only Tompkins county herd in the high ten by two-tenths of a pound. Nelson Hopper owned the herd from Tompkins.

Fifth, sixth and seventh places were taken by the Schuyler county men listed above, with respective averages of 44.9, 43.8 and 43.5 pounds. The latter herd had an average milk production of 939 pounds, the only one of the ten to be below 1,100 pounds in milk.

The remaining three places were held by the herds of George Garrod of Madison county, Amos Schrader of Monroe county and H. L.
Eggleston of Lewis county. The averages for these herds were 42.7, 42.6 and 42.3 pounds in the order given.

Efforts are being made by all the extension men of the state college of agriculture to encourage the growth of these associations.

They say an ear in the shack is worth three in the shock. It'll be truer this year than ever before, according to reports from the west on seed corn.

Old crank case oil from the flivver or the tractor applied to the hogs, either from a rubbing post covered with oil-soaked burlap or sprayed on, helps to keep down lice and mange mites.

"An hour a day makes studying pay." That's the slogan of the New York farmers who are taking the free correspondence courses from the state college of agriculture at Ithaca. Ask about them on a postcard.

AFTER THE PASTERS

State Motor Vehicle Bureau
Threatens to Take Away Licence for Violations.

Albany, Oct. 8.—To make effective his recent ruling that all pasters which interfere with the vision of motor vehicle operators must be removed from windshields of automobiles in New York state, Charles A. Harnett, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, has sent the following communication to all police chiefs, to Major A. Warner, Superintendent of State Police, and all police officials of the state:

"A few days ago I made a ruling to the effect that all pasters be removed from windshields of automobiles in this state.

"The reason for my ruling is that pasters prevent one hundred per cent. vision of the operator and one hundred per cent. vision is absolutely necessary in driving a car.

"Will you please co-operate with this bureau and instruct all officers of your department to warn operators of this ruling and that licenses may be suspended for a continuation of this practice."

gratification this encouraging statement by an Andover man:

W. F. Snyder, sup't. dairy, 42 Dyke street, says: "A cold started kidney trouble and I had a steady, nagging pain in my back. When I stooped, sharp, knife-like pains across my kidneys made it hard to straighten. Mornings when I got up I felt lame and stiff all over. My kidneys became disordered and had me up several times during the night. A friend recommended Doan's Pills and they were the only thing that gave me relief. I have had no trouble since and give Doan's the credit for the cure."
