

PUTTING STEAM ON

JUST to plod along isn't enough now-a-days. There are too many fellows indifferent about getting anywhere. It's the fellow that puts the steam on that gets there. Start that bank account, and then keep steam up; it will not be long until you will be over the hill where the going will be much easier.

A bank book is ready for you here.

Tidbits From Our School

Senior Entertainment
Last Thursday evening from 7 to 9:30, the Seniors gave a Halloween party in the High School gym which was a grand success in every way. An enjoyable program was given including the Palmer Minstrel, negroes from the wilds of Africa, a reading by a live ghost, along with other ghost stories and a "coon" dance by the negroes.
After the program the Seniors sold doughnuts and cider, candy and grab packages.
Monday evening the Juniors held a party at the High School. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all.

Arm bands and neckties in the school colors are being sold by the Seniors. "Get yours while they last."!!!!

Jokes
Leap Year Proposals
Helen: "How would you like to go thru 'Life' with me?"
Lenford: "I'd love to!"
Everybody, especially the boys, like to go to "gym" now.

We notice that Gertrude has started house-keeping already.
When I am dead and in my grave, No more, candy will I crave, But on my tombstone have this wrote That many a bite went down my throat.

League's November Milk Price
The producers' November price for Class 1 milk for city distribution is $3.07 per 100 pounds (3 per cent. butterfat) at the 201-210 mile circle zone. This is an increase of one cent per quart over the October price. The schedule of prices for November milk in the remaining classes follows:
Class 2-A (milk for cream) $1.90, plus skim milk value; Class 2-B (plain, condensed and ice cream) $2.05; Class 3-A (evaporated, sweetened condensed) $1.60; Class 3-B (milk powder and hard cheeses, other than American) $1.55; Class 4-A (butter) and Class 4-B (American cheese) determined by average wholesale price during November of butter and cheese respectively.

We guarantee our job printing to please.

Rude Rural Rhymes

Drafted
Our house had company galore the evening of the day before. We fed them well for Hannah bulled a noble cake with frosting gilded, and friends, away from home somewhere, had left their strawberries in our care. Next morning Jim desired to know, "Where did the dirty dishes go?" "Last night," said I, "we washed them good, I helped your mother all I could." Jim said, surprised I took the task, "Did you just go or did she ask?" Whereat my wife was much delighted—to tell the truth I'd been invited. Sure, you may laugh and crack a snort, but I'm no worse than you at that. In city, country, county, village are fields of life in need of tillage. Some towns have schools that they've forgotten and some have streets with paving rotten. Our land has use for you and me to make her what she ought to be. But we alas still stop our ears to every call for volunteers. Some folks won't even vote and yet they cuss the officers they get. It takes a lot of husky shoving to keep the car of progress moving. She'd do a lot of fancy gliding if some would push who now are riding. But even if you keep your seat, for Pete's sake cease to drag your feet.
