V/E hear a lot about the good old V days when Grandmother won her reputation as a housekeeper.

We wonder whether they were so good-for Grandmother or any one else? She certainly earned her reputation — and earned it hard. In clouds of dust. By hard manual labor. Amid those heart-rending domestic earthquakes once known as "spring-house-cleaning."

With modern electric equipment, Granddaughter today easilý and quickly keeps her home in a spotless, shining cleanliness that would have been the despair of Grandmother at her best!
