End-of-the-Year Clearance IAIS AND DKESSES

Our object is to clear out every Winter Coat and Fall Dress. It's only good business, of course, and we are willing to take big losses in order to acaccomplish it. For months before the snow disappears and the robins return. we must prepare for Spring.

On the other hand, it's also good business for the knowing woman to take advantage of these savings. For it will be several months before she must prepare for Spring and in the case of a Coat she would wear it again next Winter, whether she bought it now or last Fall.

Our customers know that when we quote comparative prices, the former price represents the exact price for which the garment was intended to sell. Thus they know exactly what they are saving by buying now.
