Service Clubs

▲ NDOVER men took a decided step in the right direction last Thursday evening at the time of their February Service Club dinner. This is the second these enjoyable affairs and was attended by nearly 50 Andover men. It was decided to hold their meeting overworked. on the second Thursday afternoon of each month. Harold Heximer of Buffalo and George Bartholomew of Cuba, both from the Buffalo, Niagara & Eastern Power Co., were the speakers and gave the men very interesting talks, pertaining to that industry. The outline of Mr. Heximer's address was printed in last week's Andover News.

The Service Club luncheon idea has developed thruout the county until it is becoming a source good in each community where they are formed. While) it was thought inadvisable to try to organize in Andover officially with one of the nationally organized clubs, such as Rotary, Kawinas or Lion Clubs, at present, many of their features have been adopted by the local organization and it may eventually identify with the body cells. one of the national organizations.

This is a day of co-operation, not competition, always contributes to better feelings and better business. Men get to know that the other fellow is not as to release scarcely any energy, yet they lived for half so bad as he is sometimes painted when they meet Fears with sufficient blood circulation. in this informal friendly manner, stretching their legs under the same table.

If this, new movement in Andover continues successful, it will do much to advance all Andover interests. The need is great, and the workers will be many if the Community Service Club of Andover continues of "machinery." to function in the manner it has started.
