A large number of the committeemen and families of the county Farm Bureau will gather from all parts of Allegany county for a picnic at the Friendship Island Park on Friday, July 6. This is the second picnic of this kind and is planned as an annual affair. The first picnic was held at Camp lation of Associational Shenawanna, the Y.M.C.A. Camp on the Genesee River in 1926. Dr. Earl A. Bates, advisor in Indian extension at Cornell University gave a review of the Indian history of Allegany county. So great was the popularity of this gathering that those who were there and those who could not be there have asked the Address, Rev. W. L. Burdick directors of the Farm Bureau to have another picnic this year.
