Grocer: "Would you like some wax beans?"
Sweet Young Bride: "Nix on your lousy imitations. I want real ones."

1,000-2,000

Use any figure you wish, put all the ciphers either side of it you please and when you get all thru the 10 cents you pay for a roll of Lion Toilet Paper has bought more service than you can purchase anywhere for the same amount of money.

Lion Toilet is put up in a compact uniform roll; it is patent perforated, it tears easily, evenly and leaves no litter; it is strong, even-colored and also chemically treated so that it completely dissolves and will not clog drain pipes or cess pools.

You may not know it but if you are using Lion Toilet Paper, you have probably saved enough on plumbing bills to pay for all the toilet paper you have ever used—there has been many plugged sewers and cess pools but so far as we know, not where the toilet paper used was Lion.

Opening up slow drains is a filthy, expensive job. Don't ask for it by using haphazard toilet paper. Use Lion always.

Barbed Wire

The market price is lower, you will be able to fix fences at the lowest price in many years.

Tidex Oil

Just what your car, truck or tractor requires to run cool and avoid excessive wear. Two gallon cans, $1.00, tax paid. It gives service and satisfaction.

Poultry Wire

We shall be showing a new and better netting this season, the first real improvement in 30 years.

Sheep-lined Coats

Plenty of cold days between now and the first of June, and a warm coat at our close-out prices is worth your time. Come on in, let's haggle about the price.

Bicycle Tires

New stock, new price, and a real good tire. They will sell regularly at $1.19 but over the week-end you may buy them for 89c each. Friday and Saturday are special days.

Earth gets its price for what earth gives us—Lowell.

Beechnut Coffee

That is the whole story. Now selling regularly at 32c a pound. If you have a taste for fine coffee, Beechnut will cater to that taste and render it more sensitive. If you have no particular coffee taste, just any old bean will do, try Beechnut for a few months—cultivate a taste and see what a heap of contentment and satisfaction may be obtained from a cup of really good coffee.

If you pay more than the Beechnut price you are simply throwing away money, because no amount will buy more coffee value; if you pay less you are missing a real treat that you may have for nothing more than an exercise of your good judgment.

The next time you need coffee, think Beechnut and buy accordingly or better yet—take home a can and have it all ready.

Better Plow Points

The Oliver Plow Co., always leaders in quality farm machinery, have now gone one better and endowed Oliver Plow Shares with character and distinction.

This new point is bright red in color, with the cutting edge and suction tip finished with a silver enamel. They carry the Oliver trade mark on the face, are cast from high grade new foundry iron, chilled deeper than before and each share is made true to a template with every bolt hole in its proper exact position.

The shares will turn more furrow, wear sharper and withstand more abuse without breaking than any point Oliver ever offered. When you buy, be sure and get the genuine, it costs less and will give double service.

Buy America

A great and good slogan, your response to its ideal measures, your patriotism. Good times will not return so long as we supply ourselves with merchandise made in Central Europe and the Far East.

Toilet Paper

Lion Brand is still the best and the cheapest. Full count, patent perforator, tough and strong, but soft as velvet—10c.

"What are you doing these days, Ole?"

"I bane a snake in a roundhouse."

"What's that?"

"A viper."

On the average German workers eat 24 bushels of potatoes to the person a year; the worker in the United States eats about three bushels of potatoes a year.

BRUCE BARTON

Writer of "THE MASTER EXECUTIVE"

Supplying a well-earned reputation for the heavy burdened who will find every human trial paralleled in the experience of "The Man Nobody Knows."

A CONCEPTION OF GOD

In Jesus' great acts of courage he was the successor, and the surpasser, of all the prophets who had gone before. We have spoken of the prophets as deficient in humor; but what they lacked in the amenities of life they made up richly in vision. Each one of them brought to the world a revolutionary idea, and we cannot understand truly the significance of the work of Jesus unless we remember that he began where they left off, building on the firm foundations they had laid.

Let us glance at them a moment, starting with Moses. What a miracle he wrought in the thinking of his race! The world was full of gods in his day—male gods, female gods, wooden and iron gods—it was a poverty-stricken tribe which could not boast of a hundred at least. Along came Moses with one of the transcendent intellects of history. "There is one God," he cried. What an overwhelming idea and how magnificent its consequences.

Moses died and the nation carried on under the momentum which he had given it, until there arose Amos, a worthy successor.

"There is one God," Moses had said. "God is a God of justice," added Amos.

That assertion is such an elementary part of our consciousness that we are almost shocked by the suggestion that it could ever have been new. But remember the gods that were current in Amos's day if you would have a true measure of the importance of his contribution. It was the high privilege of Amos to proclaim a God who could not be bought whose ears were deaf to pleadings in judgment between the strong and weak, the rich and poor.

Years passed and Hosea spoke. His had not been a happy life. His wife deserted him; heartbroken and vengeful he was, determined to cast her off forever. Yet his love would not let him do it. He went to her, forgave her, and took her back.

Then in his hours of lonely brooding a great thought came to him! If he, a mere man could love so unselfishly one who had broken faith with him, must not God be capable of as great, or greater forgiveness, toward erring human beings?—a God so strong that he could destroy, yet so tender that he would not.

One God. A just God. A good God.

These were the three steps in the development of the greatest of all ideas. Hundreds of generations have died since the days of Moses, of Amos and Hosea. The thought of the world on almost every other subject has changed; but the conception of God which these three achieved has remained in control of men's thinking down to this very hour.

About a million and a half acres of Grand Prize, Jones Winter Fife, Red Wave, and Prosperity wheats, developed by A. N. Jones of LeRoy, were grown in New York State in 1920. These are largely replaced by Honor, Valprize, Forward and Junior No. 6.
