Alfred University

(Special to Andover News)

Alfred.—The Friends of Music, a group of town people, and faculty members of Alfred University, who are working under the direction of Mrs. S. R. Scholes, are preparing a program of songs for public presentation on April 9th, Alumni Hall at 8 o'clock. Instrumental music will be furnished by the Seidl ensemble. Just before Christmas of this winter this same group gave a premier performance to a very appreciative audience.

Alfred University was represented by four men at the track meet this past week at Hamilton, Ont. It is a yearly meet being sponsored this year by the 91st Highlanders. Each of the Alfred contestants placed fourth: Jay Bykind, Spring Valley, 60 yard; William Henning, Ridgewood, N. J., 300 yards; Eric Hodges, Syracuse, 60 yard novice; Bernard Oldfield, Buffalo, 1,000 yards.

Miss Edith Phillips, Portville, will offer an organ recital on Wednesday evening March 29 at 8:15 in the First Alfred church. Miss Phillips who is a student in the University department of music under Prof. Ray W. Wingate, thrilled her audience by her rendition of the accompaniment to The Messiah in the Christmas concert this winter.

warrior. I ain't one myself and I think all the better of him for it. "Turn over a couple of leaves. That's General Jackson. My father shook hands with him once. He was a fighter, I know. He fit down in New Orleans. Broke up the rebel legislature, and then when the Ku Klux got after him he fought 'em behind cotton breast-works and licked 'em till they couldn't stand. They say he was terrific when he got real mad—hit straight from the shoulder, and fetched his man every time. 'Andrew his first name was, and look how his hair stands up. "And then here's John Adams and Daniel Bone, and two or three pirates and a whole lot more pictures; so you see it's cheap as dirt. "Lemme have your name won't you?" —A-H-S—

THE BOOK CANVASSER (Continued from Last Week)

"Let see, who have we next? Oh, Franklin, Benjamin Franklin! He was one of the old original pioneers, I think. I disremember exactly what he is celebrated for, but I think it was a flying—oh, yes, flying a kite, that's it. The publisher mentioned it. He was out one day flying a kite, you know, like boys do nowadays, and while she was a-flickering up in the sky, and he was given her more string, an apple fell off a tree and hit him on the head; then he discovered the attraction of gravitation, I think they call it. Smart, wasn't it? Now, if you or me'd a ben hit, it's just made us mad, like as not, and set us a ravin'. But men are so different. One man's meat's another man's pizen. See what a double chin he's got. No board on him either, tho' a goatee would have been becoming to such a round face. He hasn't got a sword, and I reckon he was no soldier; fit some when he was a boy, maybe, but went out with the home guard, but not a regular
