Crooks Have New Game

Business men in Allegany county are warned against swindlers with a new form of an old trick. The "prospect" receives a letter asking if he wants to sell his business. An agent later calls upon him and assures him that his company will be able to dispose of his plant at a 10 per cent. commission. The agent then offers him a contract to sign which he says is an agreement to pay the commission. Just then another salesman rushes in and exclaims they must leave for another town at once to close a big deal. So, if the victim neglects to take time to read all the fine type in the contract, it is only after he has signed it and the men have gone that he discovers it provides that a cash fee of $500 is due on listing the property, with a clause as tight as a judgment note.

Elizabeth Fuller In Auto Accident

Miss Elizabeth Fuller of this village, in company with Mrs. Phil S. Coats and daughter, Miss Doris Coats of Whitesville, had a fortunate escape from serious injury when a sedan in which they were riding from Wellsville to Alfred, where Misses Fuller and Coats are students, skidded on the Elm Valley-Alfred road, turned over three times and landed in the ditch on its wheels. Mrs. Coats had her face and lip badly lacerated. The young ladies escaped with bruises.

Return of Prosperity Seen by Big Concern

Proctor & Gamble, soap manufacturers, announce the beginning of a $3,000,000 advertising campaign mainly thru newspapers, because the concern believes the road to prosperity is open and because of the "way the American public has rallied behind the courage and frankness of the president."

Dexter M. White, superintendent of highways, town of Bath, has been appointed to the Committee on Highways, of the Association of Towns of New York State. Would Restore Abandoned Towns

The abandoned farm, resorted to in time of economic stress, has been found to afford food, shelter and a satisfactory measure of independence, and now a test is being initiated to see whether the same will not be true of the abandoned town.

A deserted lumber community in Mississippi is to be taken over by a selected group of families along with 23,000 surrounding acres containing approximately 16,000,000 feet of timber. Its name, Zama, is to be changed, appropriately, to Goodwill. As its contribution to this venture in group rehabilitation, a lumber company is literally donating the "key to the city."—Monitor.
