MR. HARRY FISH

ADDRESSES ASSEMBLY

Talks on Travels and World's Fair

Mr. Harry Fish talked to the assembled high school and the seventh and eighth grades about two interesting subjects, his experiences in the East Indies and the World's Fair in Chicago next summer. This program took place last Friday, April 7.

Mr. Fish, who is now residing in Greenwood, N. Y., is a civil engineer who was formerly employed in the East Indies, constructing roads in the jungles of these islands. He related stories of the superstitious natives, described the climate and habits of life of the people, and told amusing incidents of the time he spent in Borneo, Sumatra and Dutch Guinea.

The second part of Mr. Fish's address concerned the coming World's Fair in Chicago, next summer. Mr. Fish described the great advantage of going to Chicago for a vacation next summer to see this wonderful exposition. He explained that he and his wife are taking a bus load from this state to the World's Fair. If anyone is interested in going, they may obtain more information about the trip from Mr. Hardy.

OUTLOOK FOR TRACK

Team Lacks Material—First Meet April 29th.

The outlook for track is not very bright. With only five lettermen back and with no one in the dashes who have had much experience the Andover High School track team needs bolstering.

In the dashes there is Robert Spicer, who was a letter man in the 1931 season, but who did not run last year and "Male" Brundage and "Deke" Clarke. In the 220 there are the same men. Clarke is the only man in the 440 but it is expected that he will take care of it in good shape. In the 880 there is Don Lynch, who was a surprise last year and who is expected to come thru in good shape this year. In the mile and hurdles there is no men who have had any experience.

In the high jump Andover has its best performers. There are Jim Cannon, John Cannon, Rob Scott, Howard McAndrew and Malc Brundage, who have all gone over five feet. In the discus Jim Cannon is expected to crash thru as is Eddie Brewster in the shot.

In the pole vault there is only Malc Brundage, who has gone up to ten and a half feet and who is expected to repeat this year. In the rest of the events the men are untried but with more practice they may come along and show some stuff.

The first meet will be the dual meet with Wellsville and Canisteo at Wellsville on April 29 and for which men are being groomed.

There will be no paper next week. The staff will all have the week off with pay. It is hoped that by the time school starts again that every one will have new ideas and more ambition.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Introduction to the Principal Characters of the "Count and Co-Ed."

Birdie Boggs, a sweet and simple freshman girl, is none other than Veronica O'Hagan. Her favorite expression is "Oh, isn't that just wonderful."

Pauline Gath, the bright and efficient Junior of Marden College is known as Amy Arnold.

Dolly McSpadden, or Margaret Powers, daughter of the College President, is madly in love with Snooze. Does Snooze marry Dolly?

Ruth Farwell plays the part of Miss Agatha Lockstep, as house-mother at the girls' dormitory. Her strict jurisdiction sure does make the girls step lively.

Dr. Cicero McSpadden, the President of Marden College is Edward Brewster. His mind is occupied to an extreme with the financial problem of the college, the troublesome Snooze Andrews and his daughter, Dolly.

Dorothy Oakes, the wife of the College President, proves to be very helpful to her husband.

The two freshmen, Willie Carter and Birdie Boggs, have a good time all by themselves. Wisner (Sleepy) knows his stuff.

James Mulholland, leader of college yells, is a friend in need. At least Snooze thinks so.

The leader of the Glee Club, Hamilton Hunter, has his cap all set—for Marjorie, the belle of the campus. We are all wondering how Malcolm's love affair with Mary Monica will turn out.

Kenneth (Snooze) Andrews, better known as Max Baker, is quite a guy—constantly getting into scrapes, and losing the good friendship of the College President. How does he manage to free himself from his final scrap, with Dan Flanagan, the motor cop at his heels? Does he win the good terms of the President and does he marry his daughter, Dolly?

You can become better acquainted with these characters only by seeing and hearing, April 28 and 29, at 8:15 in the High School Auditorium—"THE COUNT AND THE CO-ED," by Morgan and O'Hara.

FIRST GRADE TOY EXHIBITION

The first graders brought their favorite toys to school Friday afternoon, April 7th. Dolls, tops, wagons, boxing gloves, roller skates, trucks and footballs were in display. The second and third grades were invited to see the display.

HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

The High School and the Seventh and Eighth Grades were entertained at an assembly Wednesday morning, April 12, put on under Miss Clifford's direction.

"Eyes of the Blind,"

"Pale Moon," Margaret Powers Orchestra

"Lena Chooses a Hat," Ruth Farwell

EASTER PARTY IN

SEVENTH GRADE

During the month of March there was a mathematics contest in the Seventh Grade. At the end of the month it was discovered that "Silver King" had beaten "Black Beauty," in the race by 210 points. This Wednesday afternoon the losing side treated the winning side to a party in which games, stunts and refreshments were enjoyed.

SCOUT'S DAY NEXT

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

The Scout Movement in Andover Depends on These Two Days.

Whether or not Andover has a Scout Troop depends on what you, the people of Andover do next Thursday and Friday. Whether you say "No, I guess I can't help you," or whether you say, "Why yes, I'll help the boys of Andover."

What is a boy's heart worth? What would you give for a boy's heart to do with as you pleased? Would it mean anything to you to plant there the things you wish were in your own? If you could live your own life over, would you let the same things in, or would you keep some out, in their stead plant others of fairer bloom? You can help make a boy's heart lighter by just doing your share next Thursday and Friday.

Here is the oath that each Scout must take before he becomes a Boy Scout:

On my honor I will do my best—

1. To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout Law.

2. To help other people at all times.

3. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight.

What better oath could a boy of 12 take than this one?

Next Thursday or Friday, when you are asked to assist in making the Scout movement a success, say to yourself, before you give your answer: "If I had my life to live over, would I let the same things in or would I keep some out and in their stead plant others of fairer bloom?"

SPY STILL MISSING!

Homes Has Hairbreadth Happening Assassination Attempted.

There has been a few new developments in the case up to now, but nothing so far has indicated what has become of the Spy, who disappeared after his party a couple of weeks ago. Detective Surelock Homes has been sniffing around and he has reported that of the guests Jimmie C. and Helen V. seem the most suspicious but they both have perfect alibis. They say that they were together after the party, so neither could have done the kidnapping. Ruth F., another of the Spy's old favorites said that Eddie A. wouldn't let her kidnap the Spy. This is her perfect alibi.

A black leather calling card case with the Spy's maiden name on it was also found on 42nd Street. This case solved the mystery of who the Spy really is but it has helped little in the actual solution of the crime. The most startling occurrence thus far in this mystery was an attempted assassination on the famous sleuth, Surelock Homes. While Surelock was walking about our village last Tuesday night, racking his brains for a solution of the baffling disappearance of the Spy, a blue Essex coach drove up to the curb and a window was rolled down.

Surelock stopped, expecting some one to hail him. But suddenly, from the black interior of the car, came hurtling a sizzling object, which landed directly at Surelock's feet. Surelock dove over a hedge and just in the nick of time, for suddenly the air was rent with a tremendous explosion which took Surelock's breath away for some time. Surelock, not to be daunted by violent threats of death, immediately rose to his feet and flashed his trusty flashlight upon the fast-disappearing car. His flashlight illuminated the rear license plate and his great eyesight in that brief instant detected the number. The number was 4-H-805 and anyone knowing the whereabouts of a blue Essex coach bearing that number is requested to immediately get in touch with our sleuth, Surelock Homes.

GIRLS' SQUAD PARTY

Cup Awarded to Flying Colors

The girls' basketball squad, varsity and inter-scholastic teams, officially ended the basketball season with a cream party at John Karcanes' ice cream parlor Tuesday night, April 11th. Thirty-eight girls, including Coach McLaughlin and Manager Oakes attended the party.

The time set for the party was 9 o'clock. After the treat, the toasts and speeches began. Leah Oakes presided as toastmistress.

The captains of each inter-scholastic gave a brief talk.

Jessamine Briggs—Flying Colors.

Caroline Dolan—Leaping Lenas.

Beatrice Kruger—Spirit of '76.

Ida Mae Howland—Pep.

Virginia Whitney—Calamity Jane.

Rita Burns, responding to a toast gave a few points in favor of having regular inter-class basketball.

Anna Dean demonstrated the advantage of having teams appointed by the coach, in order to have them more evenly matched.

Ruth Farwell told the squad how she, as a spectator, enjoys basketball games.

The manager of the varsity team told a short story of sportsmanship to the squad.

Coach McLaughlin concluded the program by presenting an engraved cup to the championship team for 1933, the Flying Colors, captained by Jessamine Briggs.

LITERARY DEPARTMENT

The Two Suitors

Once on a time there was a charming young maiden who had two suitors.

One of these, who was of a persistent and persevering nature, managed to be continually in the young lady's company.

He payed her a visit in the morning, dropped in for tea in the afternoon, and called on her again in the evening.

He took her driving and he escorted her to the theatre. He took her to a party and then he would dance, or sit on the stairs, or flit into the conservatory with her.

The young lady admired this man but she wearied of his never-ceasing presence, and she said to herself: "If he were not always at my elbow I should better appreciate his good qualities."

The other suitor, who considered himself a man of deep and penetrating cleverness, said to himself: "I will go away for a time, and then my fair one will realize my worth and call me back to her."

With a sad visage he made his adieu, and he exacted her pledge to write to him occasionally. But after he had gone she forgot her promise and soon she forgot his very existence.

Moral—This fable teaches that absence makes the heart grow fonder—and that out of sight is out of mind.

GIRLS' INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

Team A Winners of Season

The championship games between the winning teams A, D and C were played off at the high school auditorium Saturday afternoon, April 8. Each team displayed skilled cooperation and the scores were very close.

The results of the afternoon were: Team C lost to Team A.

Team D lost to Team A.

This makes Team A (Flying colors) the champion league players.

A cup will be awarded to the team.

The high scorers for the season were: A. Dean, 61; R. Church, 31; M. Swartz, 31; F. Karcanes 28.

SCOUTING FOR BOYS

What Benefits Do Boys Receive From Scouting?

Scouting, as a modern art is of American origin. It is one of the largest boys' organizations of the present day. The intention of scouting is to promote the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train them in scout craft and to teach them patriotism, courage, self reliance, and kindred virtues. When boys reach the age of 12 they need good companionship. It is at this age that their tendencies of forming habits begins to develop. If boys have good companions, good leaders, higher ideals they certainly will form good habits.

In scouting a boy mingles with good companions of his own age, he has good teachers and he is taught higher ideals. The scout code teaches boys to exert such qualities as trustworthiness, loyalty, courtesy, kindness, obedience and thrift.

This boy scout movement is non-sectarian and without military or political connection. The Boy Scouts co-operate with the Forestry Department in fighting and preventing forest fires, and in conserving wild life, trees and plants. They also work with the Red Cross and other organizations and aid in various local campaigns.

What better way could a boy of 12 years of age to 18 spend his time than being a Boy Scout and belonging to this great organization with all of its training and development of character?

Will Andover have a Boy Scout troop?

We have not had a boys' organization in this town for years and now is the chance if the people will co-operate with the American Legion in raising sufficient funds for the organization of Boy Scouts in Andover!

THE LAZY TROUT

Great white clouds in many shapes and sizes were drifting beyond the hill above the village. The warm spring rains had awakened the grass from its winter sleep and the council ground wore a fresh blanket of yellow-green.

In the cleared land beyond the village, the farmers were placing small sticks in the hollows where the water stood, for they must be drained and filled with earth before the three sisters—corn, beans and squash could be planted.

In the bark cabins, the women and the boys were busy placing the corn kernels in wet moss held between two pieces of bark, for it was useless to plant the seed if it was not first tested to see if it would grow.

Down by the winding stream, the waters leaped over the stones; in the pool the lazy old trout swam low and slow.

Grandmother and the girls had wandered far down the woodland trail to see the skunk cabbage rise above the low land, and on the nearby hillsides they had picked trilliums and bloodroots.

Coming to the water's edge to rest one of the girls asked grandmother why the trout did not come to the top so that they could see the rainbow on its side. Wise old grandmother plucked a willow bud and taking off its winter coat she threw the greenish yellow bud on the water.

In a flash, the trout rose to the surface and the children saw its rainbow.

One of the girls asked grandmother why he did not come up before.

To this she replied: "You do not climb the apple tree unless you see the ripe apples in the branches."

THE GREAT SHIP SEANBEE IS SCHEDULED FOR WORLD FAIR CRUISES

Largest Passenger Boat on Great Lakes Offers Luxurious Accommodations to, From, and at the Fair.

The biggest event that America looks forward to this year is Chicago's great World Fair, "A Century of Progress." And what is more natural or logical than to make the trip there and back in the most delightful and advantageous way possible?

To this desirable end P. J. Swartz, General Manager of the Cleveland and Buffalo Transit Company announces a series of cruises on the palatial steamer SEANBEE, the largest and finest passenger ship on the Great Lakes. Not only do the fortunate voyagers enjoy the luxury of water travel to and from the Fair, but during the time in Chicago the great ship is their floating hotel.

No scurrying for accommodations, no transferring of baggage, no worries with street cars, taxicabs or any other of the many annoyances that other travelers must endure.

The vacation-minded public will regard this as a most ideal combination—truly an event of a lifetime. For sheer comfort, complete freedom from all worry and responsibility, for constant change of scenic beauty on the great historic inland seas and for uninterrupted programs of dancing, music, games, sports and entertainments—nothing to equal these cruises has ever been arranged.

Of course, everybody cannot go on one trip. Even the greatest passenger steamer on the lakes isn't big enough for that, so three of these cruises have been planned—one early in June, the second during mid-summer and the third during the latter part of August and the first part of September.

Those who participate in these cruises embark at either Buffalo or Cleveland. The trip includes daylight passage thru that magnificent waterway, the Detroit River, with a mile after mile view of the great Michigan metropolis and beautiful Belle Isle Park, thru the far famed St. Clair Flats, the hunting and fishing paradise of America. After a night ride over the peaceful waters of Lake Huron the passengers will be privileged to spend a delightful four hours at Mackinac Island, renowned for its scenic beauty and historic interest.

Another night ride down Lake Michigan will bring a morning vision of Chicago's splendid skyline. Two whole days will be spent in Chicago, giving ample time to visit the multitudinous attractions of the miracle city, "A Century of Progress," down on the lake front. Passengers on the cruise are privileged to sleep and take their meals aboard the steamer without additional charge.

The trip back repeats the pleasures of the Fair-bound trip. The great ship SEANBEE has sleeping accommodations for over a thousand persons. The many spacious decks and promenades, the parlors, lounges and sunrooms, ball room all combine to provide for a variety of pleasure and entertainment that will suit every taste and inclination.

These SEANBEE World's Fair cruises are planned so that one very low rate fare covers every item of expense, transportation, staterooms, meals, entertainment, side trips and admission to the World's Fair itself. It is certain that of the millions who will attend the World's Fair this summer none will do so under more favorable and enjoyable circumstances than those who are privileged to go by these SEANBEE all-expense cruises.

In addition to the open cruise many national organizations are preparing special chartered SEANBEE cruises of their own.
