Declares Beer Law Not Constitutional

Greeley, Colo., May 12.—Sweeping aside the opinions of some of the ablest constitutional lawyers in congress, who aided in drafting the 3.2 per cent. beer bill, District Judge Claude C. Coffin has declared its passage in violation of the Constitution. In his decision yesterday which denied the Greeley Elks Club and Fred N. Fetch, cafe owner, a writ of mandamus which they sought to compel the Greeley city council to issue beer permits, Judge Coffin said the congressional declaration that

3.2 beer is non-intoxicating is contrary to the "general known physical facts." Fetch said he may appeal the decision immediately to the state supreme court and possibly to the federal courts. "Congress, by legislative action, might state that gasoline is non-inflammable, but that does not keep it from burning," the judge said. "I think that not only the state beer law but the act of Congress legalizing 3.2 beer is an attempted evasion of the 18th amendment and hence unconstitutional and invalid."
