Not Guilty

Workhouse Keeper: "Have you taken a bath this morning?"
Tramp: "No, sir. Is there one missing?"

Good Old Days

You recall when buying a suit, a pair of gorgeous suspenders at no charge were invariably a part of the deal, when the newly married couple bought the cooking stove the bride could always count on a few shiny pieces of kitchen ware also free. The grocer also very obligingly lived up to his opportunity with a free bag of gum drops or peppermints when we paid the weekly or monthly grocery bill.

Every line of business had developed its customs in this regard and they were as institutional and as necessary as the Saturday night bath or a clean shirt on Sunday.

Then along came the war, the hectic years of 1920 and after, when all these old traditions were swept away and now too late we realize what a tremendous amount of other worth while contacts went with them as we ponder and try to see our way out of the snarl of present economic conditions we must realize that what we need for a trade revival is not more banking laws, more farm relief bills, or a program of public works, but a constitutional amendment that will make mandatory free tin ware, free weekly sacks of candy, free socks and free suspenders.

Particularly suspenders! "There is nothing which buoy up a man's soul, puts confidence into his heart, and fellowships his hand clasp quite so effectively as a springy pair of new suspenders." Let's go back 20 years and begin over!

Not Mileage

Some cars are old at ten thousand miles, others are young at 50 thousand and the difference is all accounted for by the care they have received.

The attention you give to the exterior finish of your car has much to do with its youthful appearance. As little as $1.00 per year invested in SIMONIZ and used with intelligence will keep your automobile in a condition that will extend the pride of new car ownership over many miles and many seasons. Nothing compares with Simoniz for the retaining that new car finish or ease of keeping it.

Cleaner or Polish now reduced to 33c for a large fresh package.

Price the Same

But when you open the new box of that lock-tite, self vulcanizing Tire Patch you will find a sheet of that material one-fourth larger than ever before. This patch is also handy for many uses around the home and will save its cost ten times over.

We carry two sizes of tubes, they are the same as formerly, sold for 25 cents and one dollar, but are now available at 10 and 29 cents. Look in your tool box—if you are out or getting low don't forget a new box the next time you come to town.

Be sure also that you are supplied with blow-out Patches. Casings have a habit of blowing at most unexpected and inconvenient places. With a tube of Lock Tite and a Patch you can fix up and be on your way in a jiffy or any way you won't be stuck very long.

Wrecking Bars

Just about the most handy and useful tool ever put on the market and as tools go, quite a recent addition to the tool line.

We could never quite understand why they were sold so cheaply, made of octagon tool steel with a pinch point on one end, a long curve and a thin claw on the other—requires considerable forging, but lay a bar of any size on the scales, figure its price by the pound and you will find it is less than you would pay for the straight bar of steel before a hammer had ever touched it and we have no satisfactory answer. Why?

We stock Wrecking Bars 12 to 36 inches long and they sell from 10c up. Not very far up either, for even the largest one.

Dic-A-Doo

Spread it on—Wipe it off! Preserves a new clean surface that looks as tho the paint or varnish was just from the brush.

A package to suit your need, a big job or a little one and best of all—inexpensive.

Tidex

That good Oil for motors, made by Tide Water, blood brother to Tydol-Veedol.

Sealed two-gallon cans $1.00, tax paid.

Rubbing Alcohol

Fancy pint bottles, a treat to splash yourself after a hard day's work but a quarter.
