

Andover Pays Tribute to Its Deceased Veterans

Rev. W. L. Greene, Speaker of the Day, Stressed the Changed Attitude of Thought Regarding War.—If You Prepare for War You Will Get War.

The memorial services Sunday evening at the Methodist Episcopal church were well attended. Comrade John W. Deming, members of Edward Seaman W. R. C., the American Legion and Auxiliary attending in a body.

The church was beautiful in a wealth of floral decorations. Excellent musical numbers consisted of a cornet solo by Wisner Cook, violin duet played by Miss Catherine Howarth and John Croyle; anthems by a chorus of young ladies and a vocal quartette sung by Messrs. William Lang, Henry Carr, John Croyle and Charles Robinson. Rev. McIntosh of the Baptist church gave the scripture reading; Rev. W. L. Greene of the S. D. Baptist church the invocation.

The sermon by Rev. W. C. Pero, pastor of the church, rang with patriotism and eloquence, in which he paid high tribute to the memory of the soldier dead of both the Civil and the World War, and also to Comrade Deming who alone represented the Grand Army of the Republic.

Rev. F. H. Bisbee of the Presbyterian church read an appropriate hymn as the closing service.

The Memorial Day activities began at 9 a. m. Tuesday morning, under the direction of Harold Emery Commander of Thomas M. Lynch Post, American Legion. A committee from the Legion visited the outlying cemeteries decorating the graves of the departed war veterans with floral offerings, which had been arranged by the ladies of Edward Seaman W. R. C., auxiliary to the Grand Army and placing the poppy wreaths upon the graves of the World War veterans. The graves having been reverently marked with the American flag by the Legion.

The line of march formed at 10 o'clock in front of Village Hall as follows:
Mounted Marshal of the Day, Henry Livermore.
Colors and color guard.
Firing Squad.
Legion Band.
Civil War Veterans, Comrades John Deming and Thomas Boyd.
Flower Girls.
Ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps.
Ladies of Thomas M. Lynch, American Legion Auxiliary.
Village Officials.
School children and citizens.

The line of march was carried out as published in last week's News, terminating at Hillside cemetery where the following program was conducted:

Singing of America,
Audience with Band accompaniment.

Introduction—G. W. Folwell.
Prayer—Chaplain R. E. Shaw.
Reading Roll of Honor, Edward Seaman Post, G. A. R., Spanish American War and Thomas M. Lynch Post American Legion—Harold Hardy.

Gettysburg Address—Paul Alderson.
Address by Rev. Walter L. Greene, pastor of the Seventh Day Baptist church.

Decorations of graves by flower girls during which the band played an appropriate selection.

Salute to the Dead—Fired by the American Legion firing squad under command of Commander Emery.

Taps—C. C. Backus, with echo taps by Wisner Cook.
The line of march then reformed and proceeded to Legion Park where the colors were raised from half mast by Commander Emery at 12 o'clock, as the band played the Star-Spangled Banner.

At 12:30 a luncheon was served by the ladies of Edward Seaman, W. R. C., to the members of the G. A. R., the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary and the pastors of the village churches and their wives.

Rev. Greene's Address

Mr. Greene said in part:
Two distinct and divergent views underlie the observance of Memorial Day. Many will recall occasions a generation or more ago when there was glorification of war and the war system. The veterans recounted their deeds of valor and not infrequently sham battles in the afternoon of Decoration Day re-enacted the achievements of the battle field. Long columns of veterans marched to the stirring strains of martial music and war songs with a romantic glamour to the whole war business. The passing years have seen emphasis upon a new note, and a growing conviction that war is what one commanding general of the Civil War said it was. The services of this day have struck this new note, reminding us of the dead who gave their lives for freedom, liberty and service; no exaltation of military prowess.

CELEBRATE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Updyke Renew Vows Taken 50 Years Ago at Their Home in This Village.

On Tuesday, May 30th, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Updyke renewed the vows taken 50 years ago, when Miss Cora Whitney and Charles Updyke were united in marriage by the Rev. Southerland in this village and have been residing here since that time. With the exception of three years, they have lived the entire 50 years in the same house on East Greenwood street.

Sixty guests were present when they renewed the vows taken so long ago.
Rev. W. C. Pero of the M. E. church officiated, the ceremony being performed in a rose arbor in the garden at 3 o'clock. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robinson. Roland Pease, great-grandchild carried a basket of gold and white spring flowers. Mrs. Mildred Rogers presided at the piano and played the wedding march. Charles Robinson singing "O Promise Me."

The bride was gowned in white and old gold with tulle and shadow lace trimmings and a cap of pearls and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. She wore her original cameo engagement ring and bracelets that she wore at the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Updyke are the parents of five children: Herbert Updyke of Wellsville; Mrs. Lulu Pease and Mrs. Mina Wentworth of this village; Mrs. Lena Joyce of Greenwood; and Mrs. Freda Nelson of Hornell; also seven grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Before the ceremony at 1 o'clock dinner was served the company, Miss Winifred Wentworth, Miss Genevieve Updyke and Miss Lillian Updyke, granddaughters, acting as waitresses. The tables were decorated with gold and white spring flowers. The pyramid wedding cake that centered the table had been sent from Sherburne, N. Y. The table was set with dishes and silver which was 50 and 55 years old, presented to the bride at the time of the marriage.

Congratulations were extended and a fine program rendered the day one long to be remembered by the bride and groom of 50 years.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Giles Whitney and daughter, Edith, Mrs. Lillian Morley, George Baldwin of Sherburne, N. Y.; Mrs. Ralph Button, Alfred; Mr. and Mrs. Porter Stevens, Buffalo; Mrs. Eva Blackman, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Joyce and son Harold and Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Rogers of Greenwood; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Updyke, daughter Genevieve, Miss Lillian Updyke, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Updyke, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pease and children of Wellsville; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tracy and daughter, Leona of Scio and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tracy of Whitesville.

The News extends hearty congratulations and bespeaks many more years of happy wedded life for Mr. and Mrs. Updyke.

WOMAN IS HURT SEVERELY AT PARTY

Two Are Jailed as the Result of a "Brawl" in Which Mrs. Mary Richmond is in Hospital.

Wellsville, May 30.—An Elmira man and a Wellsville woman are in Belmont jail pending the result of injuries received by Mrs. Mary Richmond, 49, of Elmira, former Wellsville resident, in what police described as a "brawl" at Wellsville early Monday morning. Raymond E. Gordon, 32-year-old typewriter salesman from Elmira, received a ten-day jail sentence on a technical charge of disorderly conduct and Francis Peterson, 22, was also sentenced to ten days for vagrancy when they were arraigned before Police Justice P. L. O'Connor. Mrs. Richmond is in the hospital suffering from a bad scalp wound.

The three were members of a party held at the living quarters of Arthur Steenrod, West Pearl street, since reform and needs of the present day, bringing to their listeners many timely thoughts and suggestions; the program being interspersed with splendid selections by the orchestra and vocal duets. "The Drunkard's Home," Miss Minnie Clair and Mrs. Will Bines and "The Love That Won," Miss Pauline Gath and John Croyle, Jr., Mrs. Charles Gath accompanied, were charmingly sung. The meeting closed with a song accompanied by the orchestra and benediction by Rev. McIntosh.

Birthday Surprise

Mrs. Denzel Baker and Mrs. David Slocum staged a birthday party in honor of Mrs. Lee Millsbaugh and Mrs. Wm. Bohne of Wellsville, Friday afternoon. An unusual entry was made by 15 friends who gathered at the home of Mrs. Baker and ascended by way of the cellar stairs surprising Mrs. Millsbaugh in house-cleaning time.

The honor guests were escorted to Mrs. Baker's dining room where a delicious dinner was served. The color scheme was yellow and rose with two birthday cakes decorated with lighted candles.

The afternoon was very enjoyable, a program of stunts, games and music made the party a merry one ending with well wishes and a hope for many more returns of the day.

early Monday morning, and when Patrolman T. J. Shine arrived after a complaint, he found Gordon and Miss Peterson in the place with Mrs. Richmond unconscious on the floor. Mrs. Richmond was taken to the hospital where she remained unconscious until late Monday afternoon. Early reports that the woman had died greatly excited the community, bringing Sheriff Edson Brigham, Sergeant H. L. DeBrine of the State Police and District Attorney Ward Hopkins of Cuba to investigate.

Mrs. Richmond is said to have told officers that she was hit on the head by Miss Peterson. Gordon also claims the Peterson girl swung a two by four timber at the older woman. He told police he stepped out of the place and was locked out. In an effort to get back he broke a window and found Mrs. Richmond lying on the floor. Miss Peterson described herself as Steenrod's housekeeper. The owner of the place established that he was sleeping in a fire house a short distance away when the events occurred. The condition of Mrs. Richmond was described as much better and it is believed that she will recover.

Go to New York By the Liberty Highway

An Excellent Route by the Liberty Highway and the New Bronx River Parkway.—Most Scenic Trip in America.

Motorists seeking a delightful route to New York City will find the one outlined in this article of special interest. It brings the traveler over the newly rebuilt Liberty Highway, Route 17 to Bloomingburg and thence via an excellent non-congested route (No. 215) into Newburg.

From Newburgh it follows the "Scenic" Storm King Highway Route U. S. 9W, southward to the Bear Mountain Bridge. The Storm King Highway Route has always been popular with motorists because of the beautiful buildings and grounds, historic shrines and its corps of cadets known everywhere for their wonderful parades; and Bear Mountain (Harriman) State Park, the vast outdoor playground, which is considered one of the finest in New York State.

After crossing the Bear Mountain Bridge, situated in the "Scenic Center of the East," and the Bear Mountain Bridge approach highway, the route follows the new Bronx River Parkway into New York City.

The value of the parkway drive can only be properly estimated when it is known that the entire parkway is reserved for the exclusive use of pleasure vehicles as trucks, busses and other slow moving conveyances are not permitted to use it. The Parkway enables one to by-pass all towns, cities and villages. Cross streets in almost every instance are eliminated by means of beautiful bridges. The Parkway is more than 45 miles long and was built at a cost of $50,000,000. It is the finest motor route in the world.

Motor eastward from Andover on Route 17, the Liberty Highway thru Painted Post into Corning, situated in the Chemung Valley. Corning is sometimes called the "Crystal City," because of its vast industries devoted to the manufacture of glass.

Journey next to Elmira, where Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) lived at one time. From Elmira continue thru Owego into Binghamton, a famous shoe manufacturing center. Appreciating that many tourists (Please Turn to Page Four)

GOV. LEHMAN WILL ATTEND DEDICATION

Prominent Educators From All Parts of U. S. A. Will Participate in Service.—Degree for Governor.

With plans completed for the appearance of Governor Lehman and seven men prominent in education and the field of ceramics, it is expected that a radio hook-up with WGR Buffalo will be made to broadcast the program, including the investing of Governor Lehman with an honorary degree from Alfred University on June 12, at 10 o'clock at the dedication of the building recently built for the New York State College of Ceramics at Alfred University.

Dr. J. C. Hostetter will speak for the American Society of Ceramics of which he is president. Dr. Hostetter, graduate of Bucknell and Chicago Universities, has been prominent in the ceramic field, having served in various research capacities in the Bureau of Standards, and the Geophysical Laboratory of the Carnegie Institute, Washington.

Dr. G. A. Bole, research professor of ceramics at Ohio State University, will represent the Fellows of the American Ceramic Society. Dr. Bole, who is a graduate of Geneva College, Beaver Falls, and of Columbia University, has held responsible positions at a teacher of chemistry and as an industrial chemist, the latter as superintendent and finally supervisor of the United States Bureau of Ceramics, Columbus, Ohio. He served as professor of chemistry at Alfred University for nine years.

Dr. C. W. Parmelee, head of the department of ceramics at Illinois University, will speak in behalf of that university. Dr. Parmelee, graduate of Rutgers where he served for a time as professor of chemistry and organized the department of ceramics, is included in the membership of a number of honorary fraternities.

including Phi Beta Kappa, American Society of Ceramics, and Ceramic Society (England).
A. K. Getman, chief of the agricultural Education Bureau of the State Department of Education, will represent New York State Department of Education in the dedication. Mr. Getman is a graduate of Cornell University, and has attended the schools of education in Harvard and Columbia. He has been prominent in education work, having served as professor of education at Rutgers and with New York State Council of Churches and State Council of Religious Education.
Hon. J. J. Merrill, member of New York State Tax Commission, will speak for the ceramic industries of New York. Mr. Merrill has been prominent in matters of state finance, and is now serving as a member of the Board of Trustees of Alfred University, and of the Board of Directors of New York State College of Ceramics at Alfred University.
Dr. A. V. Bleining, chief ceramist for Homer Laughlin China Company, will deliver the principal dedicatory address discussing "The Basic Structure of the Ceramic Industry." Mr. Bleining, graduate of Ohio State University and later professor and director of the department of ceramics at Illinois University, has held responsible positions in the United States Geodetic Survey and in the Bureau of Standards. In addition he has written numerous scientific articles for magazines.

Closing Membership List of Athletic Association

The membership committee of the Andover Athletic Association, composed of Guy Harder, James Wentworth, W. J. Alderson and Patrick Perrone are working to complete their membership list in the association this week.

In next week's News look for a prospective view of the new athletic field and a list of the members of the association, who have made possible this wonderful improvement for Andover.

There are more Italians than Irishmen in New York City.
