

LIBERTY HIGHWAY TO NEW YORK

would be interested in watching the different operations of shoe making, the owners of large factories have posted signs inviting tourists to their various establishments.

Leave Binghamton on Route 17 and follow this route thru what is perhaps the most picturesque and frequented summer resort region of its kind in the United States. Pass thru Deposit, Roscoe, Liberty, Monticello and Wurtsboro into Bloomingburg. Practically this entire route was rebuilt during the past three years, so that it is now in better condition than it has ever been before in its history. Even Wurtsboro Hill has been eliminated. Those using it for the first time will be amazed at the many improvements which have been made.

Leave Route 17 at Bloomingburg and follow Route 215 instead into Newburgh. This historic old city was the scene of many activities on the part of Continental troops during the war for independence. George Washington spent a great deal of time here and occupied as his headquarters the Hasbrouck House, which has now been converted into a museum and houses many relics of the colonial period.

Proceed southward from Newburgh on Route U. S. 9W, thru Cornwall and then over the world famous Scenic Storm King Highway, past the gates of West Point, home of the United States Military Academy. Travelers may visit the grounds upon obtaining a permit from the guard on duty at the entrance gate. This permit is issued without cost and is gladly given. A visit to West Point is recommended.

After visiting West Point and returning to the gate at which they entered, tourists continue southward on Route U. S. 9W, thru Highland Falls and Fort Montgomery, site of a famous Revolutionary War fort, to the traffic circle located in a part of Bear Mountain Park, a vast all year round playground that is enjoyed by young and old alike. Bear right around this circle and turn right into the road leading to the Bear Mountain Bridge.

Cross the Hudson via the great Bear Mountain Bridge. Those beholding the beautiful Highlands of the Hudson from this structure for the first time are amazed at its magnificence. The completion of the bridge, more than eight years ago, not only opened up a delightful region for the autoist to enjoy, but also created a short cut route to New York and New England which avoids congested traffic areas and saves miles and minutes. It is normally open to traffic 24 hours of each day of the year.

Almost at once after crossing the bridge, one encounters and commences to travel over the Bear Mountain Bridge Approach Highway, which follows a lofty course high above the blue waters of the majestic Hudson. It is noted for its beautiful scenic views. Parking spaces have been arranged at interesting places for the travelers' enjoyment.

Bronx River Parkway Leads to New York City

Continue from the Bridge Highway over the hard surfaced road that leads across the trestle bridge and over the concrete highway on the other side drive to the entrance of the newly completed Bronx River Parkway Extension. Follow this beautiful parkway drive to New York City. Never before has such a wonderful highway been surrounded by so much beautiful scenery. Every effort was made by the parkway engineers in building this highway to preserve as much of the natural scenic beauty of the adjacent surroundings as was practical and to this they have added landscape architecture conceived by the most brilliant minds of this country. It is easy to realize why so many noted engineers have traveled from all over the world to study this achievement.

Follow the Bronx River Parkway to Fordham Road, where a right turn is made and Fordham Road followed to the Grand Concourse, then go south on the Grand Concourse and Mott Avenue to 149th Street. Use this street to cross the Harlem River. Now on 145th Street go to Lenox Avenue and south on Lenox Avenue to 110th Street. Turn left into 110th Street and follow it to Fifth Avenue. Turn right into Fifth Avenue and continue southward thru New York City.

A highway map showing this entire route may be had without cost by writing to the Bear Mountain Hudson River Bridge Company at 39 Broadway, New York City or from the editor of the Andover News.

SIGNS BILL TO PROTECT INVESTORSNew Law Calls for Federal Supervision of All Securities Issued. Seller Has Liability.

Washington, May 27.—President Roosevelt today signed the bill extending strict Federal supervision over the issuance of new securities.

The legislation which was recommended by the president to Congress for the first time gives the government control of stock sales.

Its provisions include: Full publicity concerning securities offered for sale to the public to protect purchasers from such huge losses in the future as they have suffered in the past.

It requires that both domestic and foreign issues be registered with the Federal trade commission for 20 days before they are advertised or sold.

It places the seller as well as the buyer on guard, and imposes heavy penalties for willful misrepresentation and fraud.

Detailed data are required as to the financial condition of the company, past issues and other facts concerning the soundness of the security.

A provision added by the Senate would set up by presidential proclamation a corporation of foreign security holders to help American investors in defaulted foreign bonds, recover as much as possible of their money.

The Federal trade commission, administrator of the law, could issue a stock order against any security if it found fraud or misrepresentation was involved and signers could be relieved of civil liability only if they could show reasonable care was exercised in preparation of prospectus and that they had no knowledge of any false or erroneous material in them.

Health Camp Will Open July 10th

The date for the opening of the children's health camp at Cuba Lake has just been announced by Mrs. F. W. LeClere, camp director. The opening will be on the first Monday after the Fourth of July, July 10th. It is expected that the season will be for the usual six weeks.

Eighty children will be received in two groups of 40 each. The first group will come to camp on July 10th and the second group will take the places of the first group three weeks later.

So popular has the camp become that the number applying for admission each year greatly exceeds the capacity of the camp. On that account the directors inquire carefully into the needs of each child applying and endeavor to select those who are most in need of the benefits given by the camp regimen. A physician's examination and recommendation is required in each case and the financial condition of the parents of the child must be such that they could not afford to send the child to some pay institution.

The camp is operated for the benefit of children between the ages of five and 12 years, who are suffering from mal-nutrition or under-nutrition, who come from homes where they are exposed to tuberculosis and so are in danger of being infected with that disease, or who are convalescing from some exhaustive malady and so require a period of building up. Sick children are not admitted.

Applications for the camp are already being received and the list will soon be filled, so those desiring to go to camp should not delay. Many of those applying will have to be rejected on account of limited accommodations, so none should count on going until they receive notification that they are accepted.

Applications should be directed to Mrs. F. W. LeClere, Belmont, N. Y.

Farm Bureau to Help Sell Cows

Dairymen of Allegany county are being asked to list with the local Farm Bureau any dairy cows and heifers which they now have for sale. The bureau is undertaking this new cattle marketing service so that the dairymen of the county may have another source of cash income along with their fluid milk.

Every few days, inquiries come to the Farm Bureau from dairymen and cattle dealers in other sections of the state, asking if certain classes and breeds of cows can be purchased here. It has been difficult to answer these requests with definite information as to where these cows may be bought. Allegany county has many surplus cows but to know what dairymen is in the market to sell has been a real problem. If the dairymen of this county will list with the Farm Bureau their cows which are for sale, these requests can be answered with concrete information which will draw the buyers to this locality.

Only creditable cows will be listed. Cows with defective udders and cows which fail to breed should not be listed. The Farm Bureau points out. Only cows which the seller would not hesitate to buy for his own herd are wanted.

The Farm Bureau believes that if it undertakes this cow marketing service, the reputation of Allegany county must be maintained and gradually developed. This can only be accomplished by satisfying the buyer by giving him a square deal. If he is pleased with his purchase, he will be back again and bring his friends and neighbors with him. Eventually this cow sales business can be made a profitable side line for the county dairymen. Those who have cows for sale are urged to list them with the Farm Bureau at Belmont, N. Y.

The American table, which is really a thrust, got its name because it resembled British colonists of robins at home.
