Cynical Youngster

"Yes, my boy, the whole creation was made in seven days."
"Well, it looks it."

Witchcraft

Rather a long call from witches to rope, but if you will recall events of history our Puritan first families abolished what they believed to be sorcery by the aid of a piece of rope.

That rope, also in probability, was made by The Plymouth Cordage Co., for even in those far away days this company was the leading rope makers for the new country.

The forty-niners who joined the Gold Rush to California either by the covered wagon route or around the Horn found good rope almost as important in the matter of equipment as pick, shovel or sluice pan—again Plymouth furnished the most of the cordage.

Ambrose Bierce in one of his yarns of gold diggings, tells of a young gambler, who by being quick of wit and fleet of foot escaped the Vigilantes; years afterward, drawn by a morbid curiosity to that now abandoned mining camp finds the same tree with the identical piece of rope swaying from its strong limb, again Plymouth had proven its quality.

Hay Rope season is just ahead. As usual we offer you Plymouth's Ships Brand selected long fibre pure Manila Rope, the kind that is always ready to run. No twisting, no kinks—but a quality product that will give long and always perfect service. You will be agreeably surprised at the low cost of Plymouth Hay Ropes this season. Ask us.

Oil Up

Boys, an oil for every home need. Life is easier when there are no squeaks or friction in the tools and equipment of every day use.

Door hinges, locks, sewing machines, vacuum cleaners and drawers that stick need an occasional drop of oil that will lubricate and stay fluid without that sticky gummy condition that many oils produce.

Boys oil is stainless, flows at any temperature, never soils or gums but gives perfect and long time lubrication.

A liberal size can with squirt spout sells for a quarter, once tried always used—ask for it by name—BOYE.

WHAT A GIRL IN HER TEENS SHOULD DO FOR GOOD HEALTH

By AMELIA H. GRANT, M.A., R.N.
Director, Bureau of Nursing
New York City Department of Health

PERSONAL HYGIENE ESSENTIAL

EVERY modern girl and young woman recognizes the importance of bodily cleanliness, for the body must be kept clean if we are to be healthy.

A daily bath tones up the system, opens the pores and permits the body to cast off poisons. A daily dip or shower removes the perspiration and eliminates body odors.

The girl entering her teens should be told by her mother or her doctor of the transformations that occur within her body as she begins this important era in her life. To keep her in ignorance of these changes not only is false modesty, but is highly dangerous both to mental and physical well-being.

Daily evacuation of the bowels is essential to health. Proper food, especially the eating of leafy vegetables and fruits, and the drinking of fruit juices and milk, will bring this about naturally and without recourse to harmful cathartics. Your doctor will advise you on this point.
