The regular monthly meeting of the Allegany County Farmers' Club was held in Prest Opera House, Andover, August 1st. The attendance was excellent. Urish Davis, vice president of the club, had the meeting in charge and is to be highly complimented upon the arrangements.

Last Wednesday, while Mrs. Patrick Donnelly and daughter were returning to their home in Trousbury after visiting at the home of Fredman S. Rogers, their horse became unmanageable and ran. The occupants of the buggy were thrown out and Mrs. Donnelly received a bad head wound. C. A. Diffin of Andover reached the scene soon after the accident and took them to Greenwood where Mrs. Donnelly received medical treatment.

Athenian Citizen Seen

as Man of Many Parts

Pericles' age shows that the outstanding Athenians were men of parts. Sophocles, for example, is now known as a poet only, but in 442 Pericles named him chief treasurer of the city. Besides, he was a big business man, politician, warrior, gentleman—quite the man about town.

But the average Athenian of the time likewise occupied varied roles. He was cultured, but as Pericles once stated, he was almost as good a soldier as the war-loving Spartan when conflict was at hand. He was a better sailor, in fact, thereby making his city supreme on the sea as was Sparta on land.

Greece, particularly Athens, is synonymous with such terms as mythology, early culture, and others, yet the study of the intimate details of Greek life is a field that has been barely scratched. Professor Merritt, historic authority, says.

Splendid Work in Africa

The medical missionaries of West Africa have brought about a decided improvement in the condition of the natives, particularly as concerns sleeping sickness and leprosy. Government officials have made tests and reported that the percentage of the entire population having sleeping sickness virus circulating in their blood has been reduced to 2.6 per cent, and that the percentage of new cases in the entire population has been reduced to 1.35 per cent. The conclusion is that while the disease is not yet completely stamped out, it is no longer epidemic. The vigorous measures of government and missionaries have saved villages and tribes from practical extermination.

The Ideal Job

The hours are from too early in the morning for a girl to be expected to wash the breakfast dishes until too late for her to help her mother get the dinner.

The salary is too low for her to feel she ought to contribute at home and high enough to permit her to wear as few clothes as any girl in the office.

The work is hard enough to make her mother insist on the utmost respectation and easy enough to allow her strength for the Black Bottom.

The boss is handsome and single. The office is close to the station, with three good drug stores in the same block.—McCready-Huston.

Jumbo Not Largest Elephant

Jumbo, the famous elephant of the Barnum & Bailey circus, was 10 feet 10 inches tall and weighed approximately 16 tons. Jumbo was one of the largest elephants ever in captivity, but there are records of larger elephants which were not taken alive, but killed. One elephant shot in East Africa measured 15 feet 8 inches at the shoulder, had a total length from trunk to end of tail of 15 feet 5 inches and a girth of foreleg of 5 feet 5 1/2 inches.

Relieve prickly heat on the baby by adding two tablespoons of Vaseline to each gallon of his bath-water. Use no soap while the prickly heat lasts.
